

Top 10 distance learning survey questions for students with examples

Measure the experience of remote education with these distance learning survey questions for students.

The COVID-19 pandemic changed learning in many unprecedented ways. Students had to not just move to online learning but also keep a social distance from their friends and family. It was quite challenging for some to adjust to the 'new normal' and missed the in-person interaction with their teachers. For some, it simply meant spending more time with the parents.

Schools need to know how students feel about distance education and learn more about their experiences. To collect data, they can send out a survey on remote learning for students. Once they have the results, the management team can know what students like in the existing setup and what they would like to change.

Here are the examples of questions of distance learning survey for students you must ask to collect their feedback.

Survey Of Technologybased Distance Education

H. D. Perraton, Helen Lentell

Survey Of Technologybased Distance Education:

A Survey of Technology-based Distance Education Grace R. Whitis,2001 Technology-based Distance Education Courses for Public Elementary and Secondary School Students Izabella Zandberg,2008 A Survey of State-level Involvement in Distance Education at the Elementary and Secondary Levels Richard England,1991

There is at present an unusually high degree of interest among educators and educational policy makers in the possibilities of improving and expanding elementary and secondary education by incorporating some forms of distance education into traditional schooling. However no procedures and little funding have been provided for research to find out what issues states consider important what policies they have implemented or intend to implement or what the opinions are among policy makers about the future of distance education in the schools. An issue raised by the Office of Technology Assessment in 1989 Linking for Learning A New Course for Education has to do with the certification of teachers involved in distance education programs as the teacher certification process varies from state to state and at times among universities and colleges within a particular state. A survey of chief state school officers in the United States including the District of Columbia was conducted in 1990 for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting APB Organization of State Broadcast Executives OSBE and the Southern Educational Communications Association SECA. Questions were asked regarding state level involvement in distance education and teacher certification issues. Responses from 41 states response rate 80% provided an overview of activity and opinion. These responses are discussed in the context of individual questions in each of the two areas and it is concluded that although there is a continuing need for research and education of policymakers the majority of states appear to recognize the opportunities that exist for distance education through telecommunications and that they are exploring ways to make education more available through technology. Responses from the individual states to each of nine questions are tabulated in the appendix. Contains 7 references. ALF
