On May 14 15 1905 in the Tsushima Straits near Japan an entire Russian fleet was annihilated its ships sunk scattered or captured by the Japanese In the deciding battle of the Russo Japanese War the Japanese lost only three destroyers but the Russians lost twenty two ships and thousands of sailors It was the first modern naval battle employing all the new technology of destruction The old imperial navy was woefully unprepared The defeat at Tsushima was the last and greatest of many indignities suffered by the Russian fleet which had traveled halfway around the world to reach the battle dogged every mile by bad luck and misadventure Their legendary admiral dubbed Mad Dog led them on an extraordinary eighteen thousand mile journey from the Baltic Sea around Europe Africa and Asia to the Sea of Japan They were burdened by the Tsar's incompetent leadership and the old slow ships that he insisted be included to bulk up the fleet Moreover they were under constant fear of attack and there were no friendly ports to supply coal food and fresh water The level of self sufficiency attained by this navy was not seen again until the Second World War The battle of Tsushima is among the top five naval battles in history equal in scope and drama to those of Lepanto Trafalgar Jutland and Midway yet despite its importance it has been long neglected in the West With a novelist's eye and a historian's authority Constantine Pleshakov tells of the Russian squadron's long difficult journey and fast horrible defeat
