The Hunter Valley Regional Heritage Series:

Heritage Making and Migrant Subjects in the Deindustrialising Region of the Latrobe Valley Alexandra Dellios, 2022-03-31 This Element argues that community initiated migrant heritage harbours the potential to challenge and expand state sanctioned renderings of multiculturalism in liberal nation states In this search for alternative readings community initiated migrant heritage is positioned as a grassroots challenge to positivist state multiculturalism It can do this if we adopt the migrant perspective a diasporic perspective of settlement that is always unfinished non static and non essentialist As mobile subjects either once or many times over a subject position arrived at through acts of mobility sometimes spawned by violence or structural inequality which can reverberate throughout subsequent generations the migrant subject position compels us to look both forwards and backwards in time and place Regional Cultures, Economies, and Creativity Ariella Luyn, Eduardo Fuente, 2019-11-26 Drawing on Australian and comparative case studies this volume reconceptualises non metropolitan creative economies through the qualities of place This book examines the agricultural and gastronomic cultures surrounding native foods coastal sculpture festivals universities and regional communities wine in regional Australia and Canada the creative systems of the Hunter Valley musicians in outback settings Fab Labs as alternatives to clusters cinema and the cultivation of authentic landscapes and tensions between the representational and non representational in the cultural economies of the Blue Mountains What emerges is a picture of rural and regional places as more than the other of metropolitan creative cities Place itself is shown to embody affordances unique institutional structures and the invisible threads that hold communities together If in the wake of the publication of Florida's Rise of the Creative Class creative industries models tended to emphasize big cities and the spatial cum cultural imaginaries of the Global North recent research and policy discourses especially in the Australian context have paid greater attention to small cities rural and remote creativity This collection will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners in creative industries urban and regional studies sociology geography and cultural planning The ^AOxford Handbook of Public Heritage Theory and Practice Angela M. Labrador, Neil Asher Silberman, 2018-07-11 The Oxford Handbook of Public Heritage Theory and Practice charts some of the major sites of convergence between the humanities and the social sciences where new disciplinary perspectives are being brought to bear on the field of cultural heritage These convergences have the potential to provide the interdisciplinary expertise needed not only to critique but also to achieve the intertwined intellectual political and socioeconomic goals of cultural heritage in the twenty first century Industrial Heritage and Regional Identities Christian Wicke, Stefan Berger, Jana Golombek, 2018-04-09 Heritage is not what we see in front of us it is what we make of it in our heads Heritage sites have been connected to a range of identarian projects both spatial and non spatial One of the most common links with heritage has been national identity This book stresses that heritage has developed powerful links to regional and local identities Contributors deal explicitly with regions of heavy industry in different parts of the world exploring non spatial forms of identity including class religious ethnic racial gender and cultural identities In many heritage sites non spatial forms of identity are interlinked with spatial ones Civil society action has been important in representations of regional identities and industrial heritage campaigns Region branding seems to determine the ultimate success of industrial heritage a process that is closely connected to the marketing of regions to provide a viable economic future and attract tourism to the region Selected case studies on coal and steel producing regions in this book provide the first global survey of how regions of heavy industry deal with their industrial heritage and what it means for regional identity and region branding This book draws a range of powerful conclusions about the path dependency of particular forms for post industrial regional identity in former regions of heavy industry It highlights both commonalities and differences in the strategies employed with regard to the regions industrial heritage This book will appeal to lecturers students and scholars in the fields of heritage management industrial studies and cultural geography

Australian 51 Popular Tourist Destinations MD Shar,101-01-01 The book also addresses the broader significance of these places beyond their natural beauty Australia s cities and landscapes are not only remarkable for their stunning scenery they also serve as living records of Indigenous heritage colonial history and modern innovation Each place in this book holds layers of meaning and history In exploring them we acknowledge the profound connections that the traditional custodians particularly the Indigenous Australian communities have with their land Through insights into cultural traditions we hope to deepen readers understanding and respect for the significance of these places to Australia s First Nations people One of the most compelling aspects of Journeys Through Australia s Gems is its emphasis on the environmental and social challenges facing these destinations In each chapter we touch on the delicate balance between tourism and conservation highlighting efforts to maintain Australia s rich biodiversity and cultural heritage In a world where sustainable travel is increasingly important this book encourages readers to appreciate the natural wonders of Australia responsibly making informed choices that support preservation efforts By understanding the impact of tourism on these sites we hope readers will be inspired to travel with care and contribute positively to the communities they visit
