Lutheran Woman's Work, 1929

The Woman at the Well Janeth Norfleete Day, 2021-10-11 The theme of the book is that by integrating traditional historical methods of interpretation with more recent literary and sociological methods it is possible to propose an alternative understanding of the character and role of the Samaritan woman in John 4 The contents include a survey of the interpretive tradition concerning the Samaritan woman in the church's exegesis in artistic renderings and in literary compositions from the Patristic Period until the Modern Era The book concludes with the author's alternative interpretation which proposes a pious Samaritan woman vs the traditional immoral one This book is useful as a model for a synthetic approach to biblical interpretation that utilizes both historical and more contemporary methods Additionally it demonstrates one possible avenue by which biblical and theological scholars can participate in interdisciplinary studies

Catechisms and Women's Writing in Seventeenth-Century England Paula McQuade, 2017-07-03 Catechisms and Women's Writing in Seventeenth Century England is a study of early modern women's literary use of catechizing Paula McQuade examines original works composed by women both in manuscript and print as well as women's copying and redacting of catechisms and construction of these materials from other sources By studying female catechists McQuade shows how early modern women used the power and authority granted to them as mothers to teach religious doctrine to demonstrate their linguistic skills to engage sympathetically with Catholic devotional texts and to comment on matters of contemporary religious and political import activities that many scholars have considered the sole prerogative of clergymen This book addresses the question of women's literary production in early modern England demonstrating that reading and writing of catechisms were crucial sites of women's literary engagements during this time
