The Colours Of Snow

Mr. Rohit Manglik

The Colours Of Snow:

The Colours of Snow Kate Fenton, 2012-08-30 The charming and romantic first novel by Kate Fenton set on the Yorkshire Moors Frankie Cleverdon is there to paint Alone and away from it all in a cottage buried in the North Yorkshire Moors Away from the fretfulness of London And away from men and a messy love life So when she sees the lone fisherman from her window she sees a figure to be painted into a landscape This bumbling man is absolutely not her type but it is through Ned Cowper that she finds herself introduced to her neighbours in the valley who she soon discovers are dangerous to know And through Ned too she learns painfully that a worldly witty and quite wise woman can still find she had fallen in love with the most unlikely of men

The Color of the Snow Rüdiger Kremer, 1992 The Color of the Snow German writer Rüdiger Kremer's first novel is a most unusual and haunting work of art Carefully constructed and elegantly written The Color of the Snow consists of twenty one texts which spiral around the character of Jakob who first appears as a seemingly retarded boy born during World War II The texts include stories a script for a film a radio play a short essay a tour de force of narrative possibilities The twenty one parts are interrelated and form a narrative but their relationship to the story and to each other is intentionally complex they circle Jakob they reflect him in his shifting shapes it begins to appear that he may well be the author of the texts we are reading but what is at the center remains a mystery Mysterious too is the alchemy Kremer employs to create a stunningly moving novel out of intellectual challenges
