A Dated Type-series of London Medieval Pottery J. E. Pearce, A. G. Vince, 1985      Pottery in Archaeology Clive Orton, Paul Tyers, Alan Vince, 1993-05-13 A state of the art guide to pottery analysis providing information on recent scientific developments and the latest statistical techniques      Capital Histories Patricia L. Garside, 2019-01-15 First published in 1998 this book reprints eight articles from The London Journal covering the history of London from the middle ages to the twentieth century Each is an extensive bibliographical essay updated by the individual contributors for this anthology The book comes with a new introduction from a previous editor of the journal Patricia Garside and also with a specially commissioned guide to sources for London history and the libraries and special collections that house them The London Journal was founded in 1975 to provide a forum for the study of London history an eclectic and multi disciplinary field As well as articles based on original research The London Journal has carried notes and comments viewpoint and review articles and general surveys of particular aspects of London life In the past few decades the specialist literature on London has become extensive intricate and dense The opportunity for a systematic review of this literature presented itself on the twentieth anniversary of the founding of The London Journal and the core of the work presented here first appeared in Volume 20 2 November 1995 Each of the authors specialists in one of seven periods from Roman to contemporary times was asked to evaluate the literature that had appeared in their field of London expertise during the last 20 years For this book each contribution has been updated where possible to take account of the very latest publications      London's Waterfront 1100-1666: Excavations in Thames Street, London, 1974-84 John Schofield, Lyn Blackmore, Jacqui Pearce, 2018-04-30 This book presents and celebrates the mile long Thames Street in the City of London and the land south of it to the River Thames as an archaeological asset Four Museum of London excavations of 1974 84 are presented Swan Lane Seal House New Fresh Wharf and Billingsgate Lorry Park Here the findings of the period 1100 1666 are presented      British and Irish Archaeology, 1994      Surrey Archaeological Collections Surrey Archaeological Society, 2004 List of members      Pottery and Social Life in Medieval England Ben Jervis, 2014-07-31 How can pottery studies contribute to the study of medieval archaeology How do pots relate to documents landscapes and identities These are the questions addressed in this book which develops a new approach to the study of pottery in medieval archaeology Utilising an interpretive framework which focuses upon the relationships between people places and things the effect of the production consumption and discard of pottery is considered to see pottery not as reflecting medieval life but as one actor which contributed to the development of multiple experiences and realities in medieval England By focussing on relationships we move away from viewing pottery simply as an object of study in its own right to see it as a central component to developing understandings of medieval society The case studies presented explore how we might use relational approaches to re consider our approaches to medieval landscapes overcome the methodological and theoretical divisions between documents and material culture and explore how the use of objects could have multiple implications for the formation and maintenance of identities The use of this approach makes this book not only of interest to pottery specialists but also to any archaeologist seeking to develop new interpretive approaches to medieval archaeology and the archaeological study of material culture

The Archaeology of Industrialization: Society of Post-Medieval Archaeology Monographs: v. 2 David Barker, 2020-08-26 This book is the outcome of the first joint conference of the two country's foremost societies devoted to the archaeological study of the early modern and modern worlds It discusses the progress of industrialization and its impact upon modern society

Medieval Adaptation, Settlement and Economy of a Coastal Wetland Luke Barber, Greg Priestley-Bell, 2008-10-08 Romney Marsh is the largest coastal lowland on the south coast of England Since 1991 excavations in advance of gravel extraction around Lydd on Romney Marsh have uncovered large areas of medieval landscape one of the largest to be exposed in southern England Features uncovered include 12th 13th century drainage ditches ditched field systems and sea defences Also of particular significance is the identification of a series of occupation sites and their enclosures The excavation of dispersed settlements is particularly difficult because of the scale of work required to produce meaningful results In this case it has been possible to work on sufficiently large areas to allow significant conclusions to be drawn The excavations at Lydd Quarry have shown how dispersed settlement existed alongside the nucleated market settlements on Romney Marsh This extensive report details the archaeological investigations of the field systems and occupation sites finds and environmental material There is also a section by Sheila Sweetinburgh on the documentary evidence Two final chapters set out broader conclusions from the evidence for the field systems settlements and economy and set the area in its wider context The research has provided an unprecedented opportunity to study reclamation occupation and economy of a large tract of marginal landscape through a considerable period of time

