Elizabeth Swados Ariel Dorfman Craig Lucas Endurance Alfred Lansing, 2014-04-29 Describes how the ship of polar explorer Ernest Shackleton became immobilized by ice for 10 months on his 1914 expedition to Antarctica resulting in an 850 mile journey back to civilization with only a skeleton crew remaining 60 000 first printing A Steady Trade Tristan Jones, 1996 Tristan Jones's nostalgic memoir of his early years in Wales and on the arduous sail in trade of northern Europe glows warmly with many charming reminiscences of the lost Welsh countryside a corner of the world largely untouched by the 20th century where chantey singing sailors fought the weather to transport bricks coal and even animals around the world An incredibly vivid evocation of a legendary man's remarkable coming of age A Steady Trade captures the sights sounds and smells of the sea Cruising World , 1982-07 New York Magazine , 1981-09-14 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Medical Visions Kirsten Ostherr, 2013-03-11 Ostherr's ambitious book explores 120 years of medical image making to explain how visual representations came to play a central role in medical education and practice She demonstrates how medical images created by the healthcare industry documentary filmmakers experimental artists and the mass media acquire cultural meaning and influence shaping professional and popular understandings of health and disease Tales From Development Hell (New Updated Edition) David Hughes, 2012-02-28 A compulsively readable journey into the area of movie making where all writers directors and stars fear to tread Development Hell the place where scripts are written actors hired and sets designed but the movies rarely actually get made Whatever happened to Darren Aronofsky's Batman movie starring Clint Eastwood Why were there so many scripts written over the years for Steven Spielberg and George Lucas's fourth Indiana Jones movie Why was Lara Croft's journey to the big screen so tortuous and what prevented Paul Verhoeven from filming what he calls one of the greatest scripts ever written Why did Ridley Scott's Crisis in the Hot Zone collapse days away from filming and were the Beatles really set to star in Lord of the Rings What does Neil Gaiman think of the attempts to adapt his comic book series The Sandman All these lost projects and more are covered in this major book which features many exclusive interviews with the writers and directors involved Wild Science Janine Marchessault, Kim Sawchuk, 2013-10-18 Wild Science investigates the world wide boom in health culture While self help health books and medical dramas are popular around the globe we are bombarded with daily media images of DNA research and news reports about cloning the fight against AIDS cancer and depression With popular culture now the principal means through which the non scientific population encounters science why do certain images of science get promoted above others Contributors examine the public meanings of science revealing the frictions and contradictions within popular representations of what medicine can and should do Focusing on the visual culture of medicine they show how representations of science have a direct impact on popular perceptions of the limits of science and ultimately on health education funding and research and examine the belief that media literacy in popular representations of medicine makes an ethical public discourse on the aims of science possible With sections addressing the new visual technologies which make the human body into a virtual territory the diagnostic and medical practices centered around women's bodies and popular debates around genetics and identity Wild Science argues that science is a practice bound in values and institutions and argues for a responsible engagement with the public cultures of science and health

The Track of the Typhoon William Washburn Nutting, 2025-07-01 The thrilling true story of a small yacht's daring voyage across the Atlantic On a cold blustery late November day in 1920 a little black 45 foot yacht slowly beat her way through the Narrows against an ebbing tide and a raw nor wester and tied up at St George Staten Island To the casual observer there was nothing unusual about the event except possibly the lateness of the season but to the practiced eye there were signs that spelled something more than a post season run to the fishing banks Her storm trysail her tattered ensign her decks and rail scoured white the lifelines strung between her shrouds all were marks that told of a battle with strong winds and heavy seas She was the Typhoon thirty two days from the Azores and in her short career since her launching in July she had completed a cruise of seven thousand odd miles that had taken her across the North Atlantic and back again This is the story of the Typhoon from the time of her conception by William Nutting editor of Motor Boat magazine and his friend the legendary naval architect William Atkin to the finish of her cruise a year later a journey to prove that it was possible to cross a large ocean in what at the time was considered a very small vessel First published in 1921 The Track of the Typhoon is a classic tale of sailing across the Atlantic for the fun of the thing for the sport of picking one's way across great stretches of water by sextant and pitting one's wits against the raw honest forces of nature It is a story that further cements what Slocum Voss Blackburn and Day knew that the size of a boat has little to do with its seaworthiness Most of all Typhoon will inspire a confidence in the possibilities of the small yacht and instill in readers a desire to explore the sea in their own small craft
