The Making Of The Royal Pavilion Brighton Designs And Drawings:

The Making of the Royal Pavilion John Morley, 2003-12-05 The Royal Pavilion Brighton is one of the most famous and opulent royal extravaganzas in existence This book reproduces all the important surviving designs used and unused for the exterior and interior of the Pavilion It reveals the great variety of brilliant exotic schemes devised for its construction and decoration It was first built in 1787 for the Prince of Wales as a neo classical marine villa and by the time the Prince became king in 1820 it had grown into the extraordinary Indian Chinese Fantasy it is today The projects for the exterior include the pretty but chaste designs of Henry Holland and the wilder Indian and Chinese fantasies of William Porden and Humphry Repton The interior designs executed mainly by the Crace firm of decorators and Robert Jones all firmly controlled by the king are always splendid and often astonishing they include schemes for whole rooms as well as for individual details such as windows skylights doorways carpets and curtains The range includes the barbaric chinoiserie of the 1802 04 period the enchanting rococo chinoiserie of 1815 17 and the opulent richness of the final scheme The techniques used include illusionistic painting marbling faux graining faux skies often in a vein of high fantasy The 308 illustrations of which 111 are reproduced in colour capture all the variety magnificence and exotic luxury of the extraordinary building The Making of the Royal Pavilion, Brighton John Morley, 1984 The Making of the Royal Pavilion, Brighton John Morley, 1984

Architecture in Britain, 1530 to 1830 John Summerson, John Newenham Summerson, Sir, 1993-01-01 The author charts the development of architectural theory and practice from Elizabeth I to George IV Questions of style technology and the social framework are resolved as separable but always essential components of the building worlds Encyclopedia of Interior Design Joanna Banham, 1997-05 First published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company Qing Encounters Petra ten-Doesschate Chu, Ning Ding, 2015-10-01 Qing Encounters Artistic Exchanges between China and the West examines how the contact between China and Europe in the eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries transformed the arts on both sides of the East West divide The essays in the volume reveal the extent to which images artifacts and natural specimens were traded and copied and how these materials inflected both cultures visions of novelty and pleasure battle and power and ways of seeing and representing Artists and craftspeople on both continents borrowed and adapted forms techniques and modes of representation producing deliberate meaningful and complex new creations By considering this reciprocity from both Eastern and Western perspectives Qing Encounters offers a new and nuanced understanding of this critical period The Tastemakers Diana Davis, 2020-07-07 An examination of the development role and influence of the British decorative art dealers who invented an Anglo Gallic style for elite interiors In this volume Diana Davis demonstrates how London dealers invented a new and visually splendid decorative style that combined the contrasting tastes of two nations Departing from the conventional narrative that depicts dealers as purveyors of antiquarianism Davis repositions them as innovators who were key to transforming old art objects from ancien r gime France into cherished antiques and equally as creators of new and modified French inspired furniture bronze work and porcelain The resulting old new and reconfigured objects merged aristocratic French eighteenth century taste with nineteenth century British preference and they were prized by collectors who displayed them side by side in palatial interiors of the period The Tastemakers analyzes dealer made furnishings from the nineteenth century patron's perspective and in the context of the interiors for which they were created contending that early dealers deliberately formulated a new aesthetic with its own objects language and value Davis examines a wide variety of documents to piece together the shadowy world of these dealers who emerge center stage as traders makers and tastemakers India in Art in Ireland Kathleen

James-Chakraborty, 2017-07-05 India in Art in Ireland is the first book to address how the relationship between these two ends of the British Empire played out in the visual arts It demonstrates that Irish ambivalence about British imperialism in India complicates the assumption that colonialism precluded identifying with an exotic other Examining a wide range of media including manuscript illuminations paintings prints architecture stained glass and photography its authors demonstrate the complex nature of empire in India compare these empires to British imperialism in Ireland and explore the contemporary relationship between what are now two independent countries through a consideration of works of art in Irish collections supplemented by a consideration of Irish architecture and of contemporary Irish visual culture The collection features essays on Rajput and Mughal miniatures on a portrait of an Indian woman by the Irish painter Thomas Hickey on the gate lodge to the Dromana estate in County Waterford and a consideration of the intellectual context of Harry Clarke's Eve of St Agnes window This book should appeal not only to those seeking to learn more about some of Ireland's most cherished works of art but to all those curious about the complex interplay between empire anti colonialism and the visual arts

