The In Between God:

The Living Church, 1955 Light from the East Alexei V. Nesteruk, In this unique volume a new and distinctive perspective on hotly debated issues in science and religion emerges from the unlikely ancient Eastern Orthodox Christian tradition Alexei Nesteruk reveals how the Orthodox tradition deeply rooted in Greek Patristic thought can contribute importantly in a way that the usual Western sources do not Orthodox thought he holds profoundly and helpfully relates the experience of God to our knowledge of the world His masterful historical introduction to the Orthodox traditions not only surveys key features of its theology but highlights its ontology of participation and communion From this Nesteruk derives Orthodoxy s unique approach to theological and scientific attribution Theology identifies the underlying principles logoi in scientific affirmations Nesteruk then applies this methodology to key issues in cosmology the presence of the divine in creation the theological meaning of models of creation the problem of time and the validity of the anthropic principle especially as it relates to the emergence of humans and the Incarnation Nesteruk s unique synthesis is not a valorization of Eastern Orthodox thought so much as an influx of startlingly fresh ideas about the character of science itself and an affirmation of the ultimate religious and theological value of the whole scientific enterprise The Works of the Reverend and Learned Isaac Watts, D.D. Isaac Watts, 1811 Rolling Away the Stone Stephen Gottschalk, 2006 A stimulating new examination of the life and thought of Mary Baker Eddy the founder of Christian Science The Prophets Carol J. The Holy Spirit as Communion I. Leon Harris,2017-09-26 In The Holy Spirit as Communion Leon Harris examines the pneumatologies of Colin Gunton and Frank Macchia For both theologians the doctrine of the Holy Spirit is foundational to understanding their doctrine of God Christology and ecclesiology Drawing on the theme of communion The Holy Spirit as Communion expresses the concept that the Holy Spirit is the person who perfects the divine nature and personhood of the Father and Son It is the Holy Spirit who perfects the eternal communion within the divine Trinity which is the source of the divine action that also perfects the communion in creation as an expression of the Father s will through Jesus Christ The Holy Spirit as Communion explores the essentiality of the Holy Spirit through a unique approach to Spirit Christology Gunton is represented by a radicalized version of Chalcedon Christology and Macchia formulates his account through the overarching metaphor of Spirit baptism Therefore the doctrine of God Christology ecclesiology and eschatology cannot be construed without a proper account of pneumatology that takes into consideration the eschatological perfecting work of the third person of the Trinity who perfects creation s koinonia as a gift from the Father through the grace of Jesus Christ

The Proof of the External World Steven M. Duncan,2008-04-01 Descartes attempt to ground the possibility of human knowledge in the existence of God was judged to be a complete failure by his contemporaries and this remains the universal opinion of philosophers to this day despite the fact that three and a half centuries of secular epistemology which attempts to ground the possibility of knowledge either in the unaided human intellect or in natural processes has failed to do any better Further the leading twentieth century attempts at theistic epistemology reject both the conception of knowledge and the standards of epistemic evaluation that Descartes takes for granted In this book partly an interpretation of Descartes and partly an attempt to complete his project the author attempts to show that a theistic epistemology incorporating Platonic and Aristotelian Thomist elements can revitalize the Cartesian approach to the solution of the central problems of epistemology including that most elusive of prizes the proof of the external world From the author s preface
