The Spectralities Reader Maria del Pilar Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2013-08-29 Ghosts spirits and specters have played important roles in narratives throughout history and across nations and cultures A watershed moment for this area of study was the publication of Derrida's Specters of Marx in 1993 marking the inauguration of a spectral turn in cultural criticism Gathering together the most compelling texts of the past twenty years the editors transform the field of spectral studies with this first ever reader employing the ghost as an analytical and methodological tool The Spectralities Reader takes ghosts and haunting on their own terms as wide ranging phenomena that are not conscripted to a single aesthetic genre or style Divided into six thematically discreet sections the reader covers issues of philosophy politics media spatiality subject formation gender race and sexuality and historiography It anthologizes the previously published work of theoretical heavyweights from different disciplinary and cultural backgrounds such as Jacques Derrida Gayatri Spivak and Giorgio Agamben alongside work by literary and cultural historians such as Jeffrey Sconce and Roger Luckhurst

American and British Writers in Mexico, 1556-1973 Drewery Wayne Gunn, 2014-07-03 American and British Writers in Mexico is the study that laid the foundation upon which subsequent examinations of Mexico's impact upon American and British letters have built Chosen by the Mexican government to be placed in translation in its public libraries the book was also referenced by Nobel Laureate Octavio Paz in an article in the New Yorker Reflections Mexico and the United States Drewery Wayne Gunn demonstrates how Mexican experiences had a singular impact upon the development of English writers beginning with early British explorers who recorded their impressions for Hakluyt's Voyages through the American Beats who sought to escape the strictures of American culture Among the 140 or so writers considered are Stephen Crane Ambrose Bierce Langston Hughes D H Lawrence Somerset Maugham Katherine Anne Porter Hart Crane Malcolm Lowry John Steinbeck Graham Greene Tennessee Williams Saul Bellow William Carlos Williams Robert Lowell Ray Bradbury Allen Ginsberg William Burroughs and Jack Kerouac Gunn finds that while certain elements reflecting the Mexican experience colors landscape manners political atmosphere a sense of the alien are common in their writings the authors reveal less about Mexico than they do about themselves A Mexican sojourn often marked the beginning the end or the turning point in a literary career The insights that this pioneering study provide into our complex cultural relationship with Mexico so different from American and British authors encounters with Continental cultures remain vital The book is essential for anyone interested in understanding the full range of the impact of the expatriate experience on writers

Robert Montgomery Bird Clement Edgar Foust, 1919 Hemispheric American Studies Caroline F. Levander, Robert S. Levine, 2007-10-04 This landmark collection brings together a range of exciting new comparative work in the burgeoning field of hemispheric studies Scholars working in the fields of Latin American studies Asian American studies American studies American literature African Diaspora studies and comparative literature address the urgent question of how scholars might reframe disciplinary boundaries within the broad area of what is generally called American studies The essays take as their starting points such questions as What happens to American literary political historical and cultural studies if we recognize the interdependency of nation state developments throughout all the Americas What happens if we recognize the nation as historically evolving and contingent rather than already formed Finally what happens if the fixed borders of a nation are recognized not only as historically produced political constructs but also as component parts of a deeper more multilayered series of national and indigenous histories With essays that examine stamps cartoons novels film art music travel documents and governmental publications Hemispheric American Studies seeks to excavate the complex cultural history of texts and discourses across the ever changing and stratified geopolitical and cultural fields that collectively comprise the American hemisphere This collection promises to chart new directions in American literary and cultural studies

US-Mexico Borderland Narratives Rosemary A. King, 2000 For over 150 years borderland authors from both Mexico and the United States have developed novels which owe their narrative power to compelling relationships between literary constructions of space and artistic expressions of conflicts characters and cultural encounter This study explores those relationships by analyzing representations of the spaces in which characters function whether barrio ballroom or border city as well as the places characters inhabit relative to the border occupying native or foreign territory traveling temporarily or settling permanently Concomitant with close attention to the conceptualization of space in border literature is a foregrounding of the genres that border writers employ such as historical romance and the Hispanic bildungsroman as well as the literary traditions from which they draw such as travel narratives or utopian literature Assessing geopoetics in border writing from the Mexican American War to the present including writers such as Helen Hunt Jackson Jovita Gonzalez Ernesto Galarza Americo Paredes Harriet Doerr Cormac McCarthy Leslie Marmon Silko and Miguel Mendez provides a paradigm for tracing the development and changes in individual responses to this space as well as a broad range of responses based on class and gender This corpus of literature demonstrates that the various ways in which characters respond to cultural encounter adapting resisting challenging sympathizing depends on artistic rendering of spaces and places around them Thus the central argument of this project is that character responses to cultural encounters arise out of geopoetics the artistic expression of space and place from the earliest to the most recent border narratives
