John Watkins

The Making Of A Subversive A Memoir:

The Making of a Subversive Hernando J. Abaya, 1984 Hernando J Abaya in his latest book traces the tortuous path of Philippine politics from World War II down to the Marcos years He demonstrates how the Commander in Chief of the US Armed Forces in the Far East the late General MacArthur in effect reversed the Roosevelt Ickes policy toward the collaborationist elite in the Philippines and placed them back in power enabling the reactionary forces to regain control of the Philippine government and ultimately eliminate those who had in fact resisted the Japanese invaders and how in the post war years the liberal and nationalist minded were hounded and tarred with the communist paintbrush with the help of American advisers and secret service agents Foreword The Drama of Dictatorship Joseph Scalice, 2023-07-15 The Drama of Dictatorship uncovers the role played by rival Communist parties in the conflict that culminated in Ferdinand Marcos's declaration of martial law in 1972 Using the voluminous radical literature of the period Joseph Scalice reveals how two parties the PKP and the CPP torn apart by the Sino Soviet dispute subordinated the explosive mass struggles of the time behind rival elite conspirators The PKP backed Marcos and the CPP his bourgeois opponents The absence of an independent mass movement in defense of democracy made dictatorship possible The Drama of Dictatorship argues that the martial law regime was not fundamentally the outcome of Marcos's personal quest to remain in power but rather a consensus of the country's ruling elite confronted with mounting social unrest that authoritarian forms of rule were necessary to preserve their property and privileges The bourgeois opponents of Marcos did not defend democracy but like Marcos plotted against it

Stamant, 2014-06-23 Serial Memoir chronicles the phenomenon of seriality in memoir a transition in life writing toward repeated acts of self representation in the later twentieth century Such a shift demonstrates a new way to understand and represent constantly shifting subjectivities and their ambivalent relationship to the concept and structure of the archive

Iranian Women in the Memoir Emira Derbel, 2017-05-11 This book investigates the various reasons behind the elevation of the memoir previously categorized as a marginalized form of life writing that denudes the private space of women especially in Western Asian countries such as Iran Through a comparative investigation of Azar Nafisi s Reading Lolita in Tehran and Marjane Satrapi s Persepolis 1 and 2 the book examines the way both narrative and graphic memoirs offer possibilities for Iranian women to reclaim new territory transgress a post traumatic revolution and reconstruct a new model of womanhood that evades socio political and religious restrictions Exile is conceptualized as empowering rather than a continued status of loss and disillusionment and the liminality of both women writers turns into a space of artistic production The book also resists the New Orientalist scope within which Reading Lolita in Tehran more than Persepolis has been misread In order to reject these allegations this work sheds light on the representation of Iranian women in Reading Lolita in Tehran not as weak victims held captive by a totalitarian version of Islam but as active participants rewriting their stories through the liberating power of the memoir The comparative approach between narrative and comic memoirs is a fruitful way of displaying similar experiences of disillusionment loss return and exile through different techniques The common thread uniting both memoirs is their zeal to reclaim Iranian women s agency and strength over subservience and passivity

The Work of Life Writing G. Thomas Couser, 2021-04-13 Life writing in its various forms does work that other forms of expression do not it bears on the world in a way distinct from imaginative genres like fiction