The Oxford Handbook of Later Medieval Archaeology in Britain Christopher Gerrard, Alejandra Gutiérrez, 2018-01-11 The Middle Ages are all around us in Britain The Tower of London and the castles of Scotland and Wales are mainstays of cultural tourism and an inspiring cross section of later medieval finds can now be seen on display in museums across England Scotland and Wales Medieval institutions from Parliament and monarchy to universities are familiar to us and we come into contact with the later Middle Ages every day when we drive through a village or town look up at the castle on the hill visit a local church or wonder about the earthworks in the fields we see from the window of a train The Oxford Handbook of Later Medieval Archaeology in Britain provides an overview of the archaeology of the later Middle Ages in Britain between AD 1066 and 1550 61 entries divided into 10 thematic sections cover topics ranging from later medieval objects human remains archaeological science standing buildings and sites such as castles and monasteries to the well preserved relict landscapes which still survive This is a rich and exciting period of the past and most of what we have learnt about the material culture of our medieval past has been discovered in the past two generations This volume provides comprehensive coverage of the latest research and describes the major projects and concepts that are changing our understanding of our medieval heritage      Transactions of the London and Middlesex Archaeological Society London and Middlesex Archaeological Society,2004 Contains the Society's proceedings reports list of members etc

Medieval Archaeology Chris Gerrard,2003-10-04 Chris Gerrard looks at the people and excavations that have been important in medieval archaeology and the core theory and methodology used creating an essential text for all medieval archaeologists      Caldecote Guy Beresford,2017-12-02 At just 132 hectares 325 acres the parish of Caldecote is one of the smallest parishes in Hertfordshire Today the settlement comprises the manor house until recently surrounded by a range of traditional farm buildings together with six labourer's cottages and the church To the north lies the site of the old rectory and the earthworks of a medieval settlement In 1973 the Department of Environment and the Deserted Medieval Village Research Group arranged a rescue excavation to examine the earthworks of the medieval village before they were levelled and ploughed Five crofts the old rectory site and much of the moated enclosure were investigated in one of the largest excavations ever conducted on a later medieval rural site in Britain Though the excavations did recover a Bronze Age beaker burial and small quantities of Roman and Iron Age pottery the medieval settlement at Caldecote was probably founded in the 10th century and by the time of the Domesday Survey there was a church a priest and nine villeins A moated site was added in the 13th century A century later Caldecote was granted to the abbots of the Benedictine monastery in St Albans at a time when there were seventeen householders Early in the second half of the 14th century the estate and demesne were subdivided into six farms each complete with a hall house and two or more barns Following the dissolution of the monastery in 1539 the manor was again held by an absentee lord and the farms continued to prosper However the late 16th and early 17th centuries for which there are several surviving wills and inventories saw their gradual abandonment After the desertion of Caldecote Marish in 1698 Caldecote was farmed as a single unit until 1970 when the estate was attached to that adjoining the manor of Newnham Of particular importance from Caldecote is the archaeological evidence for medieval peasant structures the development of the later medieval domestic plan and the structural transformation of post medieval period houses including the insertion of chimneys and second storeys The medieval and later pottery assemblage is of regional importance for its size and the range of fabrics represented The metalwork comprises many objects of personal adornment household utensils and tools for woodwork agriculture and the manufacture of textiles Other finds include copper alloy objects both domestic and agricultural whetstones quernstones mortars and clay pipes Although the economy of Caldecote was always dependant on arable farming the faunal remains elucidate aspects of the medieval diet and details of the livestock maintained on the holdings      Bulletin ,1987      Living Opposite to the Hospital of St John: Excavations in Medieval Northampton 2014 Jim Brown,2021-06-10 This volume presents the results of archaeological investigations undertaken at a building site in Northampton in 2014 The location was of interest as it lay opposite the former medieval hospital of St John which influenced the development of this area of the town      Excavations at the Priory of the Order of the Hospital of St John of Jerusalem, Clerkenwell, London Barney Sloane, Gordon Malcolm, 2004 Beyond the ceremonial inner court lay a unique outer precinct filled with the houses and gardens of the English Priory's most important financial officials This element of the priory previously unrecognised is revealed here through study of the very extensive documentation for the 15th and 16th centuries Rich architectural evidence includes a very important group of 16th century terracotta mouldings while the faunal and botanical remains from rubbish pits provide important evidence of consumption the local environment and industry Jacket     The London Archaeologist ,2002     Journal of the British Archaeological Association ,1994     Medieval Towns John Schofield, A. G. Vince, 2003-01-01 Though the book is primarily about medieval towns in Britain many parallels are drawn with contemporary towns and cities all over Europe from Ireland to Russia and from Scandinavia to Italy It is written in the belief that medieval urban archaeology should be a Europe wide study as are the fields of architecture and urban history BOOK JACKET     Sussex Archaeological Collections Relating to the History and Antiquities of the County Sussex Archaeological Society, 2001
