The Common Wealth In Ocean Fisheries:

The Role and Future of the Commonwealth Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee, 2012-11-15 The Commonwealth is working for the UK however if the organisation is to reach its potential and influence events the Commonwealth Secretariat needs to sharpen strengthen and promote its diplomatic performance Recently the Commonwealth has appeared less active and less publicly visible The Government does not appear to have a clear and co ordinated strategy for its relations with the Commonwealth The moral authority of the Commonwealth has too often been undermined by the repressive actions of member governments The Committee is disturbed to note the ineffectiveness of the mechanisms for upholding the Commonwealth s values and expresses support for the Eminent Persons Group s proposal for a Commonwealth Charter The Committee also says that it is not convinced that member states are making the most of the economic and trading opportunities offered by the Commonwealth The report welcomes the fact that the Commonwealth continues to attract interest from potential new members and the report says that there are advantages in greater diversity and an extended global reach for the Commonwealth however the application process should be rigorous There is also concern at the continuing evidence of serious human rights abuses in Sri Lanka and the Committee urges the Prime Minister to state publicly his unwillingness to attend the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting in Colombo meeting unless he receives convincing and independently verified evidence of substantial and sustainable improvements in human and political rights in Sri Lanka

From Hook to Plate Richard Bourne, N. Mark Collins, 2009 This book draws together the views of 24 contributors from across the Commonwealth on the state of marine capture fisheries They confirm the assessments of both the World Bank and the UN Food and Agriculture Organisation that world fisheries are in very poor biological and economic health They explain why fisheries are unsustainable and wasteful and are unlikely to be able to meet the needs of the future without radical change At greatest risk are the livelihoods of those who depend upon fisheries for their daily food and subsistence Their vulnerability is increased and resilience further reduced by the threat of climate change Marine capture fisheries are not delivering what society needs and the authors collectively assert and establish that the greatest barriers are in the deficiencies of current fisheries governance and management arrangements What is needed is a fresh approach to policy and legal frameworks and the political will to effect real change The authors and editors call on the Commonwealth of Nations with its depth of experience and breadth of co operative ability to take a fresh look at the issue and lead the process of change

Management of Marine Fisheries in Canada L. S. Parsons, National Research Council Canada, Canada. Department of Fisheries and Oceans, 1993 This report describes and evaluates the impact of the major changes in the management of Canada s marine fisheries in recent decades The report covers the historical and jurisdictional context biological and economic aspects objectives of fisheries management techniques of resources management in general and those used for specific species managing the common property through allocation of access limited entry licensing and individual quotas the international dimension the social dimension habitat management fisheries enforcement and fisheries management in the United States Australia New Zealand Norway Iceland and the European Community Marine Fisheries Review, 2009 Global Atlas of Marine Fisheries Daniel Pauly, Dirk Zeller, 2016-10-06 The Global Atlas of Marine Fisheries is the first and only book to provide accurate country by country fishery catch data This groundbreaking information has been gathered from independent sources by the world's foremost fisheries experts Edited by Daniel Pauly and Dirk Zeller of the Sea Around Us Project the Atlas includes one page reports on 273 countries and their territories plus fourteen topical global chapters Each national report describes the current state of the country's fishery the policies politics and social factors affecting it and potential solutions The global chapters address cross cutting issues from the economics of fisheries to the impacts of mariculture Extensive maps and graphics offer attractive and accessible visual representations

Review of the state of world marine fishery resources - 2025 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, Sharma, R. (ed.); Barange, M. (ed.); Agostini, V. (ed.); Barros, P. (ed.); Gutierrez, N.L. (ed.); Vasconcellos, M. (ed.); Fernandez Reguera, D. (ed.); Tiffay, C. (ed.); Levontin, P. (ed.), Marine fisheries are crucial to the food security and nutrition economy and overall well being of coastal communities Maintaining the long term prosperity and sustainability of marine fisheries is therefore not only ecologically significant but has social economic and political importance The aim of this report is to provide FAO Members national and regional policymakers academia civil society fishers and managers of world fishery resources with a comprehensive objective and global review of the state of the living fishery resources of the oceans This document updates the regular reviews of the state of the world's marine fishery resources based on stock assessments and complementary information up to 2023 and official catch statistics through to 2021 The introductory and methodology chapters provide the wider context in which this updated edition of the Review of the state of world marine fishery resources was prepared highlighting evolutions in the landscape of fisheries and stock assessment capacities since the previous edition of this report in 2011 The methodology section gives a detailed overview of the updated FAO process for providing the state of stocks index which involved a highly participatory and transparent process including 19 regional workshops and consultations with around 650 in person experts representing 92 countries and 200 organizations Importantly the total number of stocks in the assessments included in this report has significantly increased to 2 570 Discussions on major trends and changes at the global level are explored in a dedicated global overview chapter while more detailed information on the status of stocks for each of the FAO Major Fishing Areas is set out in dedicated regional chapters Special sections address the global issue of tunas and tuna like species and other high profile fisheries such as deep sea fisheries in areas beyond national jurisdiction and highly migratory sharks Summary tables are provided for each species grouping used in this assessment indicating the number of stocks included their sustainability classification between overfished maximally sustainably fished and underfished categories and the number of stocks classified into tiers based on the availability and
