Twenty-First Century Fictions of Terrorism Arin Keeble, 2024-05-31 Examining novels by celebrated authors, some neglected and some brand new texts, Arin Keeble offers a detailed analysis of the ways novels from around the world have represented terrorism in the early twenty-first century. Over five chapters, he uncovers a movement away from event-based narratives toward depictions of terrorism as a violent symptom or feature of twenty-first-century world systems and neoliberalism. Beginning with the early literary response to 9/11 and the 9/11 novel genre, the book moves through more recent depictions of the endless war on terror, state terror, white nationalist terror, and historical narratives of terror that resonate in the current political climate. In doing so, it examines the changing ways literature has sought to make sense of both the reasons why terrorism occurs and the effects it has on victims, survivors, and international and intercultural relations.

A World Ignited Martin Tolchin, Susan J. Tolchin, 2007-10-30 A World Ignited is about the surge of anger that has swept the world in the last decade, its myriad causes, its toll in lives and human misery. The authors conclude this important and timely book in an upbeat manner with a look at the politics of hope and what can be done to halt and even reverse this cacophony of hate.

Edinburgh Companion to the Arab Novel in English Nouri Gana, 2015-04-17 Opening up the field of diasporic Anglo-Arab literature to critical debate, this companion spans from the first Arab novel in 1911 to the resurgence of the Anglo-Arabic novel in the last 20 years. There are chapters on authors such as Ameen Rihani, Ahdaf.

Using Fiction to Teach Secondary Students about the Middle East Karl Ågerup, 2023-10-31 This book draws on empirical studies of classrooms teaching The Sirens of Baghdad by Yasmina Khadra to demonstrate how novels can effectively help achieve learning objectives related to intercultural understanding and global citizenship. By combining theoretical and empirical research, the book offers insights into the most effective ways to discuss cross-cultural literature with upper-secondary students who have grown up in the Western world. It outlines how, where, and why such literature can enhance students' understanding of different cultures and make them more globally aware citizens.

Going Places Robert Burgin, 2013-01-08 Successfully navigate the rich world of travel narratives and identify fiction and nonfiction read-alikes with this detailed and expertly constructed guide. Just as savvy travelers make use of guidebooks to help navigate the hundreds of countries around the globe, smart librarians need a guidebook that makes sense of the world of travel narratives. Going Places: A Reader's Guide to Travel Narratives meets that demand, helping librarians assist patrons in finding the nonfiction books that most interest them. It will also serve to help users better understand the genre and their own reading interests. The book examines the subgenres of the travel narrative genre in its seven chapters categorizing and describing approximately 600 titles according to genres and broad reading interests and identifying hundreds of other fiction and nonfiction titles as read alike and related reads by shared key topics The author has also identified award winning titles and spotlighted further resources on travel lit making this work an ideal guide for readers advisors as well as a book general readers will enjoy browsing

Literary Geography Lynn M. Houston, 2019-08-02 This reference investigates the role of landscape in popular works and in doing so explores the time in which they were written Literary Geography An Encyclopedia of Real and Imagined Settings is an authoritative guide for students teachers and avid readers who seek to understand the importance of setting in interpreting works of literature including poetry By examining how authors and poets shaped their literary landscapes in such works as The Great Gatsby and Nineteen Eighty Four readers will discover historical political and cultural context hidden within the words of their favorite reads The alphabetically arranged entries provide easy access to analysis of some of the most well known and frequently assigned pieces of literature and poetry Entries begin with a brief introduction to the featured piece of literature and then answer the questions How is literary landscape used to shape the story How is the literary landscape imbued with the geographical political cultural and historical context of the author's contemporary world whether purposeful or not Pop up boxes provide quotes about literary landscapes throughout the book and an appendix takes a brief look at the places writers congregated and that inspired them A comprehensive scholarly bibliography of secondary sources pertaining to mapping physical and cultural geography ecocriticism and the role of nature in literature rounds out the work

Representing Jihad Jacqueline O'Rourke, 2012-08-09 The jihad has been at the centre of the West's securitization discourse for more than a decade Theorists constantly use the jihadist as a discursive tool to further their neoliberal military and market agendas perpetuating massive gaps of understanding between the West Muslims and jihadists themselves They are helped by Muslim interlocutors who all too often play the role of good Muslims explaining the motifs of the bad Muslims This timely book argues that Muslim theory and fiction has been significantly commodified to cater to the needs of western ideology It skillfully critiques the ideological contradictions of the debate around the jihadist by offering a comprehensive analysis of Muslim and non Muslim cultural critics Ranging from Edward Said to Slavoj Žižek from Don DeLillo to Orhan Pamuk and from Mohammed Siddique Khan to Osama bin Laden this vastly heterogeneous discourse produces a multi dimensional Muslim response O'Rourke examines some of its critical fault lines in postcolonial theory and literary analysis This groundbreaking book argues that the temptation to appropriate the figure of the jihadist offers a fertile area from which to launch a discussion about the limits of current theory
