Impressionism John I. Clancy, 2003 Defining an artistic era or movement is often a difficult task as one tries to group individualistic expressions and artwork under one broad brush Such is the case with impressionism which culls together the art of a multitude of painters in the mid 19th century including Monet Cézanne Renoir Degas and van Gogh Basically impressionism involved the shedding of traditional painting methods The subjects of art were taken from everyday life as opposed to the pages of mythology and history In addition each artist painted to express feelings of the moment instead of hewing to time honoured standards This description of impressionism obviously is quite broad and can apply to a wide array of styles Nonetheless it remains a very important school in the annals of art Any current or budding art aficionado should become familiar with the impressionist movement and its impact on the art world This book presents a sweeping study of this artistic period from its origins to its manifestations in the works of some of art history's most revered painters Following this overview is a substantial and selective bibliography featuring access through author title and subject indexes

Everyday Aesthetics Katya Mandoki, 2016-04-22 Katya Mandoki advances in this book the thesis that it is not only possible but crucial to open up the field of aesthetics traditionally confined to the study of art and beauty toward the richness and complexity of everyday life She argues that in every process of communication whether face to face or through the media fashion and political propaganda there is always an excess beyond the informative and functional value of a message This excess is the aesthetic Following Huizinga's view of play as an ingredient of any social environment Mandoki explores how various cultural practices are in fact forms of playing since for the author aesthetics and play are Siamese twins One of the unique contributions of this book is the elaboration and application of a semiotic model for the simultaneous analysis of social interactions in the four registers namely visual auditory verbal and body language to detect the aesthetic strategies deployed in specific situations She argues that since the presentation of the self is targeted towards participants' sensibilities aesthetics plays a key role in these modes of exchange Consequently the author updates important debates in this field to clear the way for a socio-aesthetic inquiry through contexts such as the family school medical artistic or religious traditions from which social identities emerge
