The Making Of A European:

The Making of the European Age John M. Roberts, 1998      Making European Space Ole Brandt Jensen, Tim Richardson, 2004 Making European Space crystallises and critically examines the key policy ideas emerging in the new field of European spatial planning and explores the arguments surrounding policy themes such as polycentric development sustainability      The Politicization of Europe Paul Statham, Hans-Jörg Trenz, 2012 This book examines how mass media debates have contributed to the politicization of the European Union The public controversies over the EU's attempted Constitution making and its failure sowed the seeds for a process of politicization that has advanced ever since an increasing visibility for the EU in mass mediated public debates that is combined with a growing public contestation over Europe within national politics The book presents an original systematic study of the emerging field of political discourse carried by the mass media in France Germany and Britain to examine the performance of Europe's public sphere Whilst the EU's increasing politicization can be seen as beneficial to European democracy potentially normalizing the EU level within national politics the same developments can also be a threat to democracy leading to populist and xenophobic responses and a decline in political trust Such discussions are key to understanding the EU's legitimacy and how its democratic politics can work in an era of mediated politics The Politicization of Europe will be of interest to students and scholars of comparative politics media studies communication sociology and European studies      Making European Masculinities J. Democratising the EU from Below? Dr Alexander Gattig, Dr Tatjana Evas, Dr Ulrike Liebert, 2013-08-28 For the European Union of the 21st century the search for sustainable prosperity and stability includes the challenge of reconciling democratic ideals and practices with the construction of a European constitutional order From the 2001 Laeken Summit to the 2009 Lisbon Treaty and beyond EU leaders have repeatedly set out to bring citizens closer to EU governance by making it more democratic and effective yet several national ratification referendums have shown that publics are divided about whether and why to endorse or veto complex EU reform packages imposed from the top down Despite these limitations people do effectively engage in the making of a European polity By initiating national court proceedings active citizens are promoting fundamental European rights in Member States practices As party members they contribute to shaping mass media communication about and national publics understanding of European political alternatives As civil society activists citizens help build social networks for contesting certain EU reforms or advocating others Last but not least as voters in national and European elections they choose between competing party visions and national parliamentary stances regarding the role of democratic citizenship This original contribution to the debate about democratic citizenship vis vis the challenges of economic globalization and European political integration presents critical explorations of different fields of direct representative participatory and deliberative democratic citizenship practices that affect the transformation of Europe

The Unnoticed Effects of EU Accession Vesela Kovacheva, 2021-03-08 This study provides empirical evidence on the considerable but often unnoticed impact of EU accession on the mobility and integration of migrants from Bulgaria in Germany Original data from a time location sampling survey in Hamburg reveal that free movement not only induced a high level of mobility among EU citizens from Bulgaria after 2007 but also enabled their more permanent settlement in Germany The study also provides statistical evidence that EU citizenship contributed to better legal integration of Bulgarian migrants in Germany but national policies shaped to a greater extent their integration in terms of participation in the core areas of life Restrictive policies such as transitional periods in the freedom of work hampered labour market integration and created more disadvantaged positions for workers Inclusive policies such as the dual citizenship policy facilitated the naturalisation of settled migrants and led to exceptionally high naturalisation rates for Bulgarians that point to their successful integration in society However integration successes remain almost unnoticed in public discourse which is dominated by the image of Bulgarian migration as a challenge
