Swedish Research In A Changing Society:

Society And The Environment: A Swedish Research Perspective U. Svedin, Britt Hägerhäll Aniansson, 2012-12-06 Following the report by the World Commission on Environment and Development research efforts devoted to sustainable development were promoted by the Swedish Council for Planning and Coordination of Research FRN With its fifteen essays by Swedish scholars on different aspects of society environment interface giving various analyses of and prospects for the concept of sustainable development this book is a result of those efforts The authors represent a spectrum of inter and multidisciplinary approaches in the field of ecology economy and environment They are economists ecologists engineers anthropologists physicists geographers political scientists science theorists and educationalists discussing sustainable development and the future of society and the environment The question is also raised whether there is a special Swedish touch with a responsibility for the world ethos to the approach to environmental issues especially as seen through the efforts of the research community Swedish Research in a Changing Society Kjell Härnqvist, Nils-Eric Svensson, 1990

Economics in Sweden Lars Engwall, 2006-08-21 Economics in Sweden contains the results of one of the most comprehensive attempts to evaluate research in economics ever undertaken A team of Swedish and international researchers including Avinash K Dixit Seppo Honkapohja and Robert M Slow examined the structure of economics in Sweden and its results They identified postgraduate education as a key area and their findings will be of particular relevance at a time when many countries are restructuring their graduate education programme Social Change in Sweden ,1977 Resources in Education ,1989 Performing Arts in Changing Societies Randi Margrete Selvik, Svein Gladsø, Anne Margrete

Fiskvik, 2020-05-07 Performing Arts in Changing Societies is a detailed exploration of genre development within the fields of dance theatre and opera in selected European countries during the decades before and after 1800 An introductory chapter outlines the theoretical and ideological background of genre thinking in Europe starting from antiquity A further fourteen chapters cover the performing genres as they developed in England France Germany and Austria and follow the dissemination and adaptation of the corresponding genres in minor and major cities in the Nordic countries With a strong emphasis on the role that pragmatic and contextual factors had in defining genres the book examines such subjects as the dancing masters in Christiania Oslo circa 1800 the repertory and travels of an itinerant acrobat and his wife in Norway in the 1760s and the influence of Enlightenment ideas on bourgeois drama in Denmark Including detailed analyses in the light of material political and social factors this is a valuable resource for scholars and researchers in the fields of musicology opera studies and theatre and performance studies Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Anders Bäckström, Grace Davie, Ninna Edgardh, Per Pettersson, 2016-02-24 Historically European churches have played a large part in the provision of welfare Responsibility however has gradually shifted to the state a shift that forms an integral part of the process of secularization and one that has been readily accepted by European populations But what happens when the state itself begins to recede a process that is occurring in most if not all European societies for a wide variety of reasons The implications for welfare are considerable not least for the role of the churches which begin to resume the responsibilities previously shed but in new and different ways This book looks at the connections between religion and welfare in Europe exploring in detail eight European societies Finland Norway Sweden England Germany France Italy and Greece The different theological traditions different church state relationships and different welfare regimes are all examined The analysis is based on first hand empirical research which considers not only the changing situation on the ground but attitudes towards this within a range of different constituencies the churches local government and the general public Particular attention is paid to the significance of gender in both the process of change and in attitudes towards this Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Volume 1 represents comparative research at its best and highlights key policy implications for the future A companion book Welfare and Religion in 21st Century Europe Volume 2 explores thematically the changing nature of religion and welfare and the new relationships that are emerging between the religious and the secular and between church and state in the 21st century

Women s Organizing and Public Policy in Canada and Sweden highlights the impact of women s organizing on the framing and implementing of public policy the reconstituting of discourse and the practices of unions political parties and the state It examines the strategies women have used to organize themselves as a vocal and politicized constituency In so doing it stretches definitions of organizing and of political practice politicizes the social and the private and expands conceptions of agency Comparing Sweden and Canada allows the mechanisms at work in each society to emerge more clearly challenging what is often taken for granted Contributors include Christina Bergqvist Uppsala Sweden Linda Briskin Barbara Cameron York Canada Marianne Carlsson Uppsala Sweden Rebecca Priegert Coulter University of Western Ontario Canada Mona Eliasson Georgina Feldberg York Canada Sue Findlay private scholar Canada Lena Gon s National Institute for Working Life Sweden Wuokko Knocke National Institute for Working Life Sweden Catharina Landstr m Linkoping Sweden Colleen Lundy Carleton Canada Rianne Mahon Carleton Canada Chantal Maill Concordia Canada Roxana Ng Ontario Institute for Studies in Education Canada Becki Ross University of British Columbia Canada Lena W ngnerud G teborg Sweden and Inga Wernersson G teborg Sweden

