Institutions of Education: Then and Today Paul Cobben, 2010-04-06 The theme of Institutions of Education then and today not only corresponds with the basic questions raised in German Idealism but is also central to the question of whether it is legitimate to study German Idealism in our era Elaborating on this project immediately raises the problem of institutional differentiation which characterizes multicultural society Does the variety of educational institutions not by definition exclude the shared conception and realization of adulthood that is presupposed by German Idealism This book shows that German Idealism can still participate in the contemporary debate on education it is not only helpful in raising relevant questions but can also be transformed into positions which can deal with the pluriformity that characterizes contemporary society

Women in German Yearbook, 1999 Anthropology and the German Enlightenment Katherine M. Faull, 1995 What was the role of anthropology in the German Enlightenment Why did this discipline emerge as one of the most popular modes of inquiry in the eighteenth century permeating fields as disparate as aesthetics medicine and law As the essays in this volume show the body of Enlightenment knowledge was by no means universal During the German Enlightenment the study of nature humanity and everything that humanity created was the topic of the day But the period that defined moral reason as the sovereign human faculty also applied its scrutiny to the body that such a mind inhabited What did it look like Could moral superiority be deduced from physiognomy In the massive effort to educate the German populace on what were seen to be the fundamental a priori differences physical and moral between the sexes and the races the European bourgeois man was considered to embody all human virtues and talents and stem from the only race and sex capable of ruling itself democratically and rationally To examine the role of anthropology in this enterprise contributors to this volume were asked to investigate what constitutes the German Enlightenment's interaction between its self-proclaimed rationalism and the pervasive presence of the non-rational that is the corporeal
