The Illusion Of Democracy In Dependent Nations The Politics Of Change In Venezuela Vol 3:

Politics in Venezuela Michael Derham, 2010 Hugo Chavez is heavily criticised by the international political class and the press and media. He is dismissed academically as a populist and dismissed more generally as a rabble rouser. However, a lot of the criticism and reporting lacks context. Conflict and Political Change in Venezuela Daniel H. Levine, 2015-03-08. Venezuela has had a long and bloody history of military dictatorships. Yet since 1958 it has developed one of the few effective competitive democracies in Latin America. To explain this transformation, Daniel H. Levine analyzes the development of modern mass based political parties with pervasive organizations and commanding strong loyalties, the changing structure and content of social and political conflict, and the gradual emergence of common norms governing political behavior. This book does not pretend to be a general survey of Venezuelan politics. Rather, it is an attempt to understand, for both theoretical and practical purposes, the development of shared rules of the game for political action in a heterogeneous society. Once these norms are accepted by key elites and then imposed on recalcitrant oppositions, they provide a means of controlling and managing political conflict without eliminating it. Mr. Levine's conclusions are based primarily on case studies of specific political conflicts. His study of conflicts over educational reform uncovers the conditions in which a traditional sector of society, Catholic groups and institutions, moved from violent total opposition to the political system to a position of accommodation. In the second case study, he examines the role of students in politics, with special reference to the integration of students in national patterns of conflict and opposition. Political Attitudes in Venezuela Enrique A. Baloyra, John D. Martz, 2014-06-23. Here is a benchmark study of voter attitudes in a Latin American country. This volume is based on extensive survey research conducted during the Venezuelan elections of 1973. The methods employed by Baloyra and Martz to poll an unpolled society successfully challenge previously established paradigms. The authors interviewed a representative sample of over 1,500 voters to determine relationships between class status, community context, religion, ideology, and partisanship on the one hand, and political attitudes and preferences on the other. They found that the Venezuelan electorate is defined by a series of contradictory tendencies, and they place their conclusions in the context of contemporary political science literature regarding class and party ideology and party and inequality and participation. Marxist Thought in Latin America Sheldon B. Liss, 1984. Political Change in Venezuela George W. Schuyler, 1977. The Transition to Democracy in Spain and Portugal Howard J. Wiarda, Iêda Siqueira Wiarda, 1989. N.A. Latin American Democracies John A. Peeler, 2014-02-01. Using the cases of Colombia, Costa Rica and Venezuela Peeler compares the evolution and maintenance of liberal democratic regimes in the Latin American context. These regimes are shown to be products of the normal Latin American political processes under particular conditions that have permitted accommodation between rival political and economic elites. The author argues that these liberal democracies are fundamentally similar to those in other parts of the world. Originally published in 1985. A UNC Press Enduring Edition. Leadership and National Development in North Africa Elbaki Hermassi, 2023-11-10. This book considers the following questions in order to understand the Maghrib: Why is it that a civic polity has emerged only in Tunisia up to the present? Why is Algeria attaining a much higher rate of economic growth than its neighbors? Why does Morocco find itself in a political economic and cultural stalemate? Why are all Maghribi societies free from ethnic cultural and regional disintegration? And as such, this title examines: 1. the formations of Algeria, Morocco, and Tunisia as distinct national societies; 2. the patterns of colonial domination and colonial change; the way in which 1 and 2 have influenced Maghribi political institutions and their elites' postures toward the basic challenges to their nations; 4. finally, the strategies and costs of national choices given the various political actors, structural contexts, and their situational facilities. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1972.

La picardía del venezolano o el triunfo de Tío Conejo Axel Capriles M., 2016-12-21. Pícaros y picardías han existido siempre y en todo lugar. Lo que hace de la viveza criolla un rasgo resaltante de nuestro carácter social es el hecho de que se la celebre. escribe Axel Capriles M. en esta obra que ofrece una reflexión sobre las causas y manifestaciones de la viveza desde la perspectiva psicoanalítica. La valoración positiva que tiene el venezolano de la cultura picaresca no es el único aspecto que destaca Capriles M. en este texto. El autor también da cuenta de cómo nuestro p caro coexiste con un sistema excesivamente regulado burocrático que tantas y tan continuas trabas impone a sus ciudadanos. Es entonces la viveza criolla una estrategia de supervivencia en situaciones adversas. Causa o consecuencia del sistema. En este volumen se compagina el pcaro encarnado aquí por el personaje arquetípico de T o Conejo astuto, gracioso, tramposo e individualista, anárquico con el culto a la figura pica del héroe que se sacrifica por los más elevados intereses del colectivo. Figuras aparentemente contrapuestas pero de alguna manera vinculadas tan presentes en nuestro imaginario donde el autor se adentra para desentrañar las contradicciones y las relaciones que nos caracterizan. Teodoro Petkoff James W. Rowe, Norman Gall, Richard Critchfield, Thomas Griffin Sanders, 1967 The Venezuelan Business Community Virginia Marie Turner, 1979 International Social Science Journal, 1973
