Frank O. Büttner

The Illuminated Psalter:

The Illuminated Psalter Frank O. Büttner, 2004 The 150 Psalms of the Old Testament were the most important work of devotional literature in the Middle Ages The Book of Psalms came to be transmitted not only as part of the Bible but also in the form of the psalter as a text in its own right The psalter came to be illustrated often profusely as an aid to devotion at an early stage in its history and it was a book which was frequently found in the possession of lay people This volume brings together 28 contributions dealing with the 800 years between the mid eighth and mid sixteenth centuries a period in which the psalter was increasingly owned and used by the laity in the form of richly illuminated manuscripts As early as the Carolingian period the illumination of psalters went beyond a mere textual illustration and developed a narrative iconography with biblical or hagiographical content and it was largely this autonomous iconography which connected the Old Testament texts with the tenets of the Christian faith Also the frequent scenes or cycles of King David do not present illustrations of the psalms but rather of events told elsewhere in the Old Testament Renderings of individual Christian believers can also be found from the Carolingian period onwards and represent some of the most original achievements of fifteenth and early sixteenth century psalter illumination This book includes an index of psalter references a topographical list 460 illustrations and a register of some 800 manuscripts The Illuminated Psalter, The Illuminated Manuscript Janet

Backhouse, 1979 The British Library houses one of the world's great collections of illuminated manuscripts and Janet Backhouse has drawn on this resource to make a selection of examples that span over 800 years of medieval book production

"Gender, Piety, and Production in Fourteenth-Century English Apocalypse Manuscripts " Renana

Bartal, 2017-07-05 Gender Piety and Production in Fourteenth Century English Apocalypse Manuscripts is the first in depth study of three textually and iconographically diverse Apocalypses illustrated in England in the first half of the fourteenth century by a single group of artists It offers a close look at a group of illuminators previously on the fringe of art historical scholarship challenging the commonly held perception of them as mere craftsmen at a time when both audiences and methods of production were becoming increasingly varied Analyzing the manuscripts codicological features visual and textual programmes and social contexts it explores the mechanisms of a fourteenth century commercial workshop and traces the customization of these books of the same genre to the needs and expectations of varied readers revealing the crucial influence of their female audience The book will be of interest to scholars and students of English medieval art medieval manuscripts and the medieval Apocalypse as well as medievalists interested in late medieval spirituality and theology medieval religious and intellectual culture book patronage and ownership and female patronage and ownership Cross and Culture in Anglo-Norman England John Munns, 2016 An examination of the passion and crucifixion of Christ as depicted in the visual and religious culture of Anglo Norman England The twelfth century has long been recognised as a period of unusual vibrancy and importance witnessing seminal changes in the inter related spheres of theology devotional practice and iconography especially with regard to the cross and the crucifixion of Christ However the visual arts of the period have been somewhat neglected scholarly activity tending to concentrate on its textual and intellectual heritage This book explores this extraordinarily rich and vibrant visual and religious culture offering new and exciting insights into its significance and studying the dynamic relationships between ideas and images in England between 1066 and the first decades of the thirteenth century In addition to providing the first extensive survey of surviving Passion imagery from the period it explores those images contexts intellectual cultural religious and art historical It thus not only enhances our understanding of the place of the cross in Anglo Norman culture it also demonstrates how new image theories and patterns of agency shaped the life of the later medieval church John Munns is a Fellow of Magdalene College Cambridge The New Cambridge History of the Bible: Volume 2, From 600 to 1450 Richard Marsden, E. Ann Matter, 2012-04-26 This volume examines the development and use of the Bible from late Antiquity to the Reformation tracing both its geographical and its intellectual journeys from its homelands throughout the Middle East and Mediterranean and into northern Europe Richard Marsden and E Ann Matter's volume provides a balanced treatment of eastern and western biblical traditions highlighting processes of transmission and modes of exegesis among Roman and Orthodox Christians Jews and Muslims and illuminating the role of the Bible in medieval inter religious dialogue Translations into Ethiopic Slavic Armenian and Georgian vernaculars as well as Romance and Germanic are treated in detail along with the theme of allegorized spirituality and established forms of glossing The chapters take the study of Bible history beyond the cloisters of medieval monasteries and ecclesiastical schools to consider the influence of biblical texts on vernacular poetry prose drama law and the visual arts of East and West Negotiating Secular and Sacred in Medieval Art Amanda Luyster, 2017-07-05 Offering original analysis of the convergence between sacred and secular in medieval works of art and architecture this collection explores both the usefulness and limitations of these terms for describing medieval attitudes The modern concepts of sacred and secular are shown to be effective as scholarly tools but also to risk imposing false dichotomies The authors consider medieval material culture from a broad perspective addressing works of art and architecture from England to Japan and from the seventh to the fifteenth century Although the essays take a variety of methodological approaches they are unified in their emphasis on the continuing and necessary dialectic between sacred and secular The contributors consciously frame their interpretations in terms and perspectives derived from the Middle Ages thereby demonstrating how the present art historical terminology and conceptual frameworks can obscure the complexity of medieval life and material culture The resonance among essays opens possibilities for productive cross cultural study of an issue that is relevant to a diversity of cultures and sub periods Introducing an innovative approach to the literature of the field this volume complicates and enriches our understanding of social realities across a broad spectrum of medieval worlds The Culture of Medieval English Monasticism James G. Clark, 2007 Examinations of the culture artistic material musical of English monasteries in the six centuries between the Conquest and the Dissolution The cultural remains of England's abbeys and priories have always attracted scholarly attention but too often they have been studied in isolation appreciated only for their artistic codicological or intellectual features and not for the insights they offer into the patterns of life and thought the underlying norms values and mentalities of the communities of men and women which made them Indeed the distinguished monastic historian David Knowles doubted there would ever be sufficient evidence to recover the mentality of the ordinary cloister monk These twelve essays challenge this view They exploit newly catalogued and newly discovered evidence manuscript books wall paintings and even the traces of original monastic music to recover the cultural dynamics of a cross section of male and female communities It is often claimed that over time the cultural traditions of the monasteries were suffocated by secular trends but here it is suggested that many houses remained a major cultural force even on the verge of the Reformation James G Clark is Professor of History at the University of Exeter Contributors DAVID BELL ROGER BOWERS JAMES CLARK BARRIE COLLETT MARY ERLER G R EVANS MIRIAM GILL JOAN GREATREX JULIAN HASELDINE J D NORTH ALAN PIPER AND R M THOMSON

