War in Germany Otis C. Mitchell,2005-04-27 Author Otis C Mitchell a former Army intelligence operative in North Germany weaves his counterintelligence experiences with newly declassified C I A evidence to paint a broad picture of West and East German intelligence and counterintelligence services He shows that by Soviet and Nazi Defectors Nigel West,2024-12-30 Analyzes nine wartime and postwar defections highlighting motivations risks and counter intelligence significance A well informed defector is the most dangerous counter intelligence commodity because it takes a spy to catch a spy Very occasionally an agent especially a mole or an intelligence professional will make a mistake and incriminate themselves but usually it is a denunciation a tip or a vague clue from a defector that will provide the vital information required to expose the source of a leak Relying on recently declassified intelligence files and interviews with defectors their handlers their families and their victims Nigel West has analyzed nine examples of wartime and postwar defections to shed new light on the phenomenon Defectors are notoriously difficult to handle and resettle because of the range of genuine or invented motives that led them to take such drastic action Some will provide a noble political motive seeking to impress their host while others may be driven by less worthy compulsions perhaps greed revenge career disappointment envy anger or nothing more complicated than a desire to start a life afresh with a different partner Defectors are the stock in trade for all counter intelligence specialists who seek the background and context of corridor gossip and water cooler chat cannot be substituted by any amount of technical surveillance overhead reconnaissance or hard to interpret intercepted communications This is the essence of Human Intelligence and goes to the heart of loyalty trust betrayal and deception the very DNA of espionage These nine examples of switching sides all involve intelligence professionals who followed the example of Erich Vermehren Because of his religious convictions Vermehren felt compelled to desert the Abwehr in January 1944 even though this meant the arrest of his parents and siblings who were consigned to Sachsenhausen concentration camp West traced Vermehren then living under an alias in Switzerland to hear his story first hand He then interviewed the British MI6 officer who had engineered the covert exfiltration from Istanbul of both the German and his wife Sometimes a defection may be the result of a period of cultivation as happened with Vladimir Petrov who was gently persuaded over many months by his Polish dentist to abandon his clandestine role as resident in Canberra for a chicken farm The intermediary Dr Michael Bialoguski admitted to the author that right up to the moment of his defection he and his Australian Security Intelligence organization colleagues were not entirely sure of Petrov's true status Once resettled a defector's life has daily challenges as was explained by Yuri Rastvorov's widow herself a CIA counter intelligence officer who recalled the day she had to tell their two daughters that their father was not a Czech tennis coach but an NKVD defector who had been based in Tokyo
