Pool,2010-01-01 This book constitutes the second volume of a three volume study of Christian testimonies to divine suffering God s Wounds Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering vol 2 Evil and Divine Suffering The larger study focuses its inquiry into the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely then to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God This second volume of studies proceeds on the basis of the presuppositions of this symbol those implicit attestations that provide the conditions of possibility for divine suffering that which constitutes divine vulnerability with respect to creation as identified and examined in the first volume of this project an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love The second volume then investigates the first two divine wounds or modes of divine suffering to which the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally attest 1 divine grief suffering because of betrayal by the beloved human or human sin and 2 divine self sacrifice suffering for the beloved human in its bondage to sin or misery to establish the possibility of redemption and reconciliation Each divine wound thus constitutes a response to a creaturely occasion The suffering in each divine wound also occurs in two stages a passive stage and an active stage In divine grief God suffers because of human sin betrayal of the divine lover by the beloved human divine sorrow as the passive stage of divine grief and divine anguish as the active stage of divine grief In divine self sacrifice God suffers in response to the misery or bondage of the beloved human s infidelity divine travail focused on the divine incarnation in Jesus of Nazareth as the active stage of divine self sacrifice and divine agony focused on divine suffering in the crucifixion of Jesus of Nazareth as the passive stage of divine self sacrifice

Divine Holiness and Divine Action

Mark C. Murphy, 2021-02-18 Holiness is the attribute most emphatically ascribed to God in Scripture but there has been little attention devoted to characterizing and considering the entailments of divine holiness In Divine Holiness and Divine Action Mark C Murphy defends an account of holiness indebted to Rudolf Otto s description of the experience of the holy as that of a mysterium tremendum et fascinans God s being holy consists in God s being someone with whom intimate union is both extremely desirable for us and yet something for which we and indeed any limited beings are unfit This notion of divine holiness is useful for addressing disputed theological questions regarding divine action In contrast to standard accounts of divine action that begin with assumptions regarding God s moral perfection or God s maximal love the appeal to divine holiness supports a rival framework for explaining and predicting divine action the holiness framework according to which God is motivated to act in ways that are a response to God s own value by keeping distance from that which is deficient defective or in any way limited in goodness This study exhibits the fruitfulness of a reorientation from the morality and love frameworks to the holiness framework by showing how such a reorientation suggests distinct approaches to perennial problems of divine action regarding creation incarnation atonement and salvation From the treatment of these perennial problems a general theme regarding divine action emerges that God s interaction with the world exhibits a radical sort of humility      Changing the Church Mark D. Chapman, Vladimir Latinovic, 2020-11-13 This volume dedicated to the memory of Gerard Mannion 1970 2019 former Joseph and Winifred Amaturio Chair in Catholic Studies at Georgetown University explores the topic of changing the church from a range of different theological perspectives The volume contributors offer answers to questions such as What needs to be changed in the universal church and in the particular denominations How has change influenced the life of the church What are the dangers that change brings with it What awaits the church if it refuses to change Many of the essays focus on people who have changed the church significantly and on events that have catalyzed change for the better or for the worse Some also present visions of change for particular Christian denominations whether over the ordination of the women different approaches to sexuality reform of the magisterium and many other issues related to change      The Humility of Christ Wooten, 2017-06-20 Because God opposes the proud but gives grace to the humble James 4 6 this book affirms the importance and practical spiritual rewards of humility particularly as exemplified in the life of Jesus Christ Philippians 2 5 7 emphasizes that Christ began his earthly ministry by becoming nothing or by emptying himself as some translators phrase it and thus Christ s humility throughout the book is referred to as his nothingness This is contrasted with the secular philosophy of the world which influences us to be something by attaining wealth position and influence This is referred to as our somethingness that is our preoccupation and desire with being something By embracing humility we are able to transform our perspective of the world and our role in it avoiding the painful disappointments from unfulfilled and unreasonable expectations
