The Ideal Home Through The 20th Century:

Model Britain David Lund, 2024-10-22 Throughout the twentieth century architectural models served as the miniature playgrounds in which the future of Britain's built environment was imagined and in drawing from the evidence provided by those models today this book considers how architects planners and civil engineers thought about that future by presenting a history of yesterday's dreams of tomorrow told through architectural models Focused not on the making of architectural models but rather the optimistic and utopian visions they were made to communicate this book examines the possible futures put forward by 120 models made by Thorp the oldest and most prolific firm of architectural modelmakers in Britain in order to reveal a century of evolving ideas about how we might live work relax and move From depictions of unbuilt city masterplans to those of seemingly ordinary shopping centres and motorways the models featured trace a progression of the architectural social political technological and economic influences that shaped the design of Britain's buildings transport infrastructure and its towns and cities during a century of relentless change Illustrated with over 130 photographs this book will appeal to academics and historians as well as anyone with an interest in architectural models and the history of Britain's twentieth century built environment

Exhibition as Interior, Interior as Exhibition Penny Sparke, Jana Scholze, Pat Kirkham, Ersi Ioannidou, Fiona Fisher, Patricia Lara-Betancourt, 2025-09-04 Exhibition design has long been studied in the fields of art design and architecture but the focus has been on the design of the exhibition narrative rather than the design as interior space This book breaks new ground exploring the complex relationships which exist between exhibitions museums and galleries and interior design Taking a case study driven approach chapters explore a wealth of spaces looking at contemporary art galleries and globally renowned museums and also subverted spaces like squatted homes high rises distilleries and laboratories Their geographic coverage ranges from socialist Eastern Europe to the US stopping via many other countries such as Germany Croatia Australia and the UK These case studies rethink how exhibitions interact with their spatial surroundings with key themes including the role of labour in creating these spaces the dualism of public and private space the impact of exhibition audiences and reception the political implications of exhibitions and the influence of institutions With an interdisciplinary range of contributors and combining a historical and contemporary outlook this is a must read for anyone designing or curating design driven museum spaces

Art Beyond the Gallery in Early 20th Century England Richard Cork, Richard Graham Cork, 1985-01-01 In the early decades of the twentieth century British art was enlivened by a wide variety of imaginative attempts to take painting and sculpture outside the boundaries of the gallery Some of the works were commissioned by architects as integral parts of new buildings

Ideal Homes? Tony Chapman, Jenny Hockey, 2002-09-11 Ideal Homes shows how both popular images and experiences of home life relate to the ability of society's members to produce and respond to social change The book provides for the first time an analysis of the space of the home and the experiences of home life by writers from a wide range of disciplines including sociology architecture geography and anthropology It covers a range of subjects including gender roles different generations relationships to home the changing nature of the family transition and risk and alternative visions of home Histories of Everyday Life Laura

Carter,2021-07-22 Histories of Everyday Life is a study of the production and consumption of popular social history in mid twentieth century Britain It explores how non academic historians many of them women developed a new breed of social history after the First World War identified as the history of everyday life The history of everyday life was a pedagogical construct based on the perceived educational needs of the new mass democracy that emerged after 1918 It was popularized to ordinary people in educational settings through books in classrooms and museums and on BBC radio After tracing its development and dissemination between the 1920s and the 1960s this book argues that history of everyday life declined in the 1970s not because academics invented an alternative new social history but because bottom up social change rendered this form of popular social history untenable in the changing context of mass education Histories of Everyday Life ultimately uses the subject of history to demonstrate how profoundly the advent of mass education shaped popular culture in Britain after 1918 arguing that we should see the twentieth century as Britain s educational century Women and the Making of

Built Space in England, 1870-1950 Elizabeth Darling,Lesley Whitworth,2007-01-01 This interdisciplinary collection explores the relationships between women and built space in England between the 1870s and the 1940s Included are East End rent collectors tenants diarists and correspondents committee and Guild members provincial and metropolitan exhibitors social reformers activists and homemakers Taken together these essays dramatically expand our conception of the scope and effectiveness of women s contributions both to the creation of modern built environments and to the development of discourses associated with them Double Lives Helen McCarthy,2021-06-10 SHORTLISTED FOR THE WOLFSON

