Taiwan In A Transformed Global Setting:

Taiwan in a Transformed Global Setting, 1994 Taiwan in Transformation Chun-chieh Huang 黃春聲, 2014-08-01

The late twentieth century witnessed rapid changes not only in Taiwan's economy but also in its identity. Both economic as well as ideological restructuring have been basic elements in the transformation of postwar Taiwan as rapid democratization opened a Pandora's Box and stirred a whirlwind of social discord. This volume considers such important questions as whether the old Taiwanese work ethic is a relic of the past and whether Taiwan is likely to become a battleground of ideological wars. The book addresses Taiwanese nostalgia for Chinese culture, the rise and fall of postwar Taiwanese agrarian culture, the transformation of farmers' social consciousness in the period 1950-1970, the place of Confucianism in postwar Taiwan, and the awakening of the self and the development of a Taiwanese national identity in the post-World War II period. Finally, it considers whether mutual historical understanding may be the basis for Taiwan-Mainland relations in the twenty-first century. This second edition includes two new chapters on the history of Taiwan after World War II, incorporating additional developments in Taiwan in the past decade. Insights extrapolated from an understanding of history are essential for grasping and solving the basic problems Taiwan now faces, and above all, the conflicted relationship between Taiwan and Mainland China. The book's thematic undercurrent is the question of Taiwan and Mainland China: How do we deal with the tension between cultural China and political China?

Positioning Taiwan in a Global Context Bi-yu Chang, Pei-yin Lin, 2019-04-26 Positioning Taiwan in a Global Context examines modern Taiwanese culture through the prism of global cultural interactions. Challenging the view of Taiwan as a product of transience and displacement, it highlights Taiwan's subjectivity, viewing the island as a site of a global development that epitomizes both resistance and negotiation in the process of cultural flows. The fourteen contributions by an international team of scholars investigate the multi-layered and multidirectional interplays between the island and the outside world, exploring the impact of complex cultural encounters on the construction, writing, and rewriting of Taiwan in a global context. Taking an interdisciplinary approach, the topics covered range from Taiwanese literature, cinema, food culture, and tourism to cultural geography, colonial history, and folk religion, with comparisons made with Japan, China, Hong Kong, the Philippines, and the West. Focusing on continuous cross-cultural interplays, this book affords readers a deeper understanding of identity politics and a better insight into the fluidity, changeability, and constructionist nature of culture. As such, it will be of great interest to students and scholars of Taiwan Studies and Cultural Studies, as well as Asian film, literature, and popular culture.
