Political Party Systems and Democratic Development in East and Southeast Asia Wolfgang Sachsenröder, Ulrike E. Frings, 2018-08-16 First published in 1998 this is the second of two volumes which will be of great value to scholars and students of politics in East and Southeast Asia A rich readable reference tool they offer extensive surveys of the history structure culture legal context and financing as well as the progress travails and prospects of political parties and electoral systems in 13 countries The excellent introduction and the detailed country case studies demonstrate the wide range of political experiences in Asia Rather than affirm the thesis of a common set of Asian values hostile to democracy they show that in much of East and Southeast Asia people want the political choice and accountability that come from free and fair electoral competition with open effective political parties

The International Systems After the Collapse of the East-West Order Armand Clesse, Richard Newell Cooper, Yoshikazu Sakamoto, 1994 This book provides the reader with a comprehensive study of the future perspectives of the international order after the collapse of the Evil Empire The first part of the book reviews the likely evolution of the international system in the years to come covering the global implications of the end of the East West order political economic and strategic impact the second part studies the specificities of the situation in Europe the U S A Asia and the rest of the world as well as the role of some international organizations The book addresses the basic questions facing us since the collapse of the socialist system What has been the impact of the collapse of the East West order on the international system How will various regions and actors be affected by these changes How will they react to them What will be the most important challenges and threats in the future international system and how can we prepare for them Gathered together in this volume are contributions from some of the most eminent experts from the academic community as well as from governmental and international organizations making it a reference book for students of international affairs as well as policy makers and corporate managers Globalizing Higher Education and Strengthening the European Spirit Christiane Dienel, 2023-08-30 The so called Bologna process is one of the most disputed and influential long term policy changes the European Union has ever succeeded to start It has harmonized European higher education systems and at the same time deeply changed concepts about what the core of Europeanness is This book discusses various aspects of this transformative and influential soft policy process The Bologna process initiated over 20 years ago confronts us with fundamental questions about the European integration process that is facing the greatest challenge in its history to date The goal was to increase the comparability and competitiveness of European higher education structures their quality and outcomes But how successful was this endeavour This book discusses different aspects of this reform national interests globalization trends competition and cooperation within higher education and the influences of harmonization on the Europeanness of the young generation Globalizing Higher Education and Strengthening the European Spirit will be a key resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Education Education Policy Social Sciences and European Studies The chapters included in this book were originally published in Innovation The European Journal of Social Science Research European Higher Education Area: The Impact of Past and Future Policies Adrian Curaj, Ligia Deca, Remus Pricopie, 2018-07-03 This volume presents the major outcomes of the third edition of the Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC 3 which was held on 27 29 November 2017 It acknowledges the importance of a continued dialogue between researchers and decision makers and benefits from the experience already acquired this way enabling the higher education community to bring its input into the 2018 2020 European Higher Education Area EHEA priorities The Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC has already established itself as a landmark in the European higher education environment The two previous editions 17 19 October 2011 24 26 November 2014 with approximately 200 European and international participants each covering more than 50 countries each were organized prior to the Ministerial Conferences thus encouraging a consistent dialogue between researchers and policy makers The main conclusions of the FOHE Conferences were presented at the EHEA Ministerial Conferences 2012 and 2015 in order to make the voice of researchers better heard by European policy and decision makers This volume is dedicated to continuing the collection of evidence and research based policymaking and further narrowing the gap between policy and research within the EHEA and broader global contexts It aims to identify the research areas that require more attention prior to the anniversary 2020 EHEA Ministerial Conference with an emphasis on the new issues on rise in the academic and educational community This book gives a platform for discussion on key issues between researchers various direct higher education actors decision makers and the wider public This book is published under an open access CC BY license Cultural Identity and Global Process Jonathan Friedman,1994-10-05 This fascinating book explores the interface between global processes identity formation and the production of culture Examining ideas ranging from world systems theory to postmodernism Jonathan Friedman investigates the relations between the global and the local to show how cultural fragmentation and modernist homogenization are equally constitutive trends of global reality With examples taken from a rich variety of theoretical sources ethnographic accounts of historical eras the analysis ranges across the cultural formations of ancient Greece contemporary processes of Hawaiian cultural identification and Congolese beauty cults Throughout the author examines the interdependency of world market and local cultural transformations and demonstrates the complex interrelations between globally structured social processes and the organization of identity Jonathan Friedman also documents the development and significance of a global perspective in an anthropology that illuminates a wide variety of domains from prehistory to world hegemony In so doing he interrogates the emergence of the concept of culture and suggests that anthropology itself is best understood within the trajectory of modernity Mismanagement of POW/MIA Accounting United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs. Subcommittee on Financial and Contracting Oversight,2014 Institutional Change in Southeast Asia Fredrik Sjöholm,José Tongzon,2004-11-05 Includes a comprehensive analysis of different countries in the region Contributors include experts from the region and Europe The Asian economic crisis and its aftermath is a huge area of study so this book will appeal to a broad market Open Data in Southeast Asia Manuel Stagers,2016-06-27 This book explores the power of greater openness accountability and transparency in digital information and government data for the nations of Southeast Asia The author demonstrates that although the term open data seems to be self explanatory it involves an evolving ecosystem of complex domains Through empirical case studies this book explains how governments in the ASEAN may harvest the benefits of open data to maximize their productivity efficiency and innovation The book also investigates how increasing digital divides in the population boundaries to civil society and shortfalls in civil and political rights threaten to arrest open data in early development which may hamper post 2015 development agendas in the region With robust open data policies and clear roadmaps member states of the ASEAN can harvest the promising opportunities of open data in their particular developmental institutional and legal settings Governments policy makers entrepreneurs and academics will gain a clearer understanding of the factors that enable open data from this timely research

