A Passion for Antiquities Marion True, Kenneth Hamma, 1994-12-01 The collection of Barbara and Lawrence Fleischman of New York is one of the most important private collections of ancient Greek and Roman art in the United States and among the most important in the world Composed of approximately three hundred objects from the Bronze Age to the Late Antique it includes bronze statuettes marble sculpture vases jewelry lamps and candelabra keys weights and silver bowls and utensils The Fleischmans have a particular fascination with pieces associated with everyday life in antiquity since these objects evoke a human connection to the past They are also drawn to pieces that exemplify the human propensity to transform a functional object into a thing of beauty Not only has their emotional response to an object s aesthetic appeal or its historical significance guided them in their forty years of collecting personal interests have been at work as well The large number of pieces related to the theater or representing theatrical subjects reflects Barbara Fleischman s lifelong love of that art A Passion for Antiquities contains photographs and extensive catalogue entries on the objects included in the exhibition at the J Paul Getty Museum and the Cleveland Museum of Art Eighteen contributors provide art historical and descriptive information about each piece The objects not selected for the exhibition are detailed in a checklist that specifies their origins dates media and sizes This book is the first major reference on the entire collection since most of the objects have never before been publicly shown To facilitate finding specific objects or groups of objects the book is organized first chronologically and then by medium Bibliographic sources for each entry cite both publications where the specific work is discussed as well as references to related scholarship Karol Wight provides a chronological overview of the collection and Oliver Taplin relates selected

Unpacking the Collection Sarah Byrne, Anne Clarke, Rodney Harrison, Robin Torrence, 2011-06-27 Museum collections are often perceived as static entities hidden away in storerooms or trapped behind glass cases By focusing on the dynamic histories of museum collections new research reveals their pivotal role in shaping a wide range of social relations Over time and across space the interactions between these artefacts and the people and institutions who made, traded, collected, researched and exhibited them have generated complex networks of material and social agency In this innovative volume the contributors draw on a broad range of source materials to explore the cross cultural interactions which have created museum collections These case studies contribute significantly to the development of new theoretical frameworks to examine broader questions of materiality, agency and identity in the past and present Grounded in case studies from individual objects and museum collections from North America, Europe, Africa, the Pacific Islands and Australia, this truly international volume juxtaposes historical, geographical and cross cultural studies This work will be of great interest to archaeologists and anthropologists studying material culture as well as researchers in museum studies and cultural heritage management
