The Many Faces Of Cuilapan:

The Many Faces of Cuilapan Eleanor Friend Sleight, 1988 Mexico and the Caribbean Under Castro's Eyes Colin Clarke, 2018-07-16 This book provides a first hand account of the author's encounters as a social geographer based on his field research and travels in Mexico and the Caribbean. The interlocutors of different classes and races introduce the reader to a variety of urban and rural communities many of them involved in development projects. Two leitmotifs of the 1960s and 1970s recur throughout the volume: decolonization, state formation and the quest for democracy in the post colonial societies of Mexico and the Caribbean and the conditions which were likely to constrain or challenge these developments quintessentially associated with the 1959 Cuban revolution, the cold war and student radicalism. Theaters of Conversion Samuel Y. Edgerton, 2001 Mexico's churches and conventos display a unique blend of European and native styles. Missionary Mendicant friars arrived in New Spain shortly after Cortes's conquest of the Aztec empire in 1521 and immediately related their own European architectural and visual arts styles to the tastes and expectations of native Indians. Right from the beginning the friars conceived of conventos as a special architectural theater in which to carry out their proselytizing. Over four hundred conventos were established in Mexico between 1526 and 1600 and more still in New Mexico in the century following. All built and decorated by native Indian artisans who became masters of European techniques and styles even as they added their own influence. The author argues that these magnificent sixteenth and seventeenth century structures are as much part of the artistic patrimony of American Indians as their pre-Conquest temples, pyramids and kivas. Mexican Indians in fact adapted European motifs to their own pictorial traditions and thus made a unique contribution to the worldwide spread of the Italian Renaissance. The author brings a wealth of knowledge of medieval and Renaissance European history, philosophy, theology, art and architecture to bear on colonial Mexico at the same time as he focuses on indigenous contributions to the colonial enterprise. This ground breaking study enriches our understanding of the colonial process and the reciprocal relationship between European friars and native artisans. Making Worlds Angela Vanhaelen, Bronwen Wilson, 2022-11-01 Taking into account the destructive powers of globalization, Making Worlds considers the interconnectedness of the world in the early modern period. This collection examines the interdisciplinary phenomenon of making worlds with essays from scholars of history, literary studies, theatre and performance, art history and anthropology. The volume advances questions about the history of globalization by focusing on how the expansion of global transit offered possibilities for interactions that included the testing of local identities through inventive experimentation with new and various forms of culture. Case studies show how the imposition of European economic, religious, political and military models on other parts of the world unleashed unprecedented forces of invention as institutionalized powers came up against the creativity of peoples' cultural practices, materials and techniques of making. In doing so, Making Worlds offers an important rethinking of how early globalization inconsistently generated ongoing dynamics of making, unmaking and remaking worlds.
