Canada First, Not Canada Alone Adam

Chapnick, Professor of Defence Studies Adam Chapnick, Asa McKercher, Assistant Professor of History Asa McKercher, 2024 The definitive history of Canadian foreign policy since the 1930s Canada First Not Canada Alone examines how successive prime ministers have promoted Canada's national interests in a world that has grown increasingly complex and interconnected Case studies focused on environmental reform Indigenous peoples trade hostage diplomacy and wartime strategy illustrate the breadth of issues that shape Canada's global realm Drawing from extensive primary and secondary research Adam Chapnick and Asa McKercher offer a fresh take on how Canada positions itself in the world Pearson and Canada's Role in Nuclear Disarmament and Arms Control Negotiations, 1945-1957 Joseph Levitt, 1993 Lester Pearson was Minister for External Affairs between 1948 and 1957 During this time Canada was a member of two successive United Nations commissions on eliminating or controlling nuclear arms with the United States and the Soviet Union as the main negotiators The goal of these discussions was to reach an agreement on general principles that reflected the strategic needs of each side rather than on the technical details necessary for a treaty While the United States and the Soviet Union played the largest role in the negotiations two other major powers Britain and France allies of the Americans were also at the bargaining table Canada was the only middle power to participate in all negotiations Rise to Greatness, Volume 2: Dominion (1867-1949) Conrad Black, 2017-04-04 Sweeping ambitious and revelatory this is the second volume in a major history of our country by one of our most respected thinkers and historians a book every Canadian should own From the acclaimed biographer and historian Conrad Black comes the definitive history of Canada a masterful groundbreaking account of the people and events that shaped a nation The second of three volumes spanning from the year 1867 1949 this compelling history challenges our perception of our history and Canada's role in the world taking on sweeping themes and vividly recounting the story of Canada's development from colony to dominion to country Black persuasively reveals that while many would argue that Canada was perhaps never predestined for greatness the opposite is in fact true the emergence of a magnificent country against all odds was a remarkable achievement Brilliantly conceived this major new reexamination of our country's history is a riveting tour de force by one of the best writers writing today Worth Fighting For Lara Campbell, Michael Dawson, Catherine Gidney, 2015-04-02 Historians veterans museums and public education campaigns have all documented and commemorated the experience of Canadians in times of war But Canada also has a long rich and important historical tradition of resistance to both war and militarization This collection brings together the work of sixteen scholars on the history of war resistance Together they explore resistance to specific wars including the South African War the First and Second World Wars and Vietnam the ideology and nature of resistance national ethical political spiritual and organized activism against militarization such as cadet training the Cold War and nuclear arms As the federal government continues to support the commemoration and celebration of Canada's participation in past wars this collection offers a timely response that explores the complexity of Canada's position in times of war and the role of social movements in challenging the militarization of Canadian society      Building a Special Relationship Asa McKercher, Michael D. Stevenson, 2024-06-15