Indigenizing the Cold War Sinae Hyun, 2023 The Border Patrol Police BPP of Thailand was formed as a United States CIA's paramilitary intelligence force in the early 1950s. In the early 1960s, changes in Thailand's political leadership and the US government's strategies for fighting the spread of communism in Southeast Asia led to a transformation of the BPP. The organization became a civic action agency supported by the US Agency for International Development and the Thai monarchy. Its civic actions pinned on advancing anticommunist modernization, civilian counterinsurgency, and royalist nationalism soon extended from the margins to the center of Thailand and contributed to building the border of Thainess (khwaen Thai). The growing tension between the royalist network consisting of military and rightwing groups and the democratization movements culminated in a massacre. On October 6, 1976, the Village Scout, a rural vigilante group that the BPP created through its civic actions, and the Police Aerial Reinforcement Unit (PARU), a subunit of the BPP, attacked peaceful protesters at Thammasat University. The success of a military coup on the same day solidified the victory of the royalist network, and it would continue to dominate Thai politics and society into the post-Cold War era. Through a study of the Border Patrol Police's transformations, Indigenizing the Cold War shows how the Thai ruling elite unfailingly pursued their nation-building. With an introduction of the indigenization concept and an in-depth analysis of postcolonial nation-building, this work challenges conventional Cold War studies. The Cold War in Thailand was not always and only about an ideological conflict between the communist and anticommunist. It was a war between the local ruling elite and the people, each pushing forward their visions for constructing a new nation-state. The indigenization framework helps one to see the nature and impacts of the collaboration between global superpowers and the Asian local ruling elite; it exposes an arrangement that took advantage of the American Cold War to legitimize and continue their authoritarian regimes.

Ceasefire Agreements and Peace Processes Malin Akebo, 2016-11-10 This book analyses and compares ceasefire agreements as part of peace processes in intrastate armed conflicts. Research repeatedly underscores the importance of ceasefire agreements in peace processes but suggests that they can influence such processes in fundamentally different ways. However, despite contradictory expectations, remarkably few studies have so far been devoted to systematic and in-depth analysis of ceasefire agreements in contemporary intrastate armed conflicts. This book contributes to filling this gap by using a process-oriented conflict dynamics approach to analyse and explain how ceasefire agreements are being influenced by and in turn influence the broader dynamics of peace processes. Empirically, the book focuses on the armed conflicts in Aceh, Indonesia, and Sri Lanka. Based on document studies and 57 interviews with key actors, it presents comparative insights and in-depth knowledge about ceasefire agreements in different contextual settings. The book problematizes the common assumption in the literature that ceasefire agreements create momentum in peace processes and pave the way to peace, and it provides a more nuanced analysis and understanding based on two empirical cases analysed within a comparative framework. In contrast to conventional wisdom, it demonstrates how ceasefires, on the contrary, also can have negative implications on peace processes This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution peace studies intra state conflict security studies and IR in general Brunei Air force Handbook - Strategic Information and Weapon Systems IBP USA, Emerging International Dimensions in East Asian Higher Education Akiyoshi Yonezawa,Yuto Kitamura,Arthur Meerman,Kazuo Kuroda,2014-04-07 In East Asia higher education has relied heavily on private and marketized forces in its rapid development process At the same time state governments have introduced strong initiatives especially in upgrading the global positioning of their flagship universities through their pursuit of international competitiveness Currently these well known characteristics of East Asian higher education are challenged by the necessity to formulate international dimensions for regional and global well being without a clear consensus as to a regional future vision The changing roles of East Asian higher education in a new global environment have implications for academics and policy makers who not only wish but also need to understand the most recent developments and future prospects of higher education from an East Asian point of view In Emerging International Dimensions in East Asian Higher Education authors from a wide variety of cultural and academic backgrounds examine the changing context of East Asian higher education in the global regional and national dimensions The analysis and case study material in this volume are strengthened by the wealth of contributors diverse national and professional backgrounds Most have practical experience in the formulation of higher education policy in two or more countries The range of disciplinary perspectives that contributors brought to the book including sociology political science anthropology economics philosophy and history strengthen the multi disciplinary approach credibility and uniqueness of the work Each chapter considers the impact of the emergence of international dimensions in East Asian Higher Education through detailed consideration of trends and debates over higher education reforms at the regional sub regional inter regional and national levels Issues such as student mobility cross border higher education programs quality assurance and demands from the market economy among others are examined Legal Aspects of the Regional Integration Processes in the Post-Soviet Area Zhenis Kembayev,2009-02-03 Legal Aspects of the Regional Integration Processes in the Post Soviet Area is the first ever comprehensive overview of regional integration processes in the territory of the former USSR introducing the core concepts of regional integration theory and presenting a solid foundation of factual information regarding all the regional integration agreements RIAs operating in the Eurasian landmass and consisting of the former Soviet republics The book analyzes the legal nature and background of the regional integration in the framework of the Commonwealth of Independent States the Russian Belarusian Union the Single Economic Space the Eurasian Economic Community and the Collective Security Treaty Organization It also deals with the RIAs created outside of the Russian control in the format of GUAM and among Central Asian countries Finally the book contains conclusive remarks attempting to assess the possibility of the creation of an Eurasian Union