Sweden's Research Aid Policy Veronica Brodén Gyberg, 2023-06-27

Science and technology have long been considered key for development problem solving and education in low income countries and Sweden has been at the forefront of efforts in this area as one of the first countries to formalize research aid This book analyses how the Swedish Agency for Research Cooperation with Developing Countries Sarec and the Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency Sida have worked to promote science in low income countries In doing so the book tackles challenging questions around whose knowledges and capacities count who sets the research agenda how knowledge resources are distributed and how complex donor recipient relationships serve both to address and inflate these issues Through a discursive analysis of policy material and interviews with former directors at Sarec and Sida as well as other key persons the book traces how perceptions of the relationship between research and development have shifted over the last five decades Pointing to why long term collaboration is necessary in order to contribute significantly to capacity building as well as highlighting more general tensions relating to the production of knowledge Sweden s Research Aid Policy The Role of Science in Development will be a valuable resource for advanced students and researchers of foreign aid development cooperation and the history of science and technology Underuse of Applied Science in Changing Societies Töres Theorell, 2025-08-19 This book discusses the fact that applied science is underused in modern societies The problem is discussed both from external points of view trust among lay people attitudes among politicians and from the inside recruitment of researchers research education violations of scientific rules financial processes The book concludes with suggested solutions Democracy is threatened in many countries in the free world The same is true of applied science It could be argued that in a world situation in which increasing numbers of people distrust politicians applied science would be the sector people should turn to for advice However this seems to occur to a decreasing extent Increasing numbers of results are produced by applied scientists and these results often diverge In that situation laymen tend to select the research results that confirm their own ideas In such a situation one could ask whether it is meaningful to have applied science and to allocate money to it There are threats to applied science coming from external sources with politicians and higher administration increasingly disregarding applied science but also from the inside Researchers reporting results dishonestly or in exaggerated ways and researchers who avoid results that do not confirm their own hypotheses are eroding the trust in applied science This book which uses Sweden a small European country with old and strong democratic and scientific traditions as an empirical example puts all the external and internal problems surrounding applied science in one context Among the topics covered Introduction why do people not listen Production and producers Research students How does applied science operate Communication with society Examples of situations in which applied science should have been used more Solutions Conclusions Underuse of Applied Science in Changing Societies Trust in Applied Science Among Lay People is an essential resource for researchers research students and research teachers in psychosomatic medicine psychiatry behavioral medicine social medicine psychology sociology social work nursing and public health Societal actors also would find the book a useful resource for their work Aging and Generational Relations over the Life Course Tamara K. interdisciplinary research that explores how diverse fields contribute to building adaptive and inclusive communities This book highlights the intersections of governance education health science technology social transformation and ethical perspectives in achieving sustainable development This proceedings publication features 164 peer reviewed papers by scholars all over the world and delves into seven key themes education and psychology in resilience building governance and political transformation economic and legal frameworks for sustainability scientific and technological advancements for societal resilience religion ethics and sustainability language communication and humanities in cultural and social sustainability and gender equity and inclusive development By integrating these themes the book aligns with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and provides theoretical and practical insights for shaping a sustainable future This is an essential resource for academics researchers policymakers and professionals in sustainability governance and development studies science and technology education and health and social sciences It offers evidence based insights and strategic recommendations for fostering more resilient and equitable societies

