Surviving In Two Worlds Contemporary Native American Voices:

Surviving in Two Worlds Lois Crozier-Hogle, Darryl Babe Wilson, Ferne Jensen, 2010-06-28 Surviving in Two Worlds brings together the voices of twenty six Native American leaders. The interviewees come from a variety of tribal backgrounds and include such national figures as Oren Lyons, Arvol Looking Horse, John Echohawk, William Demmert, Clifford Trafzer, Greg Sarris, and Roxanne Swentzell. Their interviews are divided into five sections grouped around the themes of tradition, history and politics, healing, education and culture. They take readers into their lives, their dreams and fears, their philosophies and experiences, and show what they are doing to assure the survival of their peoples and cultures as well as the earth as a whole. Their analyses of the past and present and especially their counsels for the future are timely and urgent. Surviving in

Two Worlds Charles Eastman, 2010 The importance of Eastman's life story was reiterated for a new generation when the 2007 HBO film entitled Bury My Heart at Wounded Knee used Eastman, played by Adam Beach, as its leading hero. This book presents an account of the American Indian experience as seen through the eyes of the author. Critically Sovereign Joanne Barker, 2017-03-30 Critically Sovereign traces the ways in which gender is inextricably a part of Indigenous politics and U.S. and Canadian imperialism and colonialism. The contributors show how gender, sexuality and feminism work as co-productive forces of Native American and Indigenous sovereignty, self-determination and epistemology. Several essays use a range of literary and legal texts to analyze the production of colonial space, the biopolitics of Indianness and the collisions and collusions between queer theory and colonialism within Indigenous studies. Others address the U.S. government's criminalization of traditional forms of Din marriage and sexuality, the Iupiat people's changing conceptions of masculinity as they embrace the processes of globalization, Hawai'i's same sex marriage bill and stories of Indigenous women falling in love.

Children's Literature, Domestication, and Social Foundation Layla AbdelRahim, 2014-12-05 This study of children s literature as knowledge culture and social foundation bridges the gap between science and literature and examines the interconnectedness of fiction and reality as a two way road The book investigates how the civilized narrative orders experience by means of segregation domestication breeding and extermination arguing instead that the stories and narratives of wilderness project chaos and infinite possibilities for experiencing the world through a diverse community of life AbdelRahim engages these narratives in a dialogue with each other and traces their expression in the various disciplines and books written for both children and adults analyzing the manifestation of fictional narratives in real life This is both an inter and multi disciplinary endeavor that is reflected in the combination of research methods drawn from anthropology and literary studies as well as in the tracing of the narratives of order and chaos or civilization and wilderness in children s literature and our world Chapters compare and contrast fictional children s books that offer different real world socio economic paradigms such as A A Milne s Winnie the Pooh projecting a civilized monarcho capitalist world Nikolai Nosov s trilogy on The Adventures of Dunno and Friends presenting the challenges and feats of an anarcho socialist society in evolution from primitivism towards technology and Tove Jansson s Moominbooks depicting the harmony of anarchy chaos and wildness AbdelRahim examines the construction transmission and acquisition of knowledge in children s literature by visiting the very nature of literature culture and language and the civilized structures that domesticate the world She brings radically new perspectives to the knowledge culture and construction of human beings making an invaluable contribution to a wide range of disciplines and for those engaged in revolutionizing contemporary debates on the nature of knowledge human identity and the world Santa Fe Elizabeth West,2012 This question and answer book contains 400 reminders of what is known and what is sometimes forgotten or misunderstood about a city that was founded more than 400 years ago Not a traditional history book this group of questions is presented in an apparently random order and the answers occasionally meander off topic as if part of a casual conversation