HISTORY PRIZE 2021 Shortlisted for the PEN Hessel Tiltman Prize 2021 Longlisted for the HWA Non Fiction Crown 2021 Fabulous The Times A milestone in women s history Observer Groundbreaking a fascinating read Herald In Britain today three quarters of mothers are in employment and paid work is an unremarkable feature of women s lives after childbirth Yet a century ago working mothers were in the minority excluded altogether from many occupations whilst their wage earning was widely perceived as a social ill In Double Lives Helen McCarthy accounts for this remarkable transformation and the momentous consequences it has had for Britain Recovering the everyday worlds of working mothers this groundbreaking history forces us not only to re evaluate the past but to ask anew how current attitudes towards mothers in the workplace have developed and how far we have to go Impressive and nuanced Guardian Brilliant Literary Review An Introduction to Design and Culture Penny Sparke,2013 This third edition of An Introduction to Design and Culture has been revised and updated throughout to include issues of globalization sustainability and digital interactive design New for this edition is a chapter which covers key changes in design culture Design culture has changed dramatically in the 21st century the designer hero is now much less in evidence and design has become much more interdisciplinary Drawing on a wealth of mass produced artefacts images and environments including sewing machines cars televisions clothes electronic and branded goods and exhibitions author Penny Sparke shows how design has helped to shape and reflect our social and cultural development This introduction to the development of modern and postmodern design is ideal for undergraduate students

Cultural Ideals of Home Deborah Chambers, 2020-03-18 Spanning the nineteenth to twenty first centuries this book investigates how home is imagined staged and experienced in western culture Questions about meanings of home and domestic culture are triggered by dramatic changes in values and ideals about the dwellings we live in and the dwellings we desire or dread Deborah Chambers explores how home is idealised as a middle class haven managed as an investment and signified as a status symbol and expression of personal identity She addresses a range of public state commercial popular and expert discourses about home the heritage industry design exhibitions television social media home mobilities and migration smart technologies and ecological sustainability Drawing on cross disciplinary research including cultural history and cultural geography the book offers a distinctive media and cultural studies approach supported by original historically informed case studies on interior and domestic design exhibitions of model homes TV home interiors media home imaginaries multiscreen homes corporate visions of homes of tomorrow and digital smart homes A comprehensive and engaging study this book is ideal for students and researchers of cultural studies cultural history media and communication studies as well as sociology gender studies cultural geography and design studies

Spectacular Television Helen Wheatley, 2016-06-20 In terms of visual impact television has often been regarded as inferior to cinema It has been characterised as sound led and consumed by a distracted audience Today it is tempting to see the rise of HD television as ushering in a new era of spectacular television Yet since its earliest days the medium has been epitomised by spectacle and offered its viewers diverse forms of visual pleasure Looking at the early promotion of television and the launch of colour broadcasting Spectacular Television traces a history of television as spectacular attraction from its launch to the contemporary age of surround sound digital effects and HD screens In focusing on the spectacle of nature landscape and even our own bodies on television via explorations of popular television dramas documentary series and factual entertainment and ambitious natural history television Helen Wheatley answers the questions what is televisual pleasure and how has television defined its own brand of spectacular aesthetics

Form Follows Fun Bruce Peter, 2013-05-13 Authoritative and readable this excellent text illustrated by a unique pictorial record of period architecture surveys and examines how and why the architecture of pleasure related to the stylistic and ideological concerns of modernism in 1930s Britain Responding to the current interest in modernism and packed with a substantial archive of high quality photographs and other documentation it relates the professional entrepreneurial and institutional infrastructures affecting the pleasure industry s architectural development and appearance in 1930s A broad range of building through which the general public first experienced Modernism are covered including commercial holiday camps cinemas and greyhound racing stadia municipal and governmental projects zoos seaside

pavilions concert halls and imperial and international exhibitions Arguing that the responses to modernism through the architecture of pleasure were conditioned by wider debates about the role of design in relation to high and mass culture this book is an ideal resource for all those interested in architectural history and design in Britain between the wars

Conflicted Identities Alexandra Staub, 2015-10-23 Nation states have long used representational architecture to create symbolic identities for public consumption both at home and abroad Government buildings major ensembles and urban plans have a visibility that lends them authority while their repeated portrayals in the media cement their image as icons of a shared national character Existing in tandem with this official self however is a second often divergent identity represented by the vast realm of domestic space defined largely by those who occupy it as well as those with a vested interest in its cultural meaning Using both historical inquiry and visual spatial and film analysis this book explores the interaction of these two identities and its effect on political control class status and gender roles Conflicted Identities examines the politicization of both public and domestic space especially in societies undergoing rapid cultural transformation through political social or economic expansion or restructuring when cultural identity is being rapidly modernized shifted or realigned to conform to new demands Using specific examples from a variety of national contexts the book examines how vernacular housing legislation marketing and media influence a large but often underexposed domestic culture that runs parallel to a more publicly represented one As a case in point the book examines West Germany from the end of World War II to the early 1970s to probe more deeply into the mechanisms of such cultural dichotomy On a national level post war West Germany demonstratively rejected Nazi era values by rebuilding cities based on interwar modernist tenets while choosing a decidedly modern and transparent architecture for high visibility national projects In the domestic realm government media and everyday citizens countered this turn to state sponsored modernism by embracing traditional architectural aesthetics and housing that encouraged patriarchal family structures Written for readers interested in cultural theory history and the politics of space as well as those engaged with architecture and the built environment Conflicted Identities provides an engaging new perspective on power and identity as they relate to architectural settings

