United States into every theater of the war rendering it genuinely global The essays within this volume bring top level accounts of US European and Axis strategic maneuvering into conversation with social histories of bottom up agency in ways that destabilize conventional narratives Working with novel and overlapping scales of time and space and attuned to ongoing and lively debates about the place of the nation state in global history after 1945 the scholars featured in The Greater Second World War seek to not only describe the war's beginnings in Asia and Africa rather than in Europe but also trace its ends to the shatter zones of the Soviet frontier the struggles for sovereignty in contested spaces and the long reaches of US imperialism well into the late twentieth century Together their contributions reveal how the cascading imperial and economic crises of the mid twentieth century triggered a series of discrete local and regional struggles that took on the character of a singular unified world war after the entry of the United States into every theater and almost every corner of the world
