How To Set Up Your Own Partnership

There is much to be learned for everyone considering a partnership.

By David S. Forster, Entrepreneur Magazine

It goes without saying that creating a partnership will not be easy. But it can be done. Here are some tips to help you get started. 1. Do Your Homework. Before you even think about creating a partnership, you need to know what you're getting into. This means researching the market, understanding the competition, and knowing your own strengths and weaknesses. 2. Find the Right Partner. You need someone who is willing to share the workload and the risks. Look for someone who is experienced, motivated, and has a good track record. 3. Create a Solid Plan. A partnership is only as good as the plan behind it. Make sure you have a clear understanding of your goals, your budget, and your timeline. 4. Communicate Often. Communication is key to a successful partnership. Make sure you and your partner are on the same page at all times. 5. Be Flexible. Things will change, and you need to be able to adapt. Stay open to new ideas and be willing to make adjustments as needed.

Survival Investing John R. Talbott, 2012-06-19 A startling look at how unsustainable debt levels in the US and around the world are endangering many standard investments and what people need to know to protect their money Most individuals and institutions hold the preponderance of their investments in common stocks corporate bonds mutual funds index funds muni bonds money markets bank CDs and Treasury securities But these conventional investments will not do well in a world dominated by corrupt debt laden governments and thieving bankers brokers and middlemen Finance guru John R Talbott prescient predictor of the financial crisis and the housing market crash offers a new paradigm for the coming economic reality He shows how the recent housing collapse and global economic crisis left governments of the world with enormous annual operating deficits at a time when the banking system continues to struggle with bad debts and requires additional government guarantees and bailouts Add the fact that growth is constrained because the first wave of the baby boom is hitting 65 and consumers are still loaded with unsustainable levels of debt and you have a recipe for an economic catastrophe In this uncertain atmosphere Talbott offers clear strategies on what you can do to protect your investments and your family Among the global dynamics covered are the low wage threat of China and India the legitimacy of gold investing the false security of diversification the risks of sovereign debt and why most economists are missing the boat
