s a Black Critic to Do II is of especial interest to black readers as well as teachers librarians and book clubs This companion to 2003 s What s a Black Critic to Do constitutes a candid conversation about race in an ostensibly post racial world

Radical Formalisms Sarah Nooter, Mario Telò, 2023-12-14 The term radical formalism refers to strategies aimed at defamiliarising and revitalising conventional modes of formalistic reading and theorising form These strategies disrupt and unsettle established norms while incorporating a metadiscursive awareness of their broader political implications This volume presents a radical reconceptualisation of literary works from Greek and Roman antiquity Engaging in an ongoing dialogue with critical theory and postcritique as well as drawing inspiration from traditions rooted in Black art poetry and philosophy both directly and indirectly connected to the classical tradition the essays in this collection explore subversions of canonical norms and resistances to the hegemony of textual order This collection not only provides new provocative insights into a corpus of texts that has exerted a lasting impact on modern literature and philosophy but also challenges current interpretive methods recasting the very practice of reading in relation to form poetics language sound temporalities and textuality Magical Realism and Cosmopolitanism K. Sasser,2014-09-02 Magical Realism and Cosmopolitanism details a variety of functionalities of the mode of magical realism focusing on its capacity to construct sociological representations of belonging This usage is traced closely in the novels of Ben Okri Salman Rushdie Cristina Garc a and Helen Oyeyemi

Madness in Black Women's Diasporic Fictions Caroline A. Brown, Johanna X. K. Garvey, 2017-11-04 This collection chronicles the strategic uses of madness in works by black women fiction writers from Africa the Caribbean Canada Europe and the United States Moving from an over reliance on the madwoman as a romanticized figure constructed in opposition to the status quo contributors to this volume examine how black women authors use madness trauma mental illness and psychopathology as a refraction of cultural contradictions psychosocial fissures and political tensions of the larger social systems in which their diverse literary works are set through a cultural studies approach The volume is constructed in three sections Revisiting the Archive Reinscribing Its Texts Slavery and Madness as Historical Contestation The Contradictions of Witnessing in Conflict Zones Trauma and Testimony and Novel Form Mythic Space Syncretic Rituals as Healing Balm The novels under review re envision the initial trauma of slavery and imperialism both acknowledging the impact of these events on diasporic populations and expanding the discourse beyond that framework Through madness and healing as sites of psychic return these novels become contemporary parables of cultural resistance Heroic Girls as Figures of Resistance and Futurity in Popular Culture Simon Bacon, 2024-04-09 Heroic Girls looks at the recent proliferation of young girl heroes in many recent mainstream films and books These contemporary final girls do not just survive but rather suggest that in doing so they have fundamentally changed something about themselves and or the world around them seeing them become the First Girls of this altered reality The collection brings together a wide range of perspectives and cultural viewpoints that describe many recent narratives that explore the idea of a Final Girl and her after story The essays are divided into four sections beginning with more theoretical approaches cross cultural examples the ways in which fictional narratives bear strong relation to real world circumstances examples that more strongly depict themes of resistance survival and individual agency and finally those that describe something more fundamental and transformative Films and television shows covered in the collection include The Girl with All the Gifts The Witcher The Hunger Games Star Wars The Fear Street and Pan's Labyrinth This book will be of interest to researchers and students of film studies gender studies and media studies

Twins and Recursion in Digital, Literary and Visual Cultures Edward King, 2022-04-07 The tale of twins being reunited after a long separation is a trope that has been endlessly repeated and reworked across different cultures and throughout history with each moment adapting the twin plot to address its current cultural tensions In this study Edward King demonstrates how twins are a means of exploring the social implications of hyper connectivity and the compromising relationship between humans and digital information their environment and their genetics As King demonstrates twins tell us about the changing forms of connectivity and power in contemporary culture and what new conceptions of the human they present us with Taking account of a broad range of literary cultural and scientific practices Entwined Being probes discussions surrounding twins such as The way in which they appear in behavioral genetics as a way of identifying inherited predispositions to social media How their faces interrupt biometric interfaces such as facial recognition software and undermine advances in neo liberal surveillance systems. How they represent the uncanny and the weird in the horror genre and how this questions ideologies of communications media and the connectivity it enables Their association with telepathy and cybernetics in science fiction Their construction as models for entangled being in ecological thought Drawing upon the literary and filmic works of Ken Follet Edgar Allan Poe H P Lovecraft Bruce Chatwin Shelley Jackson Brian de Palma Peter Greenway and David Cronenberg as well as science fiction literature and the television series Orphan Black King illuminates how twins are employed across a range of disciplines to envision a critical re conception of the human in times of digital Blackness in Britain Kehinde Andrews, Lisa Amanda Palmer, 2016-04-28 Black Studies is integration and ecological crisis a hugely important and yet undervalued academic field of enquiry that is marked by its disciplinary absence and omission from academic curricula in Britain There is a long and rich history of research on Blackness and Black populations in Britain However Blackness in Britain has too often been framed through the lens of racialised deficits constructed as both marginal and pathological Blackness in Britain attends to and grapples with the absence of Black Studies in Britain and the parallel crisis of Black marginality in British society It begins to map the field of Black Studies scholarship from a British context by collating new and established voices from scholars writing about Blackness in Britain Split into five parts it examines Black studies and the challenge of the Black British intellectual Revolution resistance and state violence Blackness and belonging exclusion and inequality in education experiences of Black women and the gendering of Blackness in Britain This interdisciplinary collection represents a landmark in building Black Studies in British academia presenting key debates about Black experiences in relation to Britain Black Europe and the wider Black diaspora With contributions from across various disciplines including sociology human geography medical sociology cultural studies education studies post colonial English literature history and criminology the book will be essential reading for scholars and students of the multi and inter disciplinary area of Black Studies ELLEgirl, 2005-06 ELLEgirl the international