Reimagining Jerusalem's Architectural Identities in the Later Middle Ages Cathleen A. Fleck, 2022-10-10 How can medieval art explain Jerusalem's centrality in the world faiths of Christianity and Islam This book delves into that topic by examining how Jerusalem was creatively represented and reimagined in several intriguing Christian and Islamic artworks in the later Middle Ages c 1187 to 1356 The book considers how European Catholic crusaders Eastern Christian sects and diverse Muslim factions displayed Jerusalem's architecture to express their interpretation of the holy city's sanctity and influence These examples demonstrate how artworks can reflect Jerusalem's importance to these faiths in the past and illuminate our understanding of its status into the modern era Psalms Through the Centuries, Volume 1 Susan Gillingham, 2012-03-28 This is the first of a two volume bible commentary covering the Psalms and examining the role of these biblical poems throughout Jewish and Christian history Provides a fascinating introduction to the literary historical and theological background of psalmody Examines the psalms through liturgy and prayer study and preaching translation and imitation and musical composition and artistic illustration Includes illustrations of significant psalms helpful maps and an extensive bibliography an expanded bibliography to accompany the book is also available at www.wiley.com/go/gillingham A forthcoming second volume is planned which will take an alternative psalm by psalm approach Now available in paperback and published in the innovative reception history series Blackwell Bible Commentaries Ambrosiana at Harvard Thomas Forrest Kelly, Matthew Mugmon, 2010 Houghton Library Studies Series Editor William P Stoneman The Meanings of Nudity in Medieval Art Sherry C. M. Lindquist, 2012 Addressing a strangely neglected key issue in the history of art this volume engages the variety and complexity of medieval representations of the unclothed human body The Meanings of Nudity in Medieval Art breaks ground by offering a variety of approaches to explore the meanings of both male and female nudity in European painting manuscripts and sculpture ranging from the late antique era to the fifteenth century

Singing the New Song Katherine Zieman, 2013-02-12 In Singing the New Song Katherine Zieman examines the institutions and practices of the liturgy as central to changes in late medieval English understandings of the written word Where previous studies have described how writing comes to supplant oral forms of communication or how it objectifies relations of power formerly transacted through ritual and ceremony Zieman shifts the critical gaze to the ritual performance of written texts in the liturgy effectively changing the focus from writing to reading Beginning with a history of the elementary educational institution known to modern scholars as the song school Zieman shows the continued centrality of liturgical and devotional texts to the earliest stages of literacy training and spiritual formation Originally these schools were created to provide liturgical training for literate adult performers who had already mastered the grammatical arts From the late thirteenth century on however the attention and resources of both lay and clerical patrons came to be devoted specifically to young boys centering on their function as choristers Because choristers needed to be trained before they received instruction in grammar the liturgical skills of reading and singing took on a different meaning This shift in priorities Zieman argues is paradigmatic of broader cultural changes in which increased interest in liturgical performance and varying definitions attached to reading and singing caused these practices to take on a life of their own unyoked from their original institutional settings of monastery and cathedral Unmoored from the context of the choral community reading and singing developed into discrete portable skills that could be put to use in a number of contexts sacred and secular Latin and vernacular Ultimately they would be carried into a wider public sphere where they would be transformed into public modes of discourse appropriated by vernacular writers such as Geoffrey Chaucer and William Langland The St. Albans Psalter Kristine Edmondson Haney, 2002 The St Albans Psalter c 1125 1135 is generally regarded as the earliest surviving masterpiece of Anglo Norman painting Its extensive picture cycle includes over 200 historiated initials accompanying the psalms and prayers This book focuses on these initials examining their relationship to the text the sources upon which they draw the design process the messages encoded into them and the ways they would have been read by a contemporary audience Addressing these issues sheds new light on the development of Anglo Norman art the role of major Benedictine foundations in this process and the ways these houses reached out not only to those within their communities but also to the laity in a time of relative insecurity
