The Industrial Archaeology Of North West England And Where To Find It:

The Industrial Archaeology of North-west England Owen Ashmore, 1982      Twentieth Century Industrial Archaeology Michael Stratton, Barrie Trinder, 2014-04-04 This book examines the industrial monuments of twentieth century Britain Each chapter takes a specific theme and examines it in the context of the buildings and structure of the twentieth century The authors are both leading experts in the field having written widely on various aspects of the subject In this new and comprehensive survey they respond to the growing interest in twentieth century architecture and industrial archaeology The book is well illustrated with superb and unique illustrations drawn from the archives of the Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England It will mark and celebrate the end of the century with a tribute to its remarkable built industrial heritage      The Industrial Archaeology of Northern Ireland William Alan McCutcheon, 1984 A major study of the growth and decline of transport and industry in Ulster this extremely detailed and comprehensive book throws new light on the infrastructure of corn grinding spade forging paper making and other industries and examines the mechanics of early road bridge and canal construction more than 850 photographs and charts are contained in this volume      The Built Environment Transformed Geoffrey Timmins, 2021-12-02 This book is concerned with the remarkable changes made to the built environment in Lancashire s main textile district essentially the eastern and central parts of the county during the Industrial Revolution c1780 c1850 A case study approach is taken with findings from investigations at six different types of site being presented The sites included are water powered mill remains in the Cheesden Valley near Rochdale Barrow Bridge factory village near Bolton the former handloom weavers colony at Club Houses Horwich Preston s Winckley Square Eanam Wharf at Blackburn and to the north of Bolton the road between Bromley Cross and Edgworth The case studies show how in rural and urban areas alike developments in industry housing and transport greatly extended the built environment and brought striking new features to it Emphasis is placed on interpreting the physical evidence the sites provide linking it with that taken from various types of documentary source especially historical maps By making comparisons with developments occurring at similar types of site elsewhere in Britain as well as in Europe and North America the forms the changes took are explained and their significance assessed Additionally insights are provided into the economic and social impact the changes brought especially on the everyday lives that people led      The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Archaeology Eleanor Casella, Michael Nevell, Hanna Steyne, 2022 Through international and multi period chapters this volume explores the origins and development of industrialization from its emergence in 18th century Europe to its contemporary ubiquity It interrogates the widespread exploitation of natural resources that forged industrialization and its environmental and social legacy in our globalized world      Interpreting the Early Modern World Mary C. Beaudry, James Symonds, 2010-10-20 Interpretive archaeology meaning the interpretation social science as opposed to hard science of archaeology and archaeological artifacts has predominantly been the realm of prehistoric archaeologists Many historical archaeologists are participating in this disciplinary shift from processualism to post processualism and interpretation but to date few have called their work interpretive archaeology This volume is based on a session at the Society for Historical Archaeology meeting in 2005 The organizers now editors brought together historical archaeologists from both the UK and the US working in the same areas industrial landscape monuments etc but because of their country based training their work arises out of differing intellectual traditions The chapters in each section do not stand in isolation rather the authors exchange ideas about what each other has written They construct dialogues about theories and practices that inform interpretive archaeology on either side of the Atlantic ends with commentary by two well known names in interpretive archaeology in the UK and in the States

