Rethinking the Scientific Revolution Margaret J. Osler, 2000-03-13 This book challenges the traditional historiography of the Scientific Revolution probably the single most important unifying concept in the history of science Usually referring to the period from Copernicus to Newton roughly 1500 to 1700 the Scientific Revolution is considered to be the central episode in the history of science the historical moment at which that unique way of looking at the world that we call modern science and its attendant institutions emerged It has been taken as the terminus a quo of all that followed Starting with a dialogue between Betty Jo Teeter Dobbs and Richard S Westfall whose understanding of the Scientific Revolution differed in important ways the papers in this volume reconsider canonical figures their areas of study and the formation of disciplinary boundaries during this seminal period of European intellectual history New York Journal of Romance, General Literature, Science and Art ,1855 Extrasolar Planets Patrick Cassen,Tristan Guillot,A. Quirrenbach,2007-05-17 Research on extrasolar planets is one of the most exciting fields of activity in astrophysics In a decade only a huge step forward has been made from the early speculations on the existence of planets orbiting other stars to the first discoveries and to the characterization of extrasolar planets This breakthrough is the result of a growing interest of a large community of researchers as well as the development of a wide range of new observational techniques and facilities Based on their lectures given at the 31st Saas Fee Advanced Course Andreas Quirrenbach Tristan Guillot and Pat Cassen have written up up to date comprehensive lecture notes on the Detection and Characterization of Extrasolar Planets Physics of Substellar Objects Interiors Atmospheres Evolution and Protostellar Disks and Planet Formation This book will serve graduate students lecturers and scientists entering the field of extrasolar planets as detailed and comprehensive introduction The Inner Planets Nicholas Faulkner,2018-12-15 The inner planets Mercury Venus Earth and Mars are important for study because they are so similar All are terrestrial meaning they have a solid surface Mercury being closest to the Sun experiences the most intense solar radiation Venus is an example of an extreme greenhouse environment with temperatures nearing 1 000 degrees Fahrenheit Mars offers us great hope for finding an environment that could have harbored extraterrestrial life This book follows the Next Generation Science Standards focusing on the Earth and the solar system and shows readers that we can learn a lot about our own planet from our celestial neighbors
