- Christians adapted Roman architecture to build their religious buildings (aka- CHURCHES)
 - Roman basilicas (meeting halls) were modified into churches. This is called a BASILICA PLAN church. Crazy, I know.
 - Roman temples were modified into mausoleums. These are called CENTRAL PLAN buildings.

Demaray, 1988 Surveys the message homiletical method and the effect of Newton's preaching during the Olney and London periods along with Newton as hymnwriter and the influence of his Olney hymns Includes many previously unpublished photographs and new data Publisher mellenpress com Historical Sketch of the Rise, Progress and Decline of the Reformation in Poland Waleryan Skorobohaty Krasinski, 1840 Innovation in the Orthodox Christian Tradition? Trine Stauning Willert, Lina Molokotos-Liederman, 2016-05-23 The relationship between tradition and innovation in Orthodox Christianity has often been problematic filled with tensions and contradictions starting from the Byzantine era and running through the 19th and 20th centuries For a long period of time scholars have typically assumed Greek Orthodoxy to be a static religious tradition with little room for renewal or change Although this public perception continues the immutability of the Greek Orthodox tradition has been questioned by several scholars over the past few years This book continues this line of reasoning but brings it into the centre of contemporary discussion Presenting case studies from different periods of history up to the present day the authors trace different aspects in the development of innovation and renewal in Orthodox Christianity in the Greek speaking world and among the Diaspora The Alarmist: Or, Fear of Innovation in the Church. By a Member of the Church of England ALARMIST., 1858 Secularization and Religious Innovation in the North Atlantic World David Hempton, Hugh McLeod, 2017 In the early twenty first century it had become a cliché that there was a God Gap between a more religious United States and a more secular Europe The apparent religious differences between the United States and western Europe continue to be a focus of intense and sometimes bitter debate between three of the main schools in the sociology of religion According to the influential Secularization Thesis secularization has been an integral part of the processes of modernization in the Western world since around 1800 For proponents of this thesis the United States appears as an anomaly and they accordingly give considerable attention to explaining why it is different For other sociologists however the apparently high level of religiosity in the USA provides a major argument in their attempts to refute the Thesis Secularization and Religious Innovation in the North Atlantic World provides a systematic comparison between the religious histories of the United States and western European countries from the eighteenth to the late twentieth century noting parallels as well as divergences examining their causes and especially highlighting change over time This is achieved by a series of themes which seem especially relevant to this agenda and in each case the theme is considered by two scholars The volume examines whether American Christians have been more innovative and if so how far this explains the apparent God Gap It goes beyond the simple American European binary to ask what is American or European in the Christianity of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and in what ways national or regional differences outweigh these commonalities

Innovation Contested Benoît Godin, 2015-01-09 Innovation is everywhere In the world of goods technology but also in the world of words innovation is discussed in the scientific and technical literature but also in the social sciences and humanities Innovation is also a central idea in the popular imaginary in the media and in public policy Innovation has become the emblem of the modern society and a panacea for resolving many problems Today innovation is spontaneously understood as technological innovation because of its contribution to economic progress Yet for 2 500 years innovation had nothing to do with economics in a positive sense Innovation was pejorative and political It was a contested idea in philosophy religion politics and social affairs Innovation only got de contested in the last century This occurred gradually beginning after the French revolution Innovation shifted from a vice to a virtue Innovation became an instrument for achieving political and social goals In this book Beno t Godin lucidly examines the representations and meanings of innovation over time its diverse uses and the contexts in which the concept emerged and changed This history is organized around three periods or episteme the prohibition episteme the instrument episteme and the value episteme A Layman's Reply to Dr. Littledale's Lecture on Ritualistic Innovations Charles Hastings Collette, 1869 Religion and Innovation Donald A. Yerxa, 2015-12-17 It is often assumed that religion is the backward looking servant of tradition and the status quo utterly opposed to the new This refrain in so much of recent polemical writing has permeated the public mind and can even be found in academic publications But recent scholarship increasingly shows that this view is a gross simplification that in fact religious beliefs and practices have contributed to significant changes in human affairs political and legal social and artistic scientific and commercial This is certainly not to say that religion is always innovative But the relationship between religion and innovation is much more complex and instructive than is generally assumed Religion and Innovation includes contributions from leading historians archaeologists and social scientists who offer findings about the relationship between religion and innovation The essays collected in this volume range from discussions of the transformative power of religion in early societies to re examinations of our notions of naturalism secularization and progress to explorations of cutting edge contemporary issues Combining scholarly rigor with clear accessible writing Religion and Innovation Antagonists or Partners is essential reading for anyone interested in the history of religion and the ongoing debates about its role in the modern world and into the future

Christian Ethics and Biomedical Innovation Stephen Goundrey-Smith, 2024-11-05 In Christian Ethics and Biomedical Innovation Stephen Goundrey Smith outlines a strategy for future adoption of human enhancement technologies which will ensure that such technologies are a common good a strategy which is appropriate for a pluralistic society yet consistent with Christian ethical principles Drawing on the history of biomedical innovation to date in pharmaceutical medicine he argues that technological capability alone is not enough and that the responsible adoption of enhancement technologies will require active ethical deliberation and robust public policy discourse Goundrey Smith argues that biomedical technology ethics and public policy together form an essential triad for appropriate future enhancement technology adoption This approach helps to ensure that biomedical technologies introduced will be common goods and to reduce the risk of their instrumental use The use of any technology is closely linked to its sociopolitical and cultural context and drawing on Augustine's The City of God Goundrey Smith presents a theological vision for good biomedical technology innovation in human society *The Catholic religion of st. This book takes stock of the state of the question on innovation in a particular area of education and training But for this it must be noted that economists have appropriated the notion since Schumpeter and have constrained to think innovation in professions of intervention on others as if they were products to be delivered to the customer as quickly and the best frugal innovation Here the author brings a nuance and demonstrates the specificity of innovations in soft areas their richness while drawing the reader to caution and criticism because any innovation is not good in itself it can Produce adverse effects in the medium and long term The author proposes two supports for innovation on the one hand the approach by its most objective evaluation which itself induces an innovation in its evaluation and on the other hand an approach to values and therefore to philosophy of the desired future man A detour on the history of innovation on its international approaches on the imaginary investments it is often the object of with a nuance of utopia makes it possible to understand why innovation has been a means To drive the reforms and to convince people for a better future The Roman Catholic question [letters, articles, sermons and other documents].
