Emotion at Work Vincent R. Waldron, 2013-08-22 Communicating Emotion at Work chronicles the rich emotional experiences of employees drawn from a broad cross section of industries and occupations It takes a decidedly positive approach recognizing that emotional communication is a vital and creative response to the challenges of life in complex organizations The text introduces readers to the engaging and cross disciplinary body of research that has emerged around organizational emotion At the same time each chapter is steeped in real life emotional narratives concrete examples and the contemporary trends that are changing the emotional tenor of work      The Communication of Emotion Through Facial

Expression Sabrina Marie Keane, 1996      The Evolution of Emotional Communication Eckart Altenmüller, Sabine Schmidt, Elke Zimmermann, 2013-01-24 Why do we think that we can understand animal voices such as the aggressive barking of a pet dog and the longing meows of the family cat Why do we think of deep voices as dominant and high voices as submissive Are there universal principles governing our own communication system Can we even see how close animals are related to us by constructing an evolutionary tree based on similarities and dissimilarities in acoustic signaling Research on the role of emotions in acoustic communication and its evolution has often been neglected despite its obvious role in our daily life. When we infect others with our laugh, soothe a crying baby with a lullaby or get goose bumps listening to classical music, we are barely aware of the complex processes upon which this behavior is based. It is not facial expressions or body language that are affecting us but sound. They are present in music and speech as emotional prosody and allow us to communicate not only verbally but also emotionally. This groundbreaking book presents a thorough exploration into how acoustically conveyed emotions are generated and processed in both animals and man. It is the first volume to bridge the gap between research in the acoustic communication of emotions in humans with those in animals using a comparative approach. With the communication of emotions being an important research topic for a range of scientific fields, this book is valuable for those in the fields of animal behaviour, anthropology, evolutionary biology, human psychology, linguistics, musicology and neurology.

Communication of Emotion in Computer-Mediated Communication Christopher Landrigan, 2005 The Communication of Emotional Meaning Joel R. Davitz, 1964 Emotions Revealed Paul Ekman, 2003-04-07. Renowned psychologist Paul Ekman explains the roots of our emotional responses from anger and fear to sadness and happiness and shows how these emotions cascade across our faces, revealing information to those who can decipher the clues. Ekman's research and practical training were prominently featured in Malcolm Gladwell's bestseller Blink and the insights in Emotions Revealed provide us with the skills to recognize feelings in our spouses, children, business colleagues, even strangers on the street. Ekman translates his research into a practical, mind-opening guide to reading the emotions of those around us. He explains what triggers emotions and whether we can control them, shows how our body signals to others whether we are slightly sad or truly anguished, peeved or enraged, and teaches us how to distinguish between a polite smile and the genuine thing. Packed with unique exercises and photographs and a new chapter on emotions and lying that discusses how to identify possible deceit hot spots in everyday life, Emotions Revealed is an indispensable resource for navigating our emotional world. Book jacket.

Handbook of Interpersonal Communication Mark L. Knapp, John A. Daly, 2002-10. The Third Edition of the Handbook of Interpersonal Communication includes eight new chapters and eleven revised from the second edition. Following an introductory chapter, the volume is organized into four parts covering perspectives on inquiry in interpersonal communication, fundamental units of interpersonal communication processes and functions, and interpersonal contexts. Features include: Each chapter reviews and updates research in its respective area. Part II examines methodological issues in the field. Includes articles by top scholars in the field of Interpersonal Communication. Intersubjective Communication and Emotion in Early Ontogeny Stein Bråten, 2006-11-02. The concept of intersubjectivity, explicit or implicit, has emerged as a common denominator in approaches to interpersonal engagements in early infancy and children's understanding of others' thought and emotion. This 1999 book brings together the most senior international figures in psychology, psychopathology, sociology, and primatology to address the key question of the role of intersubjectivity in early ontogeny.

Together they offer an interesting perspective on child development learning and communication and highlight important comparisons with processes in autistic development and in infant ape development The book is divided into four parts focusing on intersubjective attunement in human infancy companionship and emotional responsiveness in early childhood imitation emotion and understanding in primate communication and intersubjective attunement and emotion in language learning and language use It is an invaluable resource for researchers in emotion and communication across the social and behavioural sciences

The Communication of Emotion: Current Research from Diverse Perspectives Karen Caplovitz Barrett, 1997 The authors explore the cultural and familial factors that influence how emotions are communicated to children and the varied ways children's development is affected They show how context the nature of the relationship between partners the cultural background and the ongoing events surrounding communication between partners plays a crucial role in determining what is communicated and understood through facial vocal and other means of emotion communication And they reveal how emotion communication within the family directly affects the formation of children's self and other schemas and examine the role of emotion communication in the development of shame guilt and pride This is the 77th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Child Development For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals section

The Communication of Emotion Through Sound Christine Henderson, 1986

Emotional Communication Paul Geltner, 2013 What role does animal like and infantile communication play in life and in psychoanalysis How are painful childhood experiences recreated with people who are nothing like the original family What are the roles of loving and horrible feelings in psychoanalytic cure In Emotional Communication Paul Geltner places the pre linguistic type of communication that is shared with infants and animals at the core of the psychoanalytic relationship He shows how emotional communication intertwines with language permeating every moment of human interaction and becoming a primary way that people involuntarily recreate painful childhood relationships in current life Emotional Communication integrates observations from a number of psychoanalytic schools in a cohesive but non eclectic model Geltner expands psychoanalytic technique beyond the traditional focus on interpretation and the contemporary focus on authenticity to include the use feelings that precisely address the client's repetitive patterns of misery The author breaks down analytic interventions into their cognitive and emotional components describing how each engages a different part of the client's mind and serves a different function He explains the role of emotional communication in psychoanalytic technique both in classical interpretations and in non interpretive interventions that use the analyst's feelings to amplify the therapeutic power of the psychoanalytic relationship Offering a clear alternative to both Classical and contemporary Relational and Intersubjective approaches to understanding and treating clients in psychoanalysis Paul Geltner presents a theory of communication and maturation that will interest psychoanalysts psychotherapists and those concerned with the subtleties of human relatedness
