Cultural Conceptions of Mental Health and Therapy Anthony J. Marsella,G. White,2012-12-06 Within the past two decades there has been an increased interest in the study of culture and mental health relationships This interest has extended across many academic and professional disciplines including anthropology psychology sociology psychiatry public health and social work and has resulted in many books and scientific papers emphasizing the role of sociocultural factors in the etiology epidemiology manifestation and treatment of mental disorders It is now evident that sociocultural variables are inextricably linked to all aspects of both normal and abnormal human behavior But in spite of the massive accumulation of data regarding culture and mental health relationships sociocultural factors have still not been incorporated into existing biological and psychological perspectives on mental disorder and therapy Psychiatry the Western medical specialty concerned with mental disorders has for the most part continued to ignore socio cultural factors in its theoretical and applied approaches to the problem The major reason for this is psychiatry s continued commitment to a disease conception of mental disorder which assumes that mental disorders are largely biologically caused illnesses which are universally represented in etiology and manifestation Within this perspective mental disorders are regarded as caused by universal processes which lead to discrete and recognizable symptoms regardless of the culture in which they occur However this perspective is now the subject of growing criticism and debate American Anthropologist ,1923 Broken Bodies, Places and Objects Anna Sörman,Astrid A. Noterman,Markus Fjellström,2023-11-29 Broken Bodies Places and Objects demonstrates the breadth of fragmentation and fragment use in prehistory and history and provides an up to date insight into current archaeological thinking around the topic A seal broken and shared by two trade parties dog jaws accompanying the dead in Mesolithic burials fragments of ancient warships commodified as souvenirs parts of an ancient dynastic throne split up between different colonial collections Pieces of the past are everywhere around us Fragments have a special potential precisely because of their incomplete format as a new matter that can reference its original whole but can also live on with new unrelated meanings Deliberate breakage of bodies places and objects for the use of fragments has been attested from all time periods in the past It has now been over 20 years since John Chapman s major publication introducing fragmentation studies and the topic is more present than ever in archaeology This volume offers the first European wide review of the concept of fragmentation collecting case studies from the Neolithic to Modernity and extending the ideas of fragmentation theory in new directions The book is written for scholars and students in archaeology but it is also relevant for neighbouring fields with an interest in material culture such as anthropology history cultural heritage studies museology art and architecture Children of the Earth Goddess Roland Hardenberg,2017-12-18 The whole world is changing with incredible speed towards something radically new yet people across the globe also show resistance to the forces that homogenize our lives This book deals with a community that has found its niche in the remote Niamgiri mountain range of Odisha India and is struggling to preserve its way of life the Dongria Kond In recent years they made the headlines as the real Avatars because they successfully fought a multinational company's plans to mine the mountains From the perspective of the Dongria Kond these mountains are the seat of gods and the whole environment is animated by spiritual forces This highly complex cosmic order includes humans and non humans and rests on a divine law niam This book captures the viewpoint of the Dongria Kond and provides deep insights into their vision of the world It offers elaborate accounts of how the Dongria relate to the outside world conceive of their own society and engage in complex rituals in order to re establish the cosmos The book confronts the reader with radically different imaginings of familiar human concerns love fertility wealth status and well being Fertility and the Male Life Cycle in the Era of Fertility Decline Caroline Bledsoe, Susana Lerner, Jane Guyer, 2000-02-10 This volume challenges the orthodox position on two of the main themes in fertility transition studies the inevitable link between fewer children and quality of life and the focus on women as the sole important objects of study In an era of unprecedented fertility decline there is increasing concern about the lessening worldwide role that men play in the upbringing of children The immense worldwide variation in the timing and sequencing of a man's life course events the rise and fall in personal fortunes and the weight of society's hierarchies all combine to affect the number of children a man fathers when he fathers them the number of partners he fathers them with and the kind of support and recognition he bestows on them The cross disciplinary approach favoured here including ethnographies national surveys and historical texts avoids the narrow focus of many fertility studies texts By providing detailed studies on a variety of countries ranging from Germany to Papua New Guinea the contributors build an accurate picture of the global situation while two Overview chapters give a wider perspective and the Introduction synthesizes the themes identified and conclusions reached The Ethics of Everyday Life Michael Banner, 2014-10-24 The moments in Christ's human life noted in the creeds his conception birth suffering death and burial are events which would likely appear in a syllabus for a course in social anthropology for they are of special interest and concern in human life and also sites of contention and controversy where what it is to be human is discovered constructed and contested In other words these are the occasions for profound and continuing questioning regarding the meaning of human life as controversies to do with IVF abortion euthanasia and the use of bodies or body parts post mortem plainly indicate Thus the following questions arise how do the instances in Christ's life represent human life and how do these representations relate to present day cultural norms expectations and newly emerging modes of relationship themselves shaping and framing human life How does the Christian imagination of human life which dwells on and draws from the life of Christ not only articulate its own but also come into conversation with and engage other moral imaginaries of the human Michael Banner argues that consideration of these questions requires study of moral theology therefore he reconceives its nature and tasks and in particular its engagement with social anthropology Drawing from social anthropology and Christian thought and practice from many periods and influenced especially by his engagement in public policy matters including as a member of the UK's Human Tissue Authority Banner aims to develop the outlines of an everyday ethics stretching from before the cradle to after the grave The Discipline of Organizing: Informatics Edition Robert J. Glushko, 2016-08-05 We organize things We organize information information about things and information about information Organizing is a fundamental issue in many professional fields but these fields have only limited agreement in how they approach problems of organizing and in what they seek as their solutions The Discipline of Organizing synthesizes insights from library science information science computer science cognitive science systems analysis business and other disciplines to create an Organizing System for understanding organizing This framework is robust and forward looking enabling effective sharing of insights and design patterns between disciplines that weren't possible before The 4th edition of this award winning and widely adopted text adds content to bridge between the foundations of organizing systems and the new statistical and computational techniques of data science because at its core data science is about how resources are described and organized The 4th edition reframes descriptive statistics as organizing techniques expands the treatment of classification to include computational methods and incorporates many new examples of data driven resource selection organization maintenance and personalization The Informatics edition contains all the new content related to data science but omits the discipline specific content about library science museums and document archives Genealogies for the Present in Cultural Anthropology Bruce M. Knaft, 2013-09-13 In the wake of tensions between modern and postmodern sensibilities what larger directions now emerge in cultural anthropology In this major work Bruce Knaft takes stock of important recent initiatives in cultural and critical theory By combining critical reviews and ethnographic engagements with fresh readings of major figures and approaches the work develops a larger vantage point for considering the dispersing influence of practice theories postmodernism cultural studies postcolonial studies modern post positive feminism and multicultural criticisms
