Free Global Cities Christian H Kälin, 2025-03-20 This book proposes a new solution to the problem of the migration crisis engulfing the world by creating safe harbours or Free Global Cities In the face of the largest displacement crisis on record even the most optimistic view of the future suggests that in the years ahead more and more people will migrate in order to survive The world requires places where refugees and other migrants forced to leave their homes have the opportunity to work study create start businesses and rebuild new lives for themselves and their families Free Global Cities can deal with this growing global crisis in a completely new way They are autonomous self governed subnational entities that provide a safe environment and rule of law that will create wealth and prosperity for its residents as well as for the nations hosting them Such a model would contribute significantly to handle the largest migration crisis in history which the world will be experiencing in the coming decades

Cities in South Asia Crispin Bates, Minoru Mio, 2015-05-22 Globalisation has long historical roots in South Asia but economic liberalisation has led to uniquely rapid urban growth in South Asia during the past decade This book brings together a multidisciplinary collection of chapters on contemporary and historical themes explaining this recent explosive growth and transformations on going in the cities of this region The essays in this volume attempt to shed light on the historical roots of these cities and the traditions that are increasingly placed under strain by modernity as well as exploring the lived experience of a new generation of city dwellers and their indelible impact on those who live at the city's margins The book discusses that previously cities such as Mumbai grew by accumulating a vast hinterland of slum dwellers who depressed wages and supplied cheap labour to the city's industrial economy However it goes on to show that the new growth of cities such as Bangalore Hyderabad and Madras in south India or Delhi and Calcutta in the north of India is more capital intensive export driven and oriented towards the information technology and service sectors The book explains that these cities have attracted a new elite of young educated workers with money to spend and an outlook on life that is often a complex mix of modern ideas and conservative tradition It goes on to cover topics such as the politics of town planning consumer culture and the struggles among multiple identities in the city By tracing the genealogies of cities it gives a useful insight into the historical conditioning that determines how cities negotiate new changes and influences There will soon be more mega cities in South Asia than anywhere else in the world and this book provides an in depth analysis of this growth It will be of interest to students and scholars of South Asian History Politics and Anthropology as well as those working in the fields of urbanisation and globalisation
