The Animal and the Daemon in Early China Roel Sterckx, 2012-02-01 Exploring the cultural perception of animals in early Chinese thought this careful reading of Warring States and Han dynasty writings analyzes how views of animals were linked to human self perception and investigates the role of the animal world in the conception of ideals of sagehood and socio political authority Roel Sterckx shows how perceptions of the animal world influenced early Chinese views of man's place among the living species and in the world at large He argues that the classic Chinese perception of the world did not insist on clear categorical or ontological boundaries between animals humans and other creatures such as ghosts and spirits Instead the animal realm was positioned as part of an organic whole and the mutual relationships among the living species both as natural and cultural creatures were characterized as contingent continuous and interdependent

The Hunter, the Stag, and the Mother of Animals Esther Jacobson-Tepfer, 2015-04-08 The ancient landscape of North Asia gave rise to a mythic narrative of birth death and transformation that reflected the hardship of life for ancient nomadic hunters and herders Of the central protagonists we tend to privilege the hero hunter of the Bronze Age and his re incarnation as a warrior in the Iron Age But before him and in a sense behind him was a female power half animal half human From her came permission to hunt the animals of the taiga and by her they were replenished She was in other words the source of the hunter s success The stag was a latecomer to this tale a complex symbol of death and transformation embedded in what ultimately became a struggle for priority between animal mother and hero hunter From this region there are no written texts to illuminate prehistory and the hundreds of burials across the steppe reveal little relating to myth and belief before the late Bronze Age What they do tell us is that peoples and cultures came and went leaving behind huge stone mounds altars and standing stones as well as thousands of petroglyphic images With The Hunter the Stag and the Mother of Animals Esther Jacobson Tepfer uses that material to reconstruct the prehistory of myth and belief in ancient North Asia Her narrative places monuments and imagery within the context of the physical landscape and by considering all three elements as reflections of the archaeology of belief Within that process paleoenvironmental forces economic innovations and changing social order served as pivots of mythic transformation With this vividly illustrated study Jacobson Tepfer brings together for the first time in any language Russian and Mongolian archaeology with prehistoric representational traditions of South Siberia and Mongolia in order to explore the non material aspects of these fascinating prehistoric cultures

The Culture of Animals in Antiquity Sian Lewis, Lloyd Llewellyn-Jones, 2018-01-09 The Culture of Animals in Antiquity provides students and researchers with well chosen and clearly presented ancient sources in translation some well known others undoubtedly unfamiliar but all central to a key area of study in ancient history the part played by animals in the cultures of the ancient Mediterranean It brings new ideas to bear on the wealth of evidence literary historical and archaeological which we possess for the experiences and roles of animals in the ancient world Offering a broad picture of ancient cultures in the Mediterranean as part of a wider ecosystem the volume is on an ambitious scale It covers a broad span of time from the sacred animals of dynastic Egypt to the imagery of the lamb in early Christianity and of region from the fallow deer introduced and bred in Roman Britain to the Asiatic lioness and her cubs brought as a gift by the Elamites to the Great King of Persia This sourcebook is essential for anyone wishing to understand the role of animals in the ancient world and support learning for one of the fastest growing disciplines in Classics

Meditations on Hunting José Ortega y Gasset, 2007 This is the classic treatise on hunting written by Spain's leading philosopher of the 20th century Reprinted with permission from Scribner this edition features handsome new illustrations The author explains the reason why humans hunt as well as the ethics of hunting The Power of Animals Brian Morris, 2020-12-22 The multiple ways in which people relate to animals provide a revealing window through which to examine a culture Western cultures tend to view animals either as pets or food and often overlook the vast number of roles that they may play within a culture and in social life more generally their use in medicine folk traditions and rituals This comprehensive and very readable study focuses on Malawi people and their rich and varied relationship with animals from hunting through to their use as medicine More broadly through a rigorous and detailed study the author provides insights which show how the people's relationship to their world manifests itself not strictly in social relations but just as tellingly in their relationships with animals that in fact animals constitute a vital role in social relations While significantly advancing classic African ethnographic studies this book also incorporates current debates in a wide range of disciplines from anthropology through to gender studies and ecology Magisterial Cases, 1910 Animals and the Environment Lisa Kemmerer, 2015-05-01 Contemporary Earth and animal activists rarely collaborate perhaps because environmentalists focus on species and ecosystems while animal advocates look to the individual and neither seems to have much respect for the other This diverse collection of essays highlights common ground between earth and animal advocates most notably the protection of wildlife and personal dietary choice If earth and animal advocates move beyond philosophical differences and resultant divergent priorities turning attention to shared goals both will be more effective and both animals and the environment will benefit Given the undeniable seriousness of the environmental problems that we face including climate change and species extinction it is essential that activists join forces Drawing on a wide range of issues and disciplines ranging from wildlife management hunting and the work of NGOs to ethics ecofeminism religion and animal welfare this volume provides a stimulating collection of ideas and challenges for anyone else who cares about the environment or animals
