Integral Advantage Professor Ronnie Lessem,2015-12-28 The BRICS countries are heralded for their double digit economic growth rates and while this has indeed been impressive particularly in India and China it is clear that significant social and environmental fault lines have developed in these regions Building on the integral heritage of Ronnie Lessem s previous work through Trans4m s Centre for Integral Development here he makes the case for integral advantage a philosophy inclusive of nature and culture technology and economy altogether accommodated by an integral polity Moreover and as will be illustrated in each of the cases of the five BRICS countries each one is an integral entity in its own particular right and needs to be viewed and duly evolved as such In the final analysis he argues then that around the world the failure of a society to develop is not due to its economic limitations in isolation but to the failure of nature and culture technology and economy to co evolve in unison under the rubric of an integral polity altogether aligned with that particular society Drawing on the approach he has developed towards the release of a society s genius in each case he demonstrates how the pursuit of integral advantage may actually arise Most specifically he indicates how a balance between the spiritual and the material on the one hand and the natural and the social on the other needs to be achieved

Advances in Polymer Coated Textiles Gueneri Akovali,2012-07-24 Polymer coated textiles are known as engineered composite materials at macro scale Coating can offer significant improvements to the substrate mainly of the physical like impermeability and fabric abrasion and or of overall chemical properties as well as the appearance by combining advantages of the components Polymer coated systems employ various kinds of textile substrate structures available mostly of technical textiles Since there are a number of possibilities for different types of polymers and their combinations textile structures as well as their combinations are possible it is widely open to creativities and almost every day some new innovative application is being introduced Polymer coated textile industry being parallel to the developments in the textile research is so dynamic that today applications like reactive coatings with nanoparticles with self cleaning self sterilizing surfaces systems with conductive polymer coatings to provide EM shielding electronic textile systems with body monitoring properties environmental responsive systems etc are already somewhat classical and are considered almost left in the shade of incoming new developments This book is an up to date summary of the subject by considering the passage from conventional to emerging technologies Criteria for selection of the coat and textile are considered and the manufacturing basics of the system are summarized Emerging technologies and applications including smart intelligent and nanostructured applications are completed by testing and quality control methods of these systems The book is written for all that are interested in this interdisciplinary area it certainly will prove to be of great help to textile and polymer technologists to engineers to scientists as well as to students
