The Making Of Alien Resurrection:

Making of Alien Resurrection Andrew Murdock, 1997-11-28 Alien Resurrection marks the fourth installment in the Alien science fiction film series. The story takes us into deep space where the USS Auriga is the venue for clandestine scientific experiments in the name of medical advancement. The arrival of the Betty, a rock n roll spacecraft with a cargo of live hosts and a volatile crew, plants the seeds for confirmation and conflict. Sigourney Weaver returns as the genetically corrupted Lieutenant Ripley and is joined by Winona Ryder as the auton robot Call and an eclectic crew of renegade space pirates in a quest to find meaning in a world that seeks to tamper with the lethal and mysterious alien life form. Director Jean Pierre Jeunet, who generated the abstract and visually arresting films Delicatessen and The City of Lost Children, takes creative license to establish another uniquely stylized futuristic vision. The Making of Alien Resurrection is a celebration of the creative process involved in the completion of a major feature film. Join the director, cinematographer, designers, editors, visual effects consultants, special effects technicians, artists, sculptors, and a myriad of other talented people in a collaborative journey to fabricate an idiosyncratic perception of the future. Alien Woman Ximena Gallardo C., Jason Smith, 2004-05-21 This text examines the construction of sex and gender in the four science fiction films comprising the Alien saga starring Sigourney Weaver. It will be useful to researchers and teachers in film, mass communication, women's studies, gender studies, and genre studies. Focus On: 100 Most Popular 1990s Science Fiction Films Wikipedia contributors, Horror in Space Michele Brittany, 2017-11-21 In sharp contrast to many 1960s science fiction films with idealized views of space exploration, Ridley Scott's Alien (1979) terrified audiences depicting a harrowing and doomed deep space mission. The Alien films launched a new generation of horror set in the great unknown, inspiring filmmakers to take Earth-bound franchises like Leprechaun and Friday the 13th into space. This collection of new essays examines the space horror subgenre with a focus on such films as Paul W. S. Anderson's Event Horizon, Duncan Jones' Moon, Mario Bava's Planet of the Vampires, and John Carpenter's Ghosts of Mars. Contributors discuss how filmmakers explored the concepts of the final girl survivor, the uncanny valley, the isolationism of space travel, religion, and supernatural phenomena. Hollywood Online Ian London, 2024-03-07 Hollywood Online provides a historical account of motion picture websites from 1993 to 2008 and their marketing function as industrial advertisements for video and other media in the digital age. The Blair Witch Project is the most important example of online film promotion in cinema history. Over the last thirty years, only a small number of major and independent distributors have converted internet-created buzz into box office revenues with similar levels of success. Yet readings of how the film's internet campaign broke new ground in the summer of 1999 tend to minimize or overlook the significance of other online film promotions. Similarly, claims that Blair initiated a cycle of imitators have been repeated in film publications and academic studies for more than two decades. This book challenges three major narratives in studies about online film marketing: Hollywood's major studios and independents had no significant relationship to the internet in the 1990s; online film promotions only took off after 1999 because of Blair and Hollywood cashed in by initiating a cycle of imitators and scaling up corporate activities online Hollywood Online tests these assumptions by exploring internet marketing up to and including the film's success online Pre Blair 1993-9 then by examining the period immediately after Blair Post Blair 2000-8 which broadly coincides with the rise and decline of DVD as well as the emergence of the social media sites MySpace Facebook and Twitter