Asian Empire and British Knowledge U. Hillemann, 2009-10-15 British knowledge about China changed fundamentally in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Rather than treating these changes in British understanding as if Anglo Sino relations were purely bilateral this study looks at how British imperial networks in India and Southeast Asia were critical mediators in the British encounter of China Architecture Henry-Russell Hitchcock, 1987-01-01 This book examines a period which is far more than a prelude to the age of steel and concrete The first half century culminated in the bold iron and glass of the Crystal Palace There follows the creation of the modern styles of the era based on traditions of the past and finally in the 20th century Art Nouveau and the modern architects in their generations Perret Wright Gropius Corbusier Mies van der Rohe and others in many parts of the world Hidden Patrons Amy Boyington, 2023-11-02 An enduring myth of Georgian architecture is that it was purely the pursuit of male architects and their wealthy male patrons History states that it was men who owned grand estates and houses who commissioned famous architects and who embarked upon elaborate architectural schemes Hidden Patrons dismantles this myth revealing instead that women were at the heart of the architectural patronage of the day exerting far more influence and agency than has previously been recognised Architectural drawing and design discourse and patronage were interests shared by many women in the eighteenth century Far from being the preserve of elite men architecture was a passion shared by both sexes intellectually and practically as long as they possessed sufficient wealth and autonomy In an accessible readable account Hidden Patrons uncovers the role of women as important patrons and designers of architecture and interiors in eighteenth century Britain and Ireland Exploring country houses Georgian townhouses villas estates and gardens it analyses female patronage from across the architectural spectrum and examines the work of a range of pioneering women from grand duchesses to businesswomen to lowly courtesans Re-examining well known Georgian masterpieces alongside lesser known architectural gems Hidden Patrons unearths unseen archival material to provide a fascinating new view of the role of women in the architecture of the Georgian era

Travel and the British country house Jon Stobart, 2017-11-06 Travel and the British country house explores the ways in which travel by owners visitors and material objects shaped country houses during the long eighteenth century It provides a richer and more nuanced understanding of this relationship and how it varied according to the identity of the traveller and the geography of their journeys The essays explore how travel on the Grand Tour and further afield formed an inspiration to build or remodel houses and gardens the importance of country house visiting in shaping taste amongst British and European elites and the practical aspects of travel including the expenditure involved Suitable for a scholarly audience including postgraduate and undergraduate students but also accessible to the general reader Travel and the British country house offers a series of fascinating studies of the country house that serve to animate the country house with flows of people goods and ideas

The Lure of the Beach Robert C. Ritchie, 2021-05-11 A human and global take on a beloved vacation spot The crash of surf smell of salted air wet whorls of sand underfoot These are the sensations of the beach that environment that has drawn humans to its life sustaining shores for millennia And while the gull's cry and the cove's splendor have remained constant throughout time our relationship with the beach has been as fluid as the runnels left behind by the tide's turning The Lure of the Beach is a chronicle of humanity's history with the coast taking us from the seaside pleasure palaces of Roman elites and the aquatic rituals of medieval pilgrims to the venues of modern resort towns and beyond Robert C Ritchie traces the contours of the material and social economies of the beach throughout time covering changes in the social status of beach goers the technology of transport and the development of fashion from nudity to Victorianism and back again as well as the geographic spread of modern beach going from England to France across the Mediterranean and from nineteenth century America to the world And as climate change and rising sea levels erode the familiar faces of our coasts we are poised for a contemporary reckoning with our relationship and responsibilities to our beaches and their ecosystems The Lure of the Beach demonstrates that whether as a commodified pastoral destination a site of ecological resplendency or a flashpoint between private ownership and public access the history of the beach is a human one that deserves to be told now more than ever before From Stone to Paper
