traditions in the study of communication and thus inform readers about the range of ways communication is understood around the world. Some of the communication practices explored include complaining, hate speech, irreverence, respect, and uses of the mobile phone. The focus of the handbook, however, is dual in that it brings into view both communication as an academic discipline and its use to unveil culturally situated practices. By attending to communication in these ways as a discipline and a specific practice, the handbook is focused on and will be an authoritative resource for understanding communication in cross-cultural perspective. Designed at the nexus of various intellectual traditions such as the ethnography of communication, linguistic ethnography, and cultural approaches to discourse, the handbook employs then a general approach which, when used, understands communication in its particular cultural scenes and communities.

Revisiting Star Studies Sabrina Qiong Yu, 2017-04-13

Challenges traditional Hollywood-derived models of star studies. Is classical Hollywood stardom the last word on film stars? How do film stars function in non-Hollywood contexts such as Bollywood, East Asia, and Latin America, and what new developments has screen stardom undergone in recent years, both in Hollywood and elsewhere? Gathering together the most important new research on star studies with case studies of stars from many different cultures, this diverse and dynamic collection looks at film stardom from new angles, challenging the received wisdom on the subject and raising important questions about image, performance, bodies, voices, and fans in cultures across the globe. From Hollywood to Bollywood, from China to Italy and from Poland to Mexico, this collection revisits the definitions and origins of star studies and points the way forward to new ways of approaching the field.

Key features:

- Features cutting-edge research on stardom and fandom from a range of different cultures, contributed by a diverse and international range of scholars.
- Generates new critical models that address non-Hollywood forms of stardom as well as under-researched areas of stardom in Hollywood itself.
- Revisits the definitions of stars and star studies that are previously defined by the study of Hollywood stardom, then points the way forward to new ways of approaching the field.
- Looks at stars' stardom within a new local/translocal model to overcome the Hollywood centrism inherent to the existing national/transnational model.
- Brings into light various types of previously unacknowledged star texts.
- Employs a dynamic interdisciplinary approach.
