The Impact Of Colonisation On Indigenous Groups:

Aboriginal Peoples, Colonialism and International Law Irene Watson, 2014-10-17 This work is the first to assess the legality and impact of colonisation from the viewpoint of Aboriginal law rather than from that of the dominant Western legal tradition It begins by outlining the Aboriginal legal system as it is embedded in Aboriginal people s complex relationship with their ancestral lands This is Raw Law a natural system of obligations and benefits flowing from an Aboriginal ontology This book places Raw Law at the centre of an analysis of colonisation thereby decentring the usual analytical tendency to privilege the dominant structures and concepts of Western law From the perspective of Aboriginal law colonisation was a violation of the code of political and social conduct embodied in Raw Law Its effects were damaging It forced Aboriginal peoples to violate their own principles of natural responsibility to self community country and future existence But this book is not simply a work of mourning Most profoundly it is a celebration of the resilience of Aboriginal ways and a call for these to be recognised as central in discussions of colonial and postcolonial legality Written by an experienced legal practitioner scholar and political activist Aboriginal Peoples Colonialism and International Law Raw Law will be of interest to students and researchers of Indigenous Peoples Rights International Law and Critical Legal Theory Recognising Human Rights in Different Cultural Contexts Emily Julia Kakoullis, Kelley Johnson, 2020-06-26 This book explores the journey of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities CRPD as it is interpreted and translated from International Human Rights Law into domestic law and policy in different cultural contexts Beginning with reflections on culture disability and human rights from different disciplinary perspectives the work is then organised as snapshots of the journey of the CRPD from the international level to the domestic the process of ratification the process of implementation and then the process of monitoring the CRPD s implementation in States Parties cultural contexts Leading global contributors provide cutting edge accounts of the interactions between the CRPD and diverse cultures revealing variations in the way that the concept of culture is defined This collection will appeal to academics and students in Law and Socio Legal Studies Disability Studies Policy Studies and Social Work Sociology Anthropology and those training to be service providers with persons with disabilities Decolonising and Indigenising Design Desiree Hernandez Ibinarriaga, 2025-03-03 This book offers a new approach to design theory and practice that draws on Indigenous knowledges methodologies and methods presenting concepts of decolonising and Indigenous design that are interweaved as theory storytelling and practices The arena of design sustainability social design and innovation has been a site of debate since the 1960s Yet the ways in which design has redefined this complex realm has not directly addressed Indigenous ways of being knowing and doing which could be of paramount importance to the transformation of the design field and beyond in creative practices In response this book offers valuable insights into how design practitioners can incorporate Indigenous practices to decolonise education research and design and dismantle colonised paradigms ways of thinking and practice in design This approach is presented through storytelling theory methodology methods and practical examples to enlighten the reader The book proposes a transformation in the role designers play through understanding relationality between people land and the immaterial while giving voice and agency to the land and waters Our Mother Earth Design is considered as a way to harness opportunities through the deep connection between people and Place and the book critically promotes a more contextual and dynamic understanding of decolonising and Indigenising design practices and spaces through relational design This book will be useful for students and scholars studying in the fields of design art architecture culture decolonising methodologies biocultural diversity and design beyond human and materiality The Routledge Handbook of Field Work Education in Social Work Rajendra Baikady,Sajid
