The Effects of Financial Crises on the Binding Force of Contracts - Renegotiation, Rescission or Revision Başak Başoğlu, 2016-02-25 This book is about one of the most controversial dilemmas of contract law whether or not the unexpected change of circumstances due to the effects of financial crises may under certain conditions be taken into account Growing interconnectedness of global economies facilitates the spread of the effects of the financial crises Financial crises cause severe difficulties for persons to fulfill their contractual obligations During the financial crises performance of contractual obligations may become excessively onerous or may cause an excessive loss for one of the contracting parties and consequently destroy the contractual equilibrium and legitimate the governmental interventions Uncomfortable economic climate leads to one of the most controversial dilemmas of the contract law whether the binding force of the contract is absolute or not In other words unstable economic circumstances impose the need to devote special attention to review and perhaps to narrow the binding nature of a contract Principle of good faith and fair dealing motivate a variety of theoretical bases in order to overcome the legal consequences of financial crises In this book all these theoretical bases are analyzed with special focus on the available remedies namely renegotiation rescission or revision and the circumstances which enables the revocation of these remedies The book collects the 19 national reports and the general report originally presented in the session regarding the Effects of Financial Crises on the Binding Force of Contracts Renegotiation Rescission or Revision during the XIXth congress of the International Academy of Comparative Law held in Vienna July 2014      Struggles over Difference Yoshiko Nozaki, Roger Openshaw, Allan Luke, 2012-02-01 Winner of the 2006 AERA Division B Outstanding Book Award Struggles over Difference addresses education schools textbooks and pedagogies in various countries of the Asia Pacific offering critical curriculum studies and policy analyses of national and regional educational systems These systems face challenges linked to new economic formations cultural globalization and emergent regional and international geopolitical instabilities and conflicts Contributors offer insights on how official knowledge text discourse and discipline should be shaped who should shape it through which institutional agencies it should be administered and social and cultural practices through which this should occur The book disrupts popular myths about education in this part of the world including base suppositions about the other that Asian pedagogy is exclusively rote learning that educational systems and governments here are faced with classical developing country issues and that institutional and state formation in the region can be assessed on a North West or left right continuum The essays not only map and reframe issues of difference for those who work in education in the Asia Pacific but also illuminate critical issues of curriculum and policy for teachers students teacher educators and researchers worldwide      Feminism/Femininity in Chinese Literature , 2016-08-22 The present volume of Critical Studies is a collection of selected essays on the topic of feminism and femininity in Chinese literature Although feminism has been a hot topic in Chinese literary circles in recent years this remarkable collection represents one of the first of its kind to be published in English The essays have been written by well known scholars and feminists including Kang I Sun Chang of Yale University and Li Ziyun a writer and feminist in Shanghai China The essays are inter and multi disciplinary covering several historical periods in poetry and fiction from the Ming Qing periods to the twentieth century In particular the development of women s writing in the New Period post 1976 is examined in depth The articles thus offer the reader a composite and broad perspective of feminism and the treatment of the female in Chinese literature As this remarkable new collection attests the voices of women in China have begun calling out loudly in ways that challenge prevalent views about the Chinese female persona      Modern Chinese

Women Writers Michael S. Duke, 1989-11-22 The essays in this volume consider the state of current writing of the world's best Chinese women writers. Governing the Dead Linh D. Vu, 2021-08-15 In Governing the Dead, Linh D. Vu explains how the Chinese Nationalist regime consolidated control by honoring its millions of war dead, allowing China to emerge rapidly from the wreckage of the first half of the twentieth century to become a powerful state supported by strong nationalistic sentiment and institutional infrastructure. The fall of the empire, internecine conflicts, foreign invasion, and war-related disasters claimed twenty to thirty million Chinese lives. Vu draws on government records, newspapers, and petition letters from mourning families to analyze how the Nationalist regime's commemoration of the dead and compensation of the bereaved actually fortified its central authority. By enshrining the victims of violence as national ancestors, the Republic of China connected citizenship to the idea of the nation, promoting loyalty to the imagined community. The regime constructed China's first public military cemetery and hundreds of martyrs' shrines collectively mourned millions of fallen soldiers and civilians and disbursed millions of yuan to tens of thousands of widows and orphans. The regime thus exerted control over the living by creating the state apparatus necessary to manage the dead. Although the Communist forces prevailed in 1949, the Nationalists had already laid the foundation for the modern nation-state through their governance of dead citizens. The Nationalist policies of glorifying and compensating the loyal dead in an age of catastrophic destruction left an important legacy: violence came to be celebrated rather than lamented.
