Take A Walk:

Taking a Walk with Whitehead Bruce G. Epperly, 2023-02-06 What do walking meditation prayer and process relational theology have to do with one another In the view of theologian Bruce Epperly much in every way This delightful devotional book draws from the experience of decades as a pastor but also from simply living the principles of process relational theology The first chapter title It Will Be Solved in the Walking sets the tone Epperly continues to look at some of the simple things of life and find in them opportunities to hear Divine wisdom and to see new opportunities and energies released in your life Religion without adventure is dead he says and then presents spiritual adventure after spiritual adventure Each chapter grew out of reading and meditating on a quotation from Alfred North Whitehead The reader is not only taking a walk with Whitehead but also with the author as he presents how this particular quotation impacted his life and his ministry This is a devotional book designed to draw the reader into an experience of spiritual and theological adventure It includes exercises that suggest how to grow from and beyond the meditations in the book It is suitable for individual or small group reading and study

The Epistemology of Desire and the Problem of Nihilism Allan Hazlett, 2024-07-12 Most people have wondered whether anything really matters some have temporarily thought that nothing really matters and some philosophers have defended the view that nothing really matters However if someone thinks that nothing matters if they are a nihilist about value then it seems that it is irrational for them to care about anything It seems that nihilism about value mandates total indifference This is the problem of nihilism Allan Hazlett addresses in The Epistemology of Desire and the Problem of Nihilism Hazlett argues that the problem of nihilism arises because desire and thus caring is a species of evaluation that admits of irrationality This contradicts the influential Humean view that desire does not admit of irrationality which has a ready solution to the problem of nihilism since desire does not admit of irrationality it cannot be irrational to care about something that you believe does not matter However following G E Anscombe Hazlett argues that desire has the same relationship to goodness as belief has to truth just as truth is the accuracy condition for belief goodness is the accuracy condition for desire This reveals desire as an appropriate target of epistemological inquiry in the same way that belief is an appropriate target of epistemological inquiry Desires can amount to knowledge in the same way that beliefs can amount to knowledge and crucially for the problem of nihilism desire admits of irrationality in the same way that belief admits of irrationality Nevertheless although it is obviously irrational to believe something that you believe is not true Hazlett argues that it is not irrational to desire something you believe is not good despite the fact that goodness is the accuracy condition for desire This provides a solution to the problem of nihilism and shows that nihilism about value can coherently be combined with the anti Humean view that desire is a species of evaluation

Walking With the Green Man Bob Curran, 2007-03-05 Almost since the dawn of time the image of the Green Man the carven enigmatic head surrounded by leaves and foliage has both intrigued and mystified viewers and folklorists alike Appearing in churches taverns and even on stately buildings the carving seems shrouded in supernatural obscurity Is it merely a fertility symbol or is it something much deeper which calls for a response from us all Though it seems a predominantly Celtic icon does the concept of the Green Man also appear in other places and in other cultures What is its relevance for the world today In an absorbing new book Dr Bob Curran traces the many strands that make up this enigmatic image Tracing its origins from prehistoric times he explores its significance in the medieval world and discusses its development in the modern world He also investigates the image's psychological appeal which has allowed it to continue down through the ages and pulling from a variety of sources its impact upon other cultures in various parts of the world From heroic archetypes such as Robin Hood to Demigods such as Herne the Hunter from the King of the Woods to the Jack in the Green Walking With the Green Man examines the interconnection of man and Nature throughout history Whether as a man amongst the trees a man of the trees or a symbol of Nature used to express secrets and solidarity the Green Man's visage is traced throughout lands and cultures Walking With the Green Man will appeal to all those who are interested in the image of the Green Man as an example of symbolic art as well as to those who are interested in folklore and the interplay between folklore and culture It is a fascinating study which not only examines the history of the icon but also its development within human perception

The Perspective of the Acting Person Martin Rhonheimer, 2008-02 The Perspective of the Acting Person introduces readers to one of the most important and provocative thinkers in contemporary moral philosophy In this collection of essays Martin Rhonheimer examines the central themes of natural law moral action and virtue emphasized by John Paul II's 1993 encyclical Veritatis Splendor Rhonheimer's work follows the general direction taken by the encyclical through an almost unprecedented rigor of philosophical argumentation and level of engagement with both European and American scholarship Rhonheimer argues extensively from the texts of Aquinas against aspects of more traditional interpretations of the Angelic Doctor He maintains that their deficiencies helped precipitate both the postconciliar crisis in moral theology and the rise of revisionist approaches He addresses not only the central topics of natural law and moral action but also the reasonableness of Christian morality the relation between nature and reason and that between metaphysics and ethics All are considered from the distinctively moral perspective of the agent Rhonheimer also responds to critics of both Veritatis Splendor and his own work and critiques works by revisionist moral theologians The collection focuses on Rhonheimer's fundamental ethical theory establishing the theoretical bases for his more applied works in areas such as sexual ethics political philosophy social ethics and medical ethics A detailed introduction by William F Murphy Jr sketches Rhonheimer's intellectual biography and the development of his thought and summarizes key content from the essays Finally a detailed bibliography of Rhonheimer's work is included which further enhances the volume's value to moral philosophers and theologians Martin Rhonheimer is professor of ethics and political philosophy at the Pontifical University of the Holy Cross in Rome His publications include a dozen books several of which have been translated into multiple languages

His Natural Law and Practical Reason was the first of his books to be made available in English William F Murphy Jr is associate professor of moral theology at the Pontifical College Josephinum and editor of the Josephinum Journal of Theology PRAISE FOR THE BOOK The recent rediscovery of the perspective of the acting person is one of the most decisive advances for moral theology which allows the resolution of many aporias of modern ethics We should be thankful to William Murphy for this collection Rhonheimer is a master and a necessary point of reference for rereading in this fresh and comprehensive perspective the Common Doctor of Catholic theology St Thomas Aquinas Msgr Livio Melina President and Professor of Moral Theology Pontifical John Paul II Institute for Studies on Marriage and Family Rome Murphy introduces Rhonheimer to Anglo American ethicists by way of judicious samples of his work astutely contextualized for ethicists of all persuasions The key to the work lies in articulating a virtue centered conception of morality from the first person perspective of the acting person who perceives goods to be pursued and acts freely through reason and will By reading Aristotle and Aquinas in critical engagement with prevailing ethical stances underlying conundrums of ethics classical and modern emerge into clearer light David B Burrell C S C Hesburgh Professor Emeritus of Philosophy and Theology University of Notre Dame Rhonheimer has taken his place as one of the more significant moralists writing in the post conciliar period His reasoning reflecting closely the rationale of the decisive paragraph 78 of Veritatis Splendor avoids weaknesses that characterize both the neo Thomistic manualists of the first half of the 20th century and more recent revisionists Murphy has done a great service A New Method of Learning to Read, Write, and Speak the German Language in 6 Months H G Ollendorff,1851
