Landmark Essays on ESL Writing Tony Silva, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2013-10-31 In recent years the number of nonnative speakers of English in colleges and universities in North America has increased dramatically As a result more and more writing teachers have found themselves working with these English as a Second Language ESL students in writing classes that are designed primarily with monolingual native English speaking students in mind Since the majority of institutions require these students to enroll in writing courses at all levels it is becoming increasingly important for all writing teachers to be aware of the presence and special linguistic and cultural needs of ESL writers This increase in the ESL population has over the last 40 years been paralleled by a similar growth in research on ESL writing and writing instruction research that writing teachers need to be familiar with in order to work effectively with ESL writers in writing classrooms of all levels and types Until recently however this body of knowledge has not been very accessible to writing teachers and researchers who do not specialize in second language research and instruction This volume is an attempt to remedy this problem by providing a sense of how ESL writing scholarship has evolved over the last four decades It brings together 15 articles that address various issues in second language writing in general and ESL writing in particular In selecting articles for inclusion the editors tried to take a principled approach The articles included in this volume have been chosen from a large database of publications in second language writing The editors looked for works that mirrored the state of the art when they were published and made a conscious effort to represent a wide variety of perspectives contributions and issues in the field To provide a sense of the evolution of the field this collection is arranged in chronological order

SAGE Directions in Educational Psychology Neil J Salkind, 2010-10-31 Educational psychology is a broad field characterized by the study of individuals in educational settings and how they develop and learn It incorporates information from such sub disciplines such as developmental psychology human development across the life span curriculum and instruction motivation and measurement and assessment Neil Salkind has mined the rich and extensive backlist of SAGE education and psychology journals to pull together a collection of almost 100 articles to be the definitive research resource on education psychology Section One Human Growth and Development focuses on the processes involved in human growth and development including ages and stages of development different theoretical perspectives and the role and effectiveness of early intervention among other topics Section Two Cognition Learning and Instruction concentrates on the mechanisms through which individuals learn and retain information Section Three Motivation explores why individuals seek out goals and what the mechanisms are that characterize this search as it relates to learning Section Four Measurement Assessment and Statistics looks at the topics that are critical to understanding individual differences the growth in the use of computers as assessment tools qualitative and quantitative methods statistical techniques and evaluation

Resources in Education, 1997 Perspectives on Rhetorical Invention Janet Atwill, Janice M. Lauer, 2002 Rhetorical invention the discursive art of inquiry and discovery has great significance in the history of spoken and written communication dating back to the ancient Greeks and Romans Yet invention has received relatively little attention in recent discussions of rhetoric writing and communication This collection of essays is the first book in years to focus on current research in rhetorical invention The contributors include many well established scholars as well as new voices in the field They reflect a variety of approaches and perspectives theory history culture politics institutions pedagogy and community service Several of the essays address the relationship between invention and postmodernism some by refiguring invention others by challenging postmodernism Still other essays explore multicultural conceptions of invention the civic function of invention and rhetoric and the role of rhetorical invention in institutions and in community problem solving Taken together these essays provide a much needed forum for ongoing study of rhetorical invention within the framework of recent developments in both scholarship and the culture at large If inventional research is to continue and flourish notes Janice Lauer in her foreword it must remain sensitive to shifts in epistemology ethics and politics The essays in this volume undertake this effort The Editors Janet M Atwill is associate professor of English at the University of Tennessee The author of Rhetoric Reclaimed Aristotle and the Liberal Arts Tradition and coauthor of Four Worlds of Writing Inquiry and Action in Context and Writing A College Handbook she has published articles in Rhetoric Review Encyclopedia of Rhetoric and the Journal of Advanced Composition Janice M Lauer is Reece McGee Distinguished Professor of English at Purdue University where she founded directed and teaches in the graduate program in Rhetoric and Composition She is coauthor of Four Worlds of Writing and Composition Research Empirical Designs and has published numerous articles on rhetoric and composition Contributors Frederick J Antczak Janet M Atwill Julia Deems Richard Leo Enos Theresa Enos Linda Flower Debra Hawhee Janice M Lauer Donald Lazere Yameng Liu Arabella Lyon Louise Wetherbee Phelps Jay Satterfield Haixia Wang Mark T Williams
