Squaring the Circle Douglas M. Jesseph, 1999 In 1655 the philosopher Thomas Hobbes claimed he had solved the centuries old problem of squaring of the circle constructing a square equal in area to a given circle With a scathing rebuttal to Hobbes s claims the mathematician John Wallis began one of the longest and most intense intellectual disputes of all time Squaring the Circle is a detailed account of this controversy from the core mathematics to the broader philosophical political and religious issues at stake Hobbes believed that by recasting geometry in a materialist mold he could solve any geometric problem and thereby demonstrate the power of his materialist metaphysics Wallis a prominent Presbyterian divine as well as an eminent mathematician refuted Hobbes s geometry as a means of discrediting his philosophy which Wallis saw as a dangerous mix of atheism and pernicious political theory Hobbes and Wallis s battle of the books illuminates the intimate relationship between science and crucial seventeenth century debates over the limits of sovereign power and the existence of God

The Circle & the Spiral Eva Rask Knudsen, 2004 In Aboriginal and M ori literature the circle and the spiral are the symbolic metaphors for a never ending journey of discovery and rediscovery The journey itself with its indigenous perspectives and sense of orientation is the most significant act of cultural recuperation The present study outlines the fields of indigenous writing in Australia and New Zealand in the crucial period between the mid 1980s and the early 1990s particularly eventful years in which postcolonial theory attempted to centre the margins and indigenous writers were keen to escape the particular centering offered in search of other positions more in tune with their creative sensibilities Indigenous writing relinquished its narrative preference for social realism in favour of traversing old territory in new spiritual ways roots converted into routes Standard postcolonial readings of indigenous texts often overwrite the difference they seek to locate because critical orthodoxy predetermines what difference can be Critical evaluations still tend to eclipse the ontological grounds of Aboriginal and M ori traditions and specific ways of moving through and behaving in cultural landscapes and social contexts Hence the corrective applied in Circles and Spirals to look for locally and culturally specific tracks and traces that lead in other directions than those catalogued by postcolonial convention This agenda is pursued by means of searching enquiries into the historical anthropological political and cultural determinants of the present state of Aboriginal and M ori writing principally fiction Independent yet interrelated exemplary analyses of works by Keri Hulme and Patricia Grace and Mudrooroo and Sam Watson Australia provided the thick description that illuminates the author s central theses with comparative side glances at Witi Ihimaera Heretaunga Pat Baker and Alan Duff New Zealand and Archie Weller and Sally Morgan Australia The Circle Way Christina Baldwin, Ann Linnea, 2010-03 Meetings in the round have become the preferred tool for moving individual commitment into group action This book lays out the structure of circle conversation based on the original work of the authors who have standardized the essential elements that constitute circle practice

Almost Global Solutions of Capillary-Gravity Water Waves Equations on the Circle Massimiliano Berti, Jean-Marc Delort, 2018-11-02 The goal of this monograph is to prove that any solution of the Cauchy problem for the capillary gravity water waves equations in one space dimension with periodic even in space small and smooth enough initial data is almost globally defined in time on Sobolev spaces provided the gravity capillarity parameters are taken outside an exceptional subset of zero measure In contrast to the many results known for these equations on the real line with decaying Cauchy data one cannot make use of dispersive properties of the linear flow Instead a normal forms based procedure is used eliminating those contributions to the Sobolev energy that are of lower degree of homogeneity in the solution Since the water waves equations form a quasi linear system the usual normal forms approaches would face the well known problem of losses of derivatives in the unbounded transformations To overcome this after a parilinearization of the capillary gravity water waves equations we perform several paradifferential reductions to obtain a diagonal system with constant coefficient symbols up to smoothing remainders Then we start with a normal form procedure where the small divisors are compensated by the previous paradifferential regularization The reversible structure of the water waves equations and the fact that we seek solutions even in space guarantees a key cancellation which prevents the growth of the Sobolev norms of the solutions      Making PSHE Matter Siân Rowland, 2018-05-21 This book gives teachers tips to make PSHE more engaging and relevant and includes advice on teaching a range of contemporary topics such as social media and sex and sexuality With case studies and strategies on planning and pitching sessions the tried and tested advice makes this the go to resource for teaching PSHE      Enhancing Circle Time for the Very Young Margaret Collins, 2003-10-01 Written for anyone using Circle Time with 3 to 7 year olds this book sets out strategies and activities for making the most out of Circle Time sessions Pre and post activities are included to encourage children to focus on the content of Circle Time as a way of sharing their work ideas and thoughts The book provides 11 different themes that can be linked to PSHCE ranging from Caring for Others to Keeping Safe Each theme provides o aims o Circle Time activities o Draw and Talk o follow up activities and suggestions for display o resources o reflections and evaluations Margaret Collins is a former headteacher of infant and first schools She is now Senior Visiting Fellow in the School of Education at the University of Southampton She researches children s perceptions of health education topics writes teaching materials for children books and articles on PSHE