Making Sense of Suburbia Through Popular Culture Rupa Huq, 2013-08-15 This book explores how notions of suburbia have developed in our collective imagination examining novels cinema popular music and television in the US and UK

Buying for the Home Margaret Ponsonby, 2017-03-02 Buying for the Home is a book about the experiences and also the polarities of shopping and the home It analyses the ways in which the agencies and discourses of the retail environment mesh with the processes of physical and imaginative re creation that constitute the domestic space teasing out the negotiations and interactions that mediate this key arena The study examines how the strategies of retailers were both arbitrated by and negotiated through the actions and desires of the homemaker as consumer Drawing on the recent CHORD Centre for the History of Retail and Distribution colloquium on shopping and the domestic environment and including two specially commissioned pieces the book draws on a wide selection of interdisciplinary work from established scholars and new researchers Organised around four key themes retail arenas and the everyday identity and lifestyle fashioning domestic space and cultural practice the ten case studies cover a range of cultural encounters and locations from the seventeenth to the late twentieth century Through these interdisciplinary but linked case studies Buying for the Home forces us to consider the fractured space that existed between the world of goods and the middle and working class home and in so doing interrogate how middle class and plebeian homemakers view imagine and ultimately occupy their domestic spaces in early modern modern and post modern society

Alison and Peter Smithson Alison Smithson, Peter Smithson, Beatriz Colomina, Design Museum (London, England), 2004 Striving to adapt the progressive ideas of the pre war modern movement to the specific human needs of post war reconstruction Alison and Peter Smithson were among the most influential and controversial architects of the latter half of the twentieth century As younger members of CIAM Congr s Internationaux d Architecture Moderne and as founding members of Team 10 they were at the heart of the debate on the future course of Modern Architecture Their polemics and designs addressing issues such as the rising consumer society and the orientation of urban planning laid the foundations for New Brutalism and the Pop Art Movement of the 1960s An important adaptation made by the Smithsons and their generation was the rejection of modernism s machine aesthetics The new notions of place and territory were juxtaposed to Le Corbusier s machine habiter To the Smithsons a house was a particular place which should be suited to its location and able to meet the ordinary requirements of everyday life and to accommodate its inhabitants individual patterns of use This exhibition examines the evolution of the Smithsons approach to this everyday art of inhabitation It does this by extensively documenting most of their designs for individual dwellings especially their optimistic House of the Future of 1956 and the series of renovations of and additions to the fairy tale like Hexenhaus in Germany from the late 1980s onward

Ideal homes Deborah Sugg Ryan, 2020-04-01 Ideal homes investigates the tastes and aspirations of the suburban communities that emerged in Britain after the First World War It explores how new class and gender identities were forged through the architecture and decoration of the home This edition includes a chapter on researching the history of your own house

Designing the British Post-War Home Fiona Fisher, 2015-04-10 In Designing the British Post War Home Fiona Fisher explores the development of modern domestic architecture in Britain through a detailed study of the work of the successful Surrey based architectural practice of Kenneth Wood Wood s firm is representative of a geographically distinct category of post war architectural and design practice that of the small private practice that flourished in Britain s expanding suburbs after the removal of wartime building restrictions Such firms which played an important role in the development of British domestic design are currently under represented within architectural histories of the period The private house represents an important site in which new spatial material and aesthetic parameters for modern living were defined after the Second World War Within a British context the architect designed private house remained an important vehicle for the investigation of architectural ideas by second generation modernist architects and designers Through a series of case study houses designed by Wood s firm the book reconsiders the progress of modern domestic architecture in Britain and demonstrates the ways in which architectural discourse and practice intersected with the experience performance and representation of domestic modernity in post war Britain

Sustainable Urban Neighbourhood David Rudlin,Nicholas Falk,2010-05-14 This successful title previously known as Building the 21st Century Home and now in its second edition explores and explains the trends and issues that underlie the renaissance of UK towns and cities and describes the sustainable urban neighbourhood as a model for rebuilding urban areas The book reviews the way that planning policies architectural trends and economic forces have undermined the viability of urban areas in Britain since the Industrial Revolution Now that much post war planning philosophy is being discredited we are left with few urban models other than garden city inspired suburbia Are these appropriate in the 21st century given environmental concerns demographic change social and economic pressures The authors suggest that these trends point to a very different urban future The authors argue that we must reform our towns and cities so that they become attractive humane places where people will choose to live The Sustainable Urban Neighbourhood is a model for such reform and the book describes what this would look like and how it might be brought about
