The Ten Toe Express: A Daily Journal of a 5,000 Mile Hike Matt Gregory, 2021-07-19 This is the daily journal of Matt Gregory's 5,000 mile hike from Bellingham, Washington to Key West, Florida. He left Bellingham on September 1st, 2006. Author's Note: This book is the unedited journal I kept on the hike. Sometimes I went days without seeing a computer and wrote them in a notebook. Once I finally saw a computer, it was usually a mad dash to update each journal entry in a fixed amount of time at libraries, internet cafes, and people's houses. I made one pass fixing a few spelling errors but decided to keep everything else as is. To me, it keeps the essence of the journal alive. Most journal entries were written in a hurry while I was tired and pressed for time. Thank you for taking the time out to give this a read. I will finish the memoir soon. Unveiled Paula Slane, 2008-02 Anne Tucker is a fifty-five year old educator turned writer who lives in Turner Falls, Maine. When Crown Press selects her novel for publication, she develops a rich, intense relationship with her editor, Emily Ryder. Father Dennis McManus frequently finds himself at odds with his superiors due to his strong views on abortion and gay rights. After he and Sister Carol Robinson hold a rally supporting same-sex marriage, their bishop pressures them to abandon their beliefs or leave the Church. The lives of these characters intersect when a priest confesses to Dennis that he has molested a young boy. Dennis refuses to hold his disclosure in confidence, and all hell breaks loose in the diocese and beyond. As Anne, Emily, Dennis, and Carol search for the identity of the abused child, the middle-aged detectives must confront the minefield of their beliefs and their feelings. Unveiled is a story of struggle, advocacy, courage, and most of all, the healing power of love. Through the Door Half Open Beverly Miller, 2006-11-16 Beverly Miller's adventures with the family wheat harvest and summer vacations in the Rockies inspired her most recent novel, Through the Door Half Open, the story of two families whose lives become entangled one hot summer and are changed forever. The Anna Quilt Donna Bender Hood, 2015-03-16 When Gus Compton dies, he leaves behind an unbreakable trust regarding the old Compton house, the surrounding land, and the beautiful lake. The Anna quilt has hung in the house for so many years that no one remembers Anna or when the quilt first arrived. Besides, it is old, poorly stitched, and really rather ugly. The death of Gus Compton and the reading of his unusual trust brings out assorted family members, both bad and good. And as Gus's good friend Reese Trainor said, Gus probably laughed all the way through the Pearly Gates. Roadside Attractions Brian Butko, Sarah Butko, 2007-07-03 Hit the open road for fun and wackiness as the Butkos visit offbeat attractions from coast to Murder with Chocolate Tea Karen Rose Smith, 2023-11-28. Daisy Swanson, bride to be and owner of Daisy's Tea Garden in Pennsylvania's Amish country, may have one or two more murders to solve before she says I do. Daisy has a lot to celebrate this summer. She's supervising a special tea event to help commemorate the 100-year anniversary of her town's historic covered bridge. But the main event is her upcoming wedding to her beloved fiancé, Jonas. Somehow Willow Creek's busiest brewer of specialty teas and amateur sleuth still finds time to be a guest on local journalist Trevor Lundquist's crime podcast to discuss the last murder she solved. After the podcast, Trevor receives an anonymous tip from a caller who claims a travel chest that's about to be auctioned holds a clue to a twenty-year-old unsolved murder. Is it a hoax or a genuine lead? When a body turns up in Willow Creek, Trevor suspects a connection between this current homicide and the cold case. Has the murderer killed again to cover their tracks? Now Daisy has another mystery steeping, and Trevor may just have his next podcast. Includes delicious recipes.

Calumet Beginnings Kenneth J. Schoon, 2003. The landscape of the Calumet, an area that sits astride the Indiana-Illinois state line at the southern end of Lake Michigan, was shaped by the glaciers that withdrew toward the end of the last ice age about 45,000 years ago. In the years since, many natural forces, including wind, running water, and the waves of Lake Michigan, have continued to shape the land. The lake's modern and ancient shorelines have served as Indian trails, stagecoach routes, highways, and sites that have evolved into many of the cities, towns, and villages of the Calumet area. People have also left their mark on the landscape Indians built mounds farmers filled in wetlands governments commissioned ditches and canals to drain marshes and change the direction of rivers sand was hauled from where it was plentiful to where it was needed for urban and industrial growth These thousands of years of weather and movements of peoples have given the Calumet region its distinct climate and appeal