Industrial Archaeology Eleanor Casella, James Symonds, 2007-01-04 Eleanor Conlin Casella and James Symonds th The essays in this book are adapted from papers presented at the 24 Annual Conference of the Theoretical Archaeology Group held at the University of Manchester in December 2002 The conference session An Industrial Revolution Future Directions for Industrial Archaeology was jointly devised by the editors and sponsored by English Heritage with the intention of gathering together leading industrial and historical archaeologists from around the world Speakers were asked to consider aspects of contemporary theory and practice as well as possible future directions for the study of industrialisation and industrial societies It perhaps being that this meeting was convened in Manchester which has a rich industrial heritage and has recently been proclaimed as the archetype city of the industrial revolution McNeil and George 2002 However just as Manchester is being transformed by regeneration shaking off many of the negative connotations associated with factory based industrial production and remaking itself as a 21 century city then so too is the archaeological study of industrialisation being transformed In the most recent overview of industrial archaeology in the UK Sir Neil Cossons cautioned that industrial archaeology risked becoming a one generation subject that stood on the edge of oblivion alongside the mid 20 century pursuit of folklife studies Cossons 2000 13 It is to be hoped that the papers in this volume demonstrate that this will not be the case Handbook for British and Irish Archaeology, 1997 A one stop truly comprehensive dedicated and reliable sourcebook for archaeology Cities in the World: 1500-2000: v. 3 Adrian Green, 2018-12-13 Papers presented at the Cities in the World conference held at Southampton University and organised through the Society for Post Medieval Archaeology challenged the commonly held perception that cities are about the present and the future not about the past All cities have an innate sense of the past and this volume encompassing as it does Tracing Your Manchester & Salford Ancestors Sue Wilkes, 2017-04-30 For readers with family ties to Manchester and Salford and researchers delving into the rich history of these cities this informative accessible guide will be essential reading and a fascinating source of reference Sue Wilkes outlines the social and family history of the region in a series of concise chapters She discusses the origins of its religious and civic institutions transport systems and major industries Important local firms and families are used to illustrate aspects of local heritage and each section directs the reader towards appropriate resources for their research No previous knowledge of genealogy is assumed and in depth reading on particular topics is recommended The focus is on records relating to Manchester and Salford including current districts and townships and sources for religious and ethnic minorities are covered A directory of the relevant archives libraries academic repositories databases societies websites and places to visit is a key feature of this practical book      Children in Culture, Revisited K. Lesnik-Oberstein, 2011-06-13 Children in Culture Revisited follows on from the first volume Children in Culture and is composed of a range of chapters newly written for this collection which offer further fully inter and multidisciplinary considerations of childhood as a culturally and historically constructed identity rather than a constant psycho biological entity      Lancashire and Cheshire from AD1540 C. B. Phillips, J. H. Smith, 2014-06-23 This series fully illustrated with maps and half tones is written for general readers as well as the student In illuminating the anonymous lives of our predecessors it will when complete substantially enrich our understanding of the many histories which together make up the history of England This authoritative volume surveys the modern history of the counties of Lancashire Merseyside Greater Manchester and Cheshire In 1540 this was a backward area poor underpopulated and conservative During the seventeenth and early eighteenth century the spread of the first cottage industries to the mills and the mines transformed the region into one of the engines of Britain s nineteenth century greatness The causes the costs and the consequences of that transformation are vividly portrayed in this very readable text Offers a succinct account and analysis of the first region to experience the developed factory system Discusses the rise dominance and decline of the region which has parallels across the country and the world Provides essential background text for the students of local history Assumes no previous knowledge of the region      Hillforts of the Cheshire Ridge Dan Garner, 2017-01-09 The Habitats and Hillforts of Cheshire s Sandstone Ridge Landscape Partnership Project was focussed on six of Cheshire hillforts and their surrounding habitats and landscapes It aimed to develop understanding of the chronology and role of the hillforts and encourage local interest and involvement in their maintenance      Public History in Global Perspective Georgina Laragy, Richard Legay, Ciaran O'Neill, Hannah K. Smyth, 2025-07-21 Where should public history sit within the matrix of global international trans national and more local histories Since its emergence in the 1970s Public History has typically been read as community oriented and more local in its applications The academic field in particular has developed along national lines and indeed we see in the many monographs edited books and journals that have emerged a distinct tendency to consider public history as understandable mostly in its relation to the nation state and its attendant mythologies The meta narratives that public history pushes against are the building blocks of national histories political military and heroic histories Conceiving of a global public history seems to have more radical potential than an international public history which arguably simply collects these national histories What would a global public history look like and how can it disrupt the field if interpreted radically This book will centre the work of scholars and professionals in the field of Public History It will offer novel reflections on postgraduate Public History learning work experience and application from recent graduates and partnered institutions A mix of theory and practice traditional and creative methodologies it demonstrates the value of integrating work experience practitioner workshops and close collaboration in Public History training

Britain's Lost Railways John Minnis, 2018-08-07 The beautifully restored St Pancras Station is a magisterial example of Britain's finest Victorian architecture Like the viaducts at Belah and Crumlin cathedral like stations such as Nottingham Victoria and spectacular railway hotels like Glasgow St Enoch's it stands proud as testament to Britain's architectural heritage In this stunning book John Minnis reveals Britain's finest railway architecture From the most cavernous engine sheds like Old Oak Common through the eccentric country halts on the Tollesbury line and the gantries of the Liverpool Overhead Railway to the soaring viaducts of Belah and Cumlin Britain's Lost Railways offers a sweeping celebration of our railway heritage The selection of images and the removable facsimile memorabilia including tickets posters timetables and maps allows the reader to step into that past serving as a testimony to an age of ingenuity and ambition when the pride we invested in our railways was reflected in the grandeur of the architecture we built for them

Financing Cotton Steven Toms, 2020 This book links the world of finance directly to the fate of the cotton and textile industry long a metaphor for the rise and fall of Britain as a manufacturing economy for the first time The cotton and textile industry at the centre of the industrial revolution has long been a metaphor for the rise and fall of Britain as a manufacturing economy This book links the world of finance directly to the fate of the cotton and textile industry for the first time Using a unique underlying data set drawn from financial business records of over 100 cotton and textile manufacturing firms based in Lancashire and ranging from the late eighteenth to the twenty first century Financing Cotton analyses the dynamics of industrial capitalism by uncovering the interaction between financial systems and technological development and innovation It offers new perspectives on business practices and their evolution as well as decisions taken by entrepreneurs managers and employees The book broadly investigates five questions how and why were individual firms profitable and what happened to these profits how did the firms financial structure and performance influence their attitudes to employment regulation what were the effects of financial networks and institutions on the characteristics of the first and second phase of industrialisation how did the financial system enable or stifle entrepreneurship and investment in new technology and finally why did consolidation and industrial restructuring offer survival options for some firms but not for others

Lancashire Clare Hartwell, Matthew Hyde, Nikolaus Pevsner, Sir Nikolaus Pevsner, 2004-01-01 A comprehensive guide to the buildings of south east Lancashire

The Cumulative Book Index, 1983 A world list of books in the English language

An Economic History of Ulster, 1820-1939 Liam Kennedy, Philip Ollerenshaw, 1985

Made in Lancashire Geoffrey Timmins, 1998-12-15 Presents a new perspective on the Industrial Revolution providing far more than just an account of industrial change Looks at the development of the economic structures and includes chapters on financing the revolution technological change markets and demand transport and food The final section looks at economic change and its impact and includes chapters on demography the household families authority and regulation and the built environment Providing a complete summary of the various debates in the literature on this period making a strong case for re introducing a regional approach to the history of the age
