Edney, Mary Sponberg Pedley, 2020-05-15 Since its launch in 1987 the History of Cartography series has garnered critical acclaim and sparked a new generation of interdisciplinary scholarship Cartography in the European Enlightenment the highly anticipated fourth volume offers a comprehensive overview of the cartographic practices of Europeans Russians and the Ottomans both at home and in overseas territories from 1650 to 1800 The social and intellectual changes that swept Enlightenment Europe also transformed many of its mapmaking practices A new emphasis on geometric principles gave rise to improved tools for measuring and mapping the world even as large scale cartographic projects became possible under the aegis of powerful states Yet older mapping practices persisted Enlightenment cartography encompassed a wide variety of processes for making circulating and using maps of different types The volume's more than four hundred encyclopedic articles explore the era's mapping covering topics both detailed such as geodetic surveying thematic mapping and map collecting and broad such as women and cartography cartography and the economy and the art and design of maps Copious bibliographical references and nearly one thousand full color illustrations complement the detailed entries SWEDISH CATALOGUE DR. ELIS SIDENBLADH, 1876 Sketch and Map of a Trip from Philadelphia to Tinicum Island, Delaware County, Pennsylvania, where the Swedes Founded the First Permanent Colony, and Established and Maintained for Twelve Years (from 1643 to 1655) the First Seat of Government in Pennsylvania, Thirty-nine Years Before the Coming of William Penn Henry D. Paxson, 1926 The Complete History of the Black Death Ole Jørgen Benedictow, 2021 Completely revised and updated for this new edition Benedictow's acclaimed study remains the definitive account of the Black Death and its impact on history The first edition of The Black Death collected and analysed the many local studies on the disease published in a variety of languages and examined a range of scholarly papers The medical and epidemiological characteristics of the disease its geographical origin its spread across Asia Minor the Middle East North Africa and Europe and the mortality in the countries and regions for which there are satisfactory studies are clearly presented and thoroughly discussed The pattern pace and seasonality of spread revealed through close scrutiny of these studies exactly reflect current medical work and standard studies on the epidemiology of bubonic plague Benedictow's findings made it clear that the true mortality rate was far higher than had been previously thought In the light of those findings the discussion in the last part of the book showing the Black Death as a turning point in history takes on a new significance OLE J BENEDICTOW is Professor of History at the University of Oslo

European Rural Landscapes Hannes Palang, 2004-05-31 This book a compendium of 28 papers selected from two recent conferences on the topic focuses on aspects of rural landscape broadly related to issues of language representation and power These are issues that have not been addressed on a pan European landscape level before The aim is to offer a deeper interdisciplinary understanding of historical and contemporary processes in European landscapes

Shadow Economies in the Globalising World Anna Knutsson, 2022-12-30 From West Indian sugar and bottles of Southeast Asian arrack to French red wines English felt cloth and Mediterranean lemons many global wares ended up in the Scandinavian borderlands during the late eighteenth century This book explores how and why these goods came to be there and analyses what smuggling can reveal about the emergence of global trade the formation of the nation state and the development of consumer society in Europe's northernmost outskirts This book shows that the global underground was ubiquitous in the Nordic countries and fundamentally altered them politically economically socially and culturally Through re-evaluating the role of smuggling the book complements and challenges established historical accounts about state building market dynamics consumer culture and ideas and identity It also offers a roadmap for how to think about illegal global trade and how to approach this notoriously difficult research field By integrating illegality the book aims to show how an illicit web entangled often overlooked peripheral territories with traditional portals of globalisation and proposes a novel take on early modern globalisation and the paths to modernity in the European hinterlands To achieve this a wide variety of sources are used including court records administrative sources diaries ambassadorial correspondence and maps in various languages including Swedish Finnish Norwegian English and French This book makes a significant contribution to the literature on economic history the first wave of globalisation the study of shadow economies and Scandinavian history more broadly