Building a Special Relationship offers thoughtful insight into Canadian and American foreign relations during the 1950s when Canada and the United States found new diplomatic footing as allies in the shadow of the Cold War This book shows how the Eisenhower years were crucial in forming the bilateral relationship that currently exists between Canada and the United States Under President Eisenhower and Prime Ministers St Laurent and Diefenbaker policy makers on both sides of the border collaborated with an air of tolerant accommodation on significant issues of the day Despite frequent differences they established frameworks for defence foreign policy economic growth and resource management many of which endure today For scholars and readers of political history international relations and diplomacy Building a Special Relationship makes a compelling case that the Eisenhower era is key to understanding the ongoing bond between these two nations      Canada's Department of External Affairs: Coming of age, 1946-1968 John Hilliker, Donald Barry, 1990 The second volume of the official history of the Department of External Affairs Coming of Age covers a period of remarkable expansion and achievement in Canadian external relations      Canada's Department of External Affairs, Volume 2 John Hilliker, Donald Barry, 1995-04-04 In 1946 with its own minister for the first time the Department of External Affairs embarked on a period of impressive growth and assumed responsibility for a broader range of foreign policy issues than ever before Under the expert guidance of Lester Pearson for a decade the department enjoyed popular and parliamentary consensus about international interests The election of the Diefenbaker government in 1957 deprived the department of Pearson's experienced ministerial direction and exposed it to new priorities and new ways of doing things At this time foreign policy consensus began to erode As well there was pressure to respond to the administrative revolution inaugurated by the Royal Commission on Government Organization the Glassco Commission appointed in 1960 After Pearson returned to office as prime minister in 1963 questioning by the public and also by the governing party and the cabinet became more fervent Coming of Age concludes in 1968 as indications of a challenge to the principles underlying Canadian foreign policy emerged from a new generation of ministers a challenge that would produce major changes after Pierre Trudeau became prime minister      Deterring Armageddon: A Biography of NATO Peter Apps, 2024-02-01 EXCELLENT THE TLS HUGELY IMPRESSIVE THE INDEPENDENT AN ASTONISHINGLY FINE HISTORY COUNTRY LIFE FASCINATING DAILY MAIL The history of the world's most successful military alliance from the wrecked Europe of 1945 to Vladimir Putin's invasion of Ukraine As they signed NATO into being after World War II its founders fervently believed that only if the West's democracies banded permanently together could they avoid a catastrophic global atomic conflict Over the 75 years since the alliance has indeed avoided war with Russia also becoming a major political strategic and diplomatic player well beyond its borders It has survived disagreements between leaders from Eisenhower Churchill and de Gaulle to Trump Stoltenberg and Merkel faced down Kremlin foes from Stalin to Putin and endured unending questions and debate over what new nations might be allowed to join Deterring Armageddon takes the reader from backroom deals that led to NATO's creation through the Cold War the Balkans and Afghanistan to the current confrontation with the Kremlin following the invasion of Ukraine. It examines the tightrope walked by alliance leaders between a powerful United States sometimes flirting with isolationism and European nations with their ever evolving wishes for autonomy and influence. Having spent much of its life preparing for conflicts that might never come, NATO has sometimes found itself in wars that few had predicted and with its members now again planning for a potential major European conflict. It is a tale of tension, danger, rivalry, conflict, big personalities and high stakes military and diplomatic posturing as well as espionage, politics and protest. From the Korean War to the pandemic, the Berlin and Cuba crises to the chaotic evacuation from Kabul, Deterring Armageddon tells how the alliance has shaped and been shaped by history and looks ahead to what might be the most dangerous era it has ever faced. Utterly eye opening, compelling, haunting and continually illuminating. As Peter Apps so brilliantly demonstrates in this gripping book, the story of the NATO alliance is in many ways a parallel global history of the last 75 years. As well as all the outbreaks of seething tension between the US and its European allies and the counter moves of rival powers, this is also an account of just how often in those postwar years that we all stood on the edge of the most terrible abyss. With mesmerising fluency and dazzling research, Apps follows the criss crossing threads of the Cold War and beyond. Those threads converge in our shadowed present and the conflict in Ukraine. In order to fathom today's dark world, Apps has explored a labyrinth of once classified history and he brings dazzling clarity.

Sinclair McKay      Canada and the World since 1867 Asa McKercher, 2019-09-19 This book is a history of Canada's role in the world as well as the impact of world events on Canada. Starting from the country's quasi independence from Britain in 1867, its analysis moves through events in Canadian and global history to the present day. Looking at Canada's international relations from the perspective of elite actors and normal people alike, this study draws on original research and the latest work on Canadian international and transnational history to examine Canadians' involvement with a diverse mix of issues from trade and aid to war and peace to human rights and migration. The book traces four inter connected themes: independence and growing estrangement from Britain; the longstanding and ongoing tensions created by ever closer relations with the United States; the huge movement of people from around the world into Canada; and the often overlooked but significant range of Canadian contacts with the non Western world. With an emphasis on the reciprocal nature of Canada's involvement in world affairs, ultimately it is the first work to blend international and transnational approaches to the history of Canadian international relations.