Baptism in Times of Change Harald Hegstad, Steinunn Arnþrúður Björnsdóttir, Magnus Evertsson, Jonas Adelin Jorgensen, Jyri Komulainen, 2025-04-10 What happened to baptism in Nordic countries Traditionally most newborns were baptized into the Lutheran majority churches The rapid decline of this practice in recent decades has sparked reflection on the church's role in society and on the cultural and theological meaning of baptism in a secularized society The decline of infant baptism has made way for new practices and ecclesial strategies This book analyzes these developments from historical social scientific and theological perspectives comparing material from the five Nordic Lutheran folk churches The essays gathered here provide an extensive overview of research and resources connected to baptism in the Nordic folk churches over the last two decades but they also contribute constructive theological reflection on baptism's wider implications This anthology emerged from the larger joint Nordic project Baptism in Times of Change conducted between 2020 and 2022 The project was part of the joint Nordic initiative Churches in Times of Change focusing on changes in ecclesial practice and theology in the Nordic region

Cradle to Grave: Life-Course Change in Modern Sweden Jan O. Jonsson, Colin Mills, 2021-04-14 The empirical study of individuals life course is one of the most promising areas of research within sociology today Increased availability of large scale longitudinal data and improved statistical methods have made it possible to address theoretically relevant questions about events such as entrance into the labour market job mobility divorce and death This book consists of studies capturing the life course from the cradle to the grave The research questions include long term consequences of childhood conditions family formation and school careers work and parental leave gender discrimination in job promotion divorce and occupational career persistence in poverty and the intriguing question of why the highly educated tend to survive everyone else The studies shed light on the relation between family and work on gender inequality social class differences welfare state redistribution and labour market processes They do this in a particular context namely Sweden in the post war period that is during the decades that formed one of the most advanced welfare states in modern history One chapter provides a descriptive account of institutional and life course change in Sweden during that period Most authors use the Swedish level of living surveys a unique data set providing ample opportunity to study social processes in a longitudinal perspective The book will therefore be of relevance to those with interests in the Swedish welfare state as well as those with theoretical and research interests in the reproduction of inequality

Gender and Education in Politics, Policy and Practice Marie Carlson, Brynja E. Halldórsdóttir, Branislava Baranović, Ann-Sofie Holm, Sirpa

Lappalainen, Andrea Spehar, 2021-11-15 This book presents ideas on education gender and intersectionality through a transdisciplinary frame by crossing disciplinary and methodological borders Exploring the diversity of educational settings ranging from early childhood to adult education it brings together scholars from various disciplines to discuss deconstruct and problematize gender and education in relation to several themes in a comparative intersectional local national regional and international perspective Each chapter approaches the topic in an intersectional and or transnational manner and creates powerful gendered educational knowledge Questions addressed in the book include What are the challenges or barriers to gender equal education How can we understand the gaps between formal policies and educational practices The chapters in the book illustrate how gender and education are relevant and needed concepts within the field of transdisciplinary research The authors hail from a range of countries such as Croatia Indonesia Turkey UK as well as the Nordic region and they critically examine gender and education at all levels and in diverse sectors and with varied lenses such as neoliberalism in education and the inclusion of newcomers and refugees The work also critically investigates programs and pedagogical approaches culture and values knowledge and identity in teacher education The book further addresses criticisms of Western and Anglophone bias around white feminism and the norm of white male and heterosexual privilege

Religion and Civil Society David Herbert, 2017-03-02 This book presents the first full length study of the relationship between religion and the controversial concept of civil society Across the world in the last two decades of the twentieth century religions re entered public space as influential discursive and symbolic systems apparently beyond the control of either traditional religious authorising institutions or states This differentiation of religion from traditional institutions and entry into secular public spheres carries both dangers and possible benefits for democracy Offering a fresh interdisciplinary approach to understanding religion in contemporary societies this book provides an invaluable resource for students and researchers in religious studies sociology politics and political philosophy theology international relations and legal studies Part one presents a critical introduction to the interaction between religion modernization and postmodernization in Western and non Western settings America Europe the Middle East and India focussing on discourses of human rights civil society and the public sphere and the controversial question of their cross cultural application Part two examines religion and civil society through case studies of Egypt Bosnia and Muslim minorities in Britain and compares Poland as an example of a Christian majority society that has experienced the public reassertion of religion
