Women and Power in American History Kathryn Kish Sklar,Thomas Dublin,2009 Women and Power in American History provides a coherent group of readings related to the unifying theme of power in women s lives over time A greater understanding of how power inequalities are organized along gender lines can help us work toward a more egalitarian and just society Because the work of the women s movement is far from complete the need for a fuller historical understanding of how women s lives have changed over time remains great This anthology brings together carefully selected cutting edge readings in U S Women s History organized around issues related to gender and power in American society The twenty seven individual essays provide students with unifying themes that promote their understanding of women's history and changing gender relations. Both co-authors are highly visible in the field of women's history. Slave Counterpoint Philip D. Morgan, 2012-12-01 On the eve of the American Revolution nearly three quarters of all African Americans in mainland British America lived in two regions the Chesapeake centered in Virginia and the Lowcountry with its hub in South Carolina. Here Philip Morgan compares and contrasts African American life in these two regional black cultures exploring the differences as well as the similarities. The result is a detailed and comprehensive view of slave life in the colonial American South. Morgan explores the role of land and labor in shaping culture the everyday contacts of masters and slaves that defined the possibilities and limitations of cultural exchange and finally the interior lives of blacks their social relations their family and kin ties and the major symbolic dimensions of life language play and religion. He provides a balanced appreciation for the oppressiveness of bondage and for the ability of slaves to shape their lives showing that whatever the constraints slaves contributed to the making of their history. Victims of a brutal dehumanizing system slaves nevertheless strove to create order in their lives to preserve their humanity to achieve dignity and to sustain dreams of a better future. Colonial Families of Surry and Isle of Wight Counties, Virginia: The descendants of Capt.
