The Classicist No 6:

The Classicist, 1996 Pater the Classicist Charles Martindale, Stefano Evangelista, Elizabeth Prettejohn, 2017-03-02

Pater the Classicist is the first book to address in detail Walter Pater's important contribution to the study of classical antiquity. Widely considered our greatest aesthetic critic and now best known as a precursor to modernist writers and post-modernist thinkers of the twentieth century, Pater was also a classicist by profession who taught at the University of Oxford. He wrote extensively about Greek art and philosophy but also authored an influential historical novel set in ancient Rome, Marius the Epicurean, and a variety of short stories depicting the survival of classical culture in later ages. These superficially diverging interests actually went closely hand in hand; it can plausibly be asserted that it is the classical tradition in its broadest sense, including the question of how to understand its workings and temporalities, which forms Pater's principal subject as a writer. Although he initially approached antiquity obliquely through the Italian Renaissance, for example, or the poetry of William Morris, later in his career he wrote more and more directly about the ancient world and particularly about Greece, his first love. The essays in this collection cover all his major works and reveal a many-sided and inspirational figure whose achievements helped to reinvigorate the classical studies that were the basis of the English educational system of the nineteenth century and whose conception of Classics as cross-disciplinary and outward-looking can be a model to scholars and students today. They discuss his classicism generally, his fiction set in classical antiquity, his writings on Greek art and culture, and those on ancient philosophy, and in doing so they also illuminate Pater's position within his Victorian context, among figures such as J. A. Symonds, Henry Nettleship, Vernon Lee, and Jane Harrison, as well as his place in the study and reception of Classics today.

The Classicist Writings of Thomas Walsingham Sylvia Federico, 2016 A comparative reading of the literary works of Thomas Walsingham, highlighting his reaction to contemporary historical events African American Literature and the Classicist Tradition T. Walters, 2007-10-29 This is a groundbreaking study exploring the significant relationship between western classical mythology and African American women's literature. A comparative analysis of classical revisions by eighteenth and nineteenth-century Black women writers, Phillis Wheatley and Pauline Hopkins, and twentieth-century writers Gwendolyn Brooks, Toni Morrison, and Rita Dove reveals that Black women writers revise specific classical myths for artistic and political agency. The study demonstrates that women rework myth to represent mythical stories from the Black female perspective and to counteract denigrating contemporary cultural and social myths that disempower and devalue Black womanhood. Through their adaptations of classical myths about motherhood, Wheatley, Ray, Brooks, Morrison, and Dove uncover the shared experiences of mythic mothers and their contemporary African American counterparts, thus offering a unique Black feminist perspective to classicism. The women also use myth as a liberating space where they can speak the unspeakable and empower their subjects as well as themselves.

BOOK JACKET The Construction of Logical Space Agustín Rayo, 2013-06-27 Our conception of logical space is the set of distinctions we use to navigate the world Agustín Rayo argues that this is shaped by acceptance or rejection of just is statements e.g. to be composed of water just is to be composed of H₂O He offers a novel conception of metaphysical possibility and a new trivialist philosophy of mathematics James among the Classicists Sigurvin Lárus Jónsson, 2021-06-07 This book gives attention to the language and style of the letter of James with a hypothesis about its rhetorical purpose in mind It focuses on what we can learn about the author of James by reading the text in light of a guiding research question How does the author establish and assert authority The letter builds literary authority for a number of purposes one of which is to address socioeconomic disparity a major concern for the author The author of James presents a speech in character in the shape of a letter to establish his ethos Ch 2 employing vocabulary and style to signal his education implicitly Ch 3 4 and includes himself in the categories of sage teacher and exegete explicitly Ch 5 From this standpoint the author can address the rich as equals rebuke them and admonish both rich and poor to receive God's wisdom Ch 6 The comparison with ancient literary criticism shows that the categories at play are the same The insight that language and ethos are inseparable categories in antiquity provides us with renewed ways to interpret the literary production of early Christianity Both James and the Classicists present a competing epic in the context of the early imperium the former with an Israelite piety that is superior to contemporary economic and moral categories and the latter with the supremacy of Greek culture as a foundation for Rome The letter of James emerges as a document that builds educational ethos as a balance against the rich and powerful a strategy that calls for a revision of both its rhetoric and socio economic situation Ricardo - The New View Samuel Hollander, 2012-11-12 Samuel Hollander's interpretation of Ricardo has attracted apoplectic responses from both Right and Left This volume collects together the material needed to evaluate these responses His basic position that Ricardo stands in a continuous analytical line leading from Adam Smith to Alfred Marshall is seen to antagonise both those who argue for a marginal revolution and a sharp divide between classical and neo classical economics and those who want to champion Ricardo as a forerunner of Sraffa

Revolution in the Theatre Barry Daniels, 1983-12-28 Musorgsky Richard Taruskin, 1997-07-27 Incorporating both new and now classic essays this book sets the vocal works of Modest Musorgsky in a fully detailed cultural political and historical context elevating the composer's image over other biographers Among the book's many offerings are the most complete explanation of the revision of the opera Boris Godunov and a revisionary characterization of Khovanshchina as an aristocratic tragedy resulting from a pessimistic view of history Includes 102 music examples The Huainanzi and Textual Production in Early China, 2014-04-03 The Han dynasty Huainanzi is a compendium of knowledge covering every subject from self cultivation astronomy and calendrics to the arts of government This edited volume follows a multi disciplinary approach to explore how and why the Huainanzi was produced and how we should interpret the work The volume should be of interest to scholars of early China as well as scholars of textual production in other periods of Chinese history and in other cultures With contributions by Anne Behnke Kinney Martin Kern John S Major Andrew Meyer Judson B Murray Michael Nylan David W Pankenier Michael Puett Sarah A Queen Harold D Roth and Griet Vankeerberghen
